More than just football

Football has never been black and white and this season it's going to be more colourful than ever before.

LAST weekend saw several Peter Jackson VFL Clubs and TAC Cup teams wearing orange laces in their football boots to recognise the Step Back Think campaign.

It raised public awareness and, hopefully, by extension, education in the dangers of street violence and the very real need to eliminate it.

Step Back Think is just one of a myriad of extremely important awareness campaigns and charities that are supported and highlighted throughout the Victorian football network during each season.

Next month, Breast Cancer Network Australia's annual Pink Footy & Netball Day is back – and this year it's going national.

On Mother's Day weekend (May 12 & 13) local football and netball clubs across Australia will be turning HOT PINK to show their support for, and pay tribute to, women and families from their local communities who have been affected by breast cancer.

AFL Victoria is proud to be involved in such an inspirational campaign. The role women play in our great game has never been more pronounced and Pink Footy & Netball Day is just one way we can recognise the woman in our life as well as supporting such a marvellous initiative.

The Victoria Country Football League has been a staunch supporter of Breast Cancer Network Australia's 'pink' footy day and has been an integral part of the campaign since instigating the concept in 2009.

Just recently, a representative match between the VAFA and Eastern Football League generated money for the Motor Neurone Disease and One In Five, which helps people with mental illness.

And, that's one of the great characteristics of football fans – their willingness and preparedness to rally behind charities and health and welfare awareness issues.

Football's reach is really quite extraordinary when you think of how it supports and promotes so many worthwhile causes and events throughout the season.

And, the willingness of the football network to provide support is certainly not confined to the AFL competition. Community football leagues and clubs are very much at the heart of these initiatives these days.

Like the VCFL mentioned previously, the Northern Football League is another classic example of the community leadership that is evident throughout the game in Victoria.

Its junior league partner is Zaidee's Rainbow Foundation, which stimulates awareness in organ and tissue donations, while its senior league supports White Ribbon, which works to eradicate male violence against women.

And, there is also a men's health awareness round during the Northern Football League season.

All community football Leagues have individual charities and campaigns they endorse and support. Collectively, they should be congratulated for setting agendas, showing leadership and supporting such wonderful initiatives that help make the lives of so many worthwhile.

It's an ongoing message and I would urge all football fans to join their respective football leagues and/or clubs and embrace the upcoming colourful days.

They will all be uplifting, thought-provoking and rewarding opportunities to contribute and help make a difference.

Port set modern day record

With their 24th consecutive win in round three against Bendigo, Port Melbourne overtook the Northern Blues for the most consecutive wins by a current Peter Jackson VFL club.

While it is noted that North Melbourne holds the record in VFA/VFL history for the longest winning streak of 58 matches, Port's modern day streak deserves to be recognised.

In today's AFL Victoria Record, we look back at their 24 game winning streak (now at 25), and some of the people that have been a part of the history making winning run.

ALL YOU NEED TO KNOW ABOUT THE HISTORIC PORT MELBOURNE STREAK

24 CONSECUTIVE games won by Port Melbourne, eclipsing the modern day record set by Preston, which won 23 games between 1984-85.

15 PREVIOUS biggest winning streak during club's 126-year history – during the 1976-77 seasons.

39 INDIVIDUAL players who have played at least one game for Port Melbourne during the duration of the streak

3 PLAYERS that played every match – Chris Cain,

Michael Dillon and Sam Pleming – during the streak.

56 WINNING margin in points over Williamstown in last year's Grand Final triumph at Etihad Stadium

16 PREMIERSHIPS now won by Port Melbourne, the most by any VFA/VFL club

10 LISTON Trophy winners to have played with the club. Shane Valenti took the club's tally of Liston winners into double digit when he won the VFL's highest individual award for the second consecutive year last year. Valenti joins Vic 'Stretch' Aanensen (1979-81) and Billy Swan (1983-83) as the club's dual Liston Trophy winners.

206 GAMES played by Ryan McMahon, whose final game for the club in a 12-season career came in the 2011 VFL Grand Final.

29 YEARS between premierships. Port Melbourne played in five losing Grand Finals (1987, 1993, 2002, 2004, 2008) between its 1982 premiership and last year's triumph.

45 POINTS – average winning margin throughout the 24 game winning streak.

122 HIGHEST winning margin in points during the streak – against Frankston at the North Port Oval in Round 6, 2011.

5 SMALLEST winning margin and only in single digits during the streak. It was against Williamstown at Chirnside Park (the home base for Williamstown during 2011) in Round 21, 2011.

8 PORT Melbourne representatives (most by any club since the competition was revamped in 2000) in the 2011 VFL Team of the Year. Chris Cain, Jarrod Dalton, Sam Dwyer, Dean Galea, Sam Pleming, Patrick Rose, Hugh Sandilands, Shane Valenti were honoured for their outstanding seasons.

17 HUNDRED point scorelines during the streak. Opposition clubs managed just three 100-point plus scorelines.

79 GOALS kicked by Patrick Rose during the 2011 season, which topped the VFL goal kicking. Rose was the first Port Melbourne player to win the competition goal kicking since Danny Sexton in 1995. It was the 21st time a Port Melbourne player has topped the VFA/VFL goal kicking

66 QUARTERS won from a possible 96 spanning the streak. Port lost 29 quarters and drew the other

THE COACH - GARY AYRES

GARY Ayres described as a “miracle” the achievement of Port Melbourne throughout last season and the start to season 2012..

Ayres noted Port Melbourne's accomplishments needed to be put against a backdrop of what aligned club have available - greater revenue, more finances, better infrastructure and facilities.

With all the odds seemingly stacked against a stand-alone VFL club, Ayres described the perfect 2011 season, culminating in the club's first premiership in 29 years, and then continuing on the winning streak to a modern day mark as “very, very satisfying, rewarding and surreal”.

The Port Melbourne coach said the club had been blessed to have such strong character among its core group, especially captain John Baird.

“It's the players that should be acknowledged and recognised given what they have done in a competition that we know is so even,” he said.

“To keep mentally challenging themselves, getting themselves up week after week is quite remarkable. The external expectations are that you are going to drop one (match), but the players have stood tall every week.

“I'm in awe of them. I have a lot of admiration for them. It is a really humbling experience to be in charge of them.”

Ayres noted the resilience of the group to refocus after such an extraordinary 2011 season, especially when the club lost eight of its premiership team for a variety of reasons.

He said it spoke volumes about the players that they were able to focus on season 2012 from the get-go than be caught up in post premiership celebrations.

“They have a unique trait that they have developed over five years and that is they are never beaten and do everything they possibly can to achieve a winning result. It's just enormous, really,” Ayres said.

“The players take charge, they find an extra gear and extra dimension in their mental capacity to keep going forward and what that does is it is such a strength and powerful thing that the younger and less experienced players get caught up in that groundswell.

“These guys have a lot of pride. They have been able to create a professional environment – let's face it that facilities at Port are old – and they don't complain, they don't whinge.”

One of the by-products of success is that each and every week opposition clubs set themselves to topple Port Melbourne. For Ayres, one of the great characteristics of the club is that they have been able to stand firm.

Ayres noted it had become a physical and mental challenge. “They just get in and do the job,” he said.

“They just try to extract as much as they possibly can out of themselves. The competition doesn't know how good you can or can't be so while you are living it, why waste the opportunity?”

Port Melbourne has, as they say, seized the moment.

The Player: Michael Dillon

FEW players know the Port Melbourne theme song better than Michael Dillon.

Certainly, apart from teammates Chris Cain and Sam Fleming, no one has been able to sing the song with such regularity as Dillon.

Dillon, Cain and Fleming have played every game in Port Melbourne's record-breaking consecutive winning streak.

Asked if he had been living every footballer's dream, Dillon replied: "It's not far off it, this is what everyone plays footy for – that success week to week and when you don't have to deal with any losses it is always a good ride."

For Dillon football's magical carpet ride began before he joined the Borough. He played in four premierships in five years with Gisborne

After one season with Bendigo, Dillon chose to continue his VFL career with the Borough. It's a move that has brought with it plenty of glad tidings.

He noted the stand-alone status of Port Melbourne, with no weekly player movement from an outside club, appealed to him.

"I tell the boys that it is me that has made the difference," laughs Dillon.

"To be truthful, I just think I've been lucky along the way. The good thing about Port Melbourne is that everyone is there for the same reason.

"Ayresy' talks about teams win games of football not individuals. It's all about looking after each other and that's what we do at Port."

Dillon has a straight forward explanation for Port Melbourne's success – belief. "Each week we believe that we can win," he said.

"When the match gets tough we have this understanding amongst ourselves that we will get over the line and we will do what we need to do to win.

"I guess we just don't like losing and we get to a point in the game where you need to go one way or the other. We always seem to come up the right side of it.

"To go through the season undefeated, well you can't complain about that"

Port Melbourne is the most storied club in the competition. Reminders of the Borough's greatness is readily evident throughout the club.

It certainly resonated with Dillon when he returned to the club rooms after last year's Grand Final triumph.

"To see how much the premiership meant to all the supporters was fantastic to see," Dillon said.

"These people had been supporting the club for the past 29 years without having a flag. It meant a fair bit to everyone."

When it came to assessing the next chapter in his football club, Dillon was left with an overwhelming feeling.

"Why would I want to go anywhere else," he said.

"We had a great year and all my mates are there. Gary Ayres is a great coach, why would I leave."

Especially when you know every word of the club theme song by heart!

The President – Peter Saultry

PETER Saultry is your quintessential Port Melbourne person from a time when the bayside suburb was a lot less hospitable than it is these days.

He speaks his mind, doesn't mind stepping on toes and has an unswerving passion for the club.

More than once he's been at logger heads with officialdom in what Saultry viewed as simply "protecting" his club.

For many he was the last of the Mochians, a man who saw everything through royal blue and red coloured eyes.

Saultry has been a pillar of the club from its halcyon days when he was the fitness coordinator when the club won a bunch of flags in the mid 70s through to the early 80s,

Along with friend Casey Scorpions' former president John Sharkie, Saultry had been the competition's longest serving president. Unlike Sharkie, who presided over three premierships in the late 1990s, Saultry had seen the Borough finish runner-up three times.

Finally, that landscape changed in what subsequently was Saultry's last year as president. Port Melbourne shook the proverbial monkey off its back to emerge with a historic premiership.

"It meant a lot not only to me, but to people I've grown up with," Saultry said.

"I was born in Port Melbourne in 1939 and growing up in the area I knew all the people. I knew 'Stretch' Aanensen's (Port Melbourne premiership ruckman in the 1980s) mum and dad before they got married.

"This wasn't about a flag for Peter Saultry it was about all the loyal supporters. The ladies committee that run the kiosk, they were the people that I was really pleased for.

"It showed out on the day when there were tears in those people's eyes. People were crying with joy.

"I've got to admit it. I made a phone call to my family in Queensland and I broke down on the phone. I remember saying 'we've done it, we've done it.'"

As Saultry succinctly noted – premierships are not easy to win, let alone go through a season undefeated and let alone the majority of the competition compromises clubs who have double digits AFL Listed/Rookie players in their team.

Saultry repeatedly heard football observers say that Port Melbourne faces a mission impossible task as a stand-alone VFL club.

"At some stages I had doubts, I have to be truthful. I thought 'can we do it'," Saultry admitted.

"I think the players had a resolve about themselves at the start of the year. Once they had that determination they never gave in.

"I remember speaking to Toby Pinwill early in the season after one match where we came from behind to win and he said 'we always believed we could win'"

It took Saultry back to a time before Pinwill was born when Port played in five Grand Finals and won them all.

Peter Saultry has vacated the premiership chair at the Borough, but he doesn't have to travel so far back in time to recall Port Melbourne's premiership success any more.

Tigers collect Foxtel Cup records

WERRIBEE celebrated its first ever Foxtel Cup experience with a bunch of records at the expense of the Burnie Dockers.

WERRIBEE celebrated its first ever Foxtel Cup experience with a bunch of records at the expense of the Burnie Dockers.

The VFL Tigers kicked the highest Foxtel Cup score with its 26.9 (165) scoreline and its 133-point winning margin is also a new high for the competition.

It quickly became apparent that the gulf between the Peter Jackson VFL and Tasmanian State League would prove insurmountable for Burnie as Werribee kicked nine unanswered goals in the opening quarter.

Werribee's ability to run, carry and create space was evident as repeatedly the Tigers found themselves within 30 metres of goal and with little actual or implied pressure.

With 13 North Melbourne Listed/Rookie players in its team coupled with the hard core of Werribee's best VFL players, the VFL Tigers exposed the different fitness levels in the Peter Jackson VFL and TSL.

Just that gut-running ability coupled with the selfless play where Werribee always had three or four or more players around the contest overawed Burnie.

As Burnie captain Luke Shackleton ruefully acknowledged "there is a fair step in just about every regard".

Former Box Hill Hawks captain Sam Gibson, North Melbourne players Levi Greenwood, Ben Warren, Ben Speight and last year's Werribee best and fairest winner Matthew O'Dwyer put on a possession gathering clinic.

Gibson led the way with a match-high 27 possessions; Greenwood 23 and Speight 21 as Werribee accumulated a staggering 140 more possessions. Not surprisingly, that was reflected on the scoreboard.

While Burnie proved far more competitive in the second quarter holding Werribee to just two goals and kicking as many goals, the second half proved even more conclusive for Werribee.

After trading goals in the first five minutes of the third quarter, Werribee clicked into over drive as they kicked 13 of the last 14 goals in the match.

Significantly, Werribee shared around the goals with Warren topping the goal feast with five goals with Speight, Greenwood, Majak Daw and Ben McKinley all kicking three goals.

Daw provided one of the real highlights in the last quarter. He took possession in the middle of the ground, avoided a would-be tackler, bounced the ball around another and then kicked truly from about 50 metres.

It certainly showcased the young man's immense, untapped talent.

With that effortless win behind them, Werribee now advances to the next round of the cut-throat Foxtel Cup, where they will meet the winner of this weekend's match between Ainslie and West Perth on June 9.

Williamstown host South Adelaide at the MCG on May 12 while reigning premiers Port Melbourne travel to the top end to play NT Thunder on May 19 in the other first round Foxtel Cup matches.

Only winners advance in the Foxtel Cup with the Grand Final scheduled on Saturday, August 4.

Sikora aims high

MICHAEL Sikora's name may sound familiar even to those outside the Sandringham faithful.

Sikora was a basketballer of some renown. He played for the Melbourne Tigers Under 18's, but despite that promise he wasn't entirely hooked on the sport.

"I wasn't sure if basketball was what I wanted to do so I decided to swing over to football," Sikora said.

So, aged 20, Sikora launched a football career that in the space of three years has taken him from playing for Heatherton Football Club in the Southern Football League to Sandringham seniors.

It's a quantum leap, even for someone who stands 206cm, especially when you consider that Sikora couldn't get a game in the Zebras reserves at the start of the 2011 season.

Sandringham General Manager John Mennie said the progression of Sikora is a great story for the club and the competition.

Mennie noted that Sikora cut an imposing figure when he first arrived at the club, but he had worked overtime to get himself into shape.

Sikora enlisted the help of Sandringham fitness coach Glen Thompson to bring him up to a standard where he could make a bigger impact.

"I knew if I wanted to play seniors, I had to be pretty fit," Sikora said

It had the desired effect. Sikora shed 10 kilos under Thompson's demanding regimen to be listed at 103kg. "Glen did a good job, it was pretty hard work," he said.

"It's good to be rucking for Sandringham in the seniors. I'm pretty stoked."

While the season is still in its infancy, Sikora has made an encouraging start and given his stature, not surprisingly, he's attracted the attention of several AFL clubs.

Adelaide and Brisbane expressed interest in Sikora last season. Odds are they won't be the last.

"Brisbane was the first club to contact us about him then Adelaide rang. Michael has worked really hard over pre-season, trimmed himself right down to the point where he played in our senior practices matches and then in the seniors to start off the season," Mennie said.

"He's the most unlikely, huge improver we've had down here in a long time. He's comes from nowhere, applied himself, lost a lot of weight.

"He uses his hands well, palms the ball just doesn't thump it."

Sikora has ambitions to take his game even further. "Obviously, I want to play AFL, but I also want Sandy to win a flag at the end of the year," Sikora said.

"We can't be content with a good start, we have to keep pushing on all year."

Chances are that come the end of the season it won't only be the Sandringham and Peter Jackson VFL supporters that have heard of Michael Sikora.

Balding waves flags for game 150

PETER Balding wants to set the record straight about goal umpires.

Balding, who officiated his 150th VFL game last week, said goal umpiring is a much tougher, more demanding pursuit than it may first appear.

"People don't give it much credit, but it is very challenging," Balding said,

"The analogy I like using is that we are like a goal keeper without the physicality. We have to judge the ball continuously; it's a lot tougher than people think.

"The thing with goal umpires is that you are under immense pressure because one bad error will cost you your whole year whereas if you are a footballer you make one error you get dragged, but can come back on and star."

Every week Balding and all his goal umpire colleagues are monitored by an observer with disputed decisions reviewed during the week.

Goal umpires are jumped on positioning, appearance and other aspects with a score allocated for each game.

"It's really a development squad now. You are in the VFL to make the AFL, if you don't perform you are delisted. You are there to make the AFL not to make up the numbers," Balding said.

"That's why I'm really proud of my 150 games. I keep knocking on the door, hopefully they will let me in eventually."

Discipline is also a non-negotiable. There's no going out the night before a game for Balding as he strives to be his best for every match.

Balding said as part of his weekly preparation there is a fitness regimen revolving time trials, fat-pinch and beep tests.

"We have one official night training a week, but if you don't do a couple of extra sessions you will be caught out."

While the eye-in-the-sky has caused some controversy, Balding believes the fundamental issue is getting the score right.

"That's what we are there for. If you get the score right, the job is done," Balding said.

Over the journey, Balding has officiated in 17 finals, including the 2008 VFL Grand Final and three times sat on the bench as the emergency, and has officiated in three VFL Reserves Grand Finals.

Balding hasn't always been a flag waver. He began as a field and boundary umpire and that was back in the late 1980s.

"I started umpiring as an 11-year-old and umpired until I was about 18 doing both field and boundary umpiring then I hit my late teens and wanted to go out partying," Balding said.

Eventually, Balding decided to get back into football, but he didn't want to take up all the running required to be a field or boundary umpire.

It led him to goal umpiring and that's been his pursuit since 1999. After starting in the Footscray league, Balding graduated to the VFL list in 2001.

"It's not an overnight story," laughed Balding.

"It's in my blood, I love it."

CURTAIN RAISER

The Box Hill Hawks vs Collingwood ABC TV match of the round will have a different lead in game this weekend with two female football teams going head to head out on the field. ## FRANKSTON FORTRESS

This Sunday will see Coburg Tigers take on Frankston. Frankston fans will be looking forward to this contest, as over the last two years, Coburg has been the only side the Dolphins have defeated – recording all of their three wins in 2010/2011 against the Tigers. Despite their ladder positions and form over recent years, Coburg has struggled against the Dolphins, especially at Frankston Oval. The last time Coburg won at Frankston was round 10, 2006.

SEAGULLS' HAPPY DRIVE HOME

The drive home from Eureka Stadium in Ballarat has not been a happy one for Williamstown fans over a number of years. Last weekend that came to an end, with the Seagulls winning their first game away against the Roosters at Eureka Stadium since round 9, 2005.

NIGHT FOOTBALL

The night games continue next Friday night, with Bendigo hosting Geelong on Friday April 27. Geelong will quickly become the night time specialists along with Werribee, with the Cats playing back to back night games in rounds 5 and 6.

Baird celebrates game 150

ASK anyone at Port Melbourne and they will quickly tell you that John Baird is the club's Rock of Gibraltar.

Coach Gary Ayres is effusive in his praise at the professionalism, leadership and team first philosophy of Baird, who last week notched his 150th VFL game.

Teammates describe him as inspirational, selfless and a beacon when the going gets tough. Few VFL players have the respect of their peers like Baird.

It has been an enduring, durable and highly successful career that has taken many turns from the time he played under 'super coach' Donald McDonald with Box Hill Hawks.

As a 21-year-old, Baird played in the Hawks' historic premiership and was named Norm Goss medallist for his best-on-ground game.

Such a performance parlayed into him being rookie listed by the then Kangaroos and later upgraded to the primary list. Baird would play 46 games for the Roos.

After his AFL career ended, Baird played for Port Adelaide Magpies in the SANFL before he returned to his home State and hooked up with Port Melbourne.

It proved an inspired choice on everyone's part. Baird won the club best and fairest in 2008 and the next season he was to be named captain. Now he's a premiership captain of a club that owns the modern day record for most consecutive wins.

Not surprisingly, Baird rates the latter part of a distinguished career as "the most enjoyable".

Asked what has set apart Port Melbourne, Baird replied: "Just the people involved. When Gary Ayres came on board he instilled a culture, a belief in the playing group and that we can achieve whatever we want to achieve.

"Often 'Ayresy' would say there is no restrictions on us and we've been able to continually rise to the challenge. I think we have seen that over the past four years.

"Whenever we are challenged we able to rise to whatever the challenge may be, get the job done. Find a way to win."

Baird noted the camaraderie among the group is unmistakable and there is a sense of fun and enjoyment.

And, it's that unity that has been able to forge the group when they've repeatedly come against aligned or stand-alone AFL clubs. "I think it is what we have created down there that's the difference," Baird said.

"I think we've played a pretty powerful brand of football and that's worn teams down."

While there is always an annual turnover of players – Port Melbourne lost eight important cogs to its premiership success – Baird said the club retained its core group and provided the foundation to launch another assault on the season.

"Gary wrote it on the board after the win against Bendigo – this team knows how to win and that's the culture and characteristics of the players."

Few players epitomise that more than John Baird.

Trading Places

Stuck in an office conducting a review might be an unlikely place for a football coach to be offered a job. However, late at night and a few missed calls from an unrecognised number and it all changed.

"I actually had a few missed calls from a number earlier that day that I didn't recognise and they went through the keeper. Then Neeldy rang me on his mobile so I obviously still had his number, then took the call and he basically said I have got a job for you."

That was the circumstances of now ex-Werribee coach Paul Satterley, who after being caught up in the Melbourne Football Club's web of transformation found himself at the oldest club in the land.

Six months later, Satterley looks back on that day. Having worked with Mark Neeld at the Western Jets in 2006 in the TAC Cup as an assistant he was hopeful he had done enough to make an impact with the new Melbourne coach.

"You'd hope that you've have made an impression when I did work with him. I certainly didn't expect it though, so obviously I jumped at the opportunity when it came."

As the current forward line development coach, Satterley said the experience gained from such a professional core group at Melbourne had been immense.

"I have been involved in a coaching group that has people like Neil Craig and Mark Neeld, Jade Rawlings and Brian Royal, and these people have been around in the AFL system for a long time and I am learning everyday."

Melbourne's coaching system has dramatically changed over the summer, and with gains there are losses.

Ex-midfield coach at Melbourne Scott West is one of those who moved on to Werribee, and Satterley believed his knowledge and experience of the game would serve him well.

"His career was outstanding, and for him to come into a role at the Werribee Football Club I think it is just great that they have attracted someone like Scott West," said Satterley.

"It's amazing how it panned out, in some respects we traded places."

West who played 324 games, had five All-Australian honours, seven best-and-fairest awards and a Lou Richards medal to his name, certainly had a resume to boast.

With a number of assistants already getting a chance to coach an AFL club in season 2012, West hoped his switch to the VFL would provide a gateway to further his opportunities.

Scott West

"If you want to strive to get to the top, then obviously that is the pinnacle of coaching at an AFL level and I certainly have aspirations to do that," West said.

"As you say to your players, you have to have aspirations and goals in your life because it makes you work harder and makes you prepare just as you would for everything. But I can't put those aspirations ahead of trying to get this job right."

Many experts see football as a volatile industry. Six coaches have moved on from the VFL last year, many becoming senior assistants at AFL clubs. The game creates such high turnovers and moving on is a reality of the football world.

"If there is anything I know about footy, it's expect the unexpected."

"The way coaches change, and even the way our players change, anything is possible."

Geelong remain undefeated

Geelong has maintained its unblemished start to the season, holding off a competitive Frankston outfit at Simonds Stadium last Saturday as Kane Hunkin reports.

An eight goal second quarter provided the catalyst for the win, but the home side was challenged by a Dolphins team buoyed by a spirited last start showing against the Casey Scorpions.

Kicking with the wind in the first quarter, Frankston belied their recent run of form, playing with an intensity that saw the side fall just one point shy of the current top four positioned Scorpions in round three.

A four goal run led by the agency of strong key position targets Khan Haretuku and Luke Clark, with two first quarter goals apiece, troubled Geelong in the absence of regular defenders Andrew McLean and Jordan Murdoch.

Primary listed player Lincoln McCarthy, in his first game for the Cats, provided the spark in the second quarter. Along with Mitch Brown, who kicked four of his five goals in the second term, Geelong gained momentum in hot and windy conditions.

The Dolphins carried their stubborn opposition into the third quarter, kicking three of the first four goals in their collective response to erasing a 22 point half-time deficit.

A goal to Kyle Martin at the 24 minute mark of the third quarter cut the margin to five points. However, Geelong would again steady, with consecutive goals to Josh Walker and Brown.

The last quarter played out in a fierce yet largely unassuming manner, with the Cats able to curtail Frankston's advances on the way to registering their third win of the 2012 Peter Jackson VFL season.

After the game, Geelong academy coach Paul Hood was at pains to highlight Frankston's competitive showing.

"They [Frankston] were fantastic with their pressure and ability to spread hard and make our guys actually play the game under real fatigue," Hood said.

Geelong's key position targets, particularly in the forward half, with young duo Mitch Brown (five goals) and Josh Walker (two goals) provided a focal point for the side throughout the afternoon. Hood additionally noted the importance of the aforementioned players in the rooms.

"It took time to click. [But] once they [Brown and Walker] butted heads halfway through the second quarter, they gave each other a bit of space from there on in. Once they figured that out, they were pretty damaging in the second half of the game. Mitch [Brown] with five goals was a great effort," he said.

Despite the slow start, Hood affirmed the significance of another key early season win, observing the benefits of a victory.

"We just found a way to win. That was the positive from the day. After a poor start, we actually did what we needed to do to get ourselves back in the game and control an opponent and actually get the four points."

Brown and Jesse Stringer were among the best for the victorious Cats, with Ryan Bathie solid as Geelong's key position back.

"Ryan really stepped up without Andrew [McLean] down there. Once he attacked the footy he did it with great confidence. [It was] great to see him run and dash out of defence a few times and send the ball long," Hood said.

Conversely, Haretuku (four goals) playing between the forward line and ruck and Lachlan Delahanty were among the best for the Dolphins.

Geelong now travels to Avalon Airport Oval to take on Werribee in a Friday night match, while Frankston return home to face Coburg on Sunday.

Committed to change

The Ballarat Football Netball League board are committed to promoting respect and responsibility within the league.

The Ballarat Football Netball League (BFNL) last week announced it is the first Country League to work with AFL Victoria and VicHealth's ground breaking Fair Game Respect Matters Program.

The program, which will run over the next two years, builds respectful environments that are safe, welcoming and inclusive for women and girls in 21 local football and netball clubs.

BFNL chief executive Rod Ward said "as well as becoming champions for equality, the clubs would also reap benefits of more sponsorship opportunities, increased membership and improved match day behavior".

AFL Victoria's Fair Game Respect Matters manager Katrina Leason said the upcoming Fair Game Respect Matters seminars will encourage all clubs to come together as one team for the night.

"These seminars are a chance for clubs from all around the region to share ideas to further enhance their clubs' family-friendly environments," Leason said.

"My first impressions are that country clubs are actually ahead of their city counterparts, particularly those affiliated with netball.

"I was really pleased by the female participation rates and commitment shown by the 21 clubs attending, who are willing to be 'champions of change'. They have demonstrated leadership and courage in working with their committees about respect initiatives."

Fair Game Respect Matters works on the values of 'respect in our club and off the field'.

Men and women will be nominated by their clubs to work with their committee to review their club culture, policies and operations.

And women and girls will be strongly encouraged to participate as club officials, and as players.

Ms Leason said that on top of this, clubs will actively recruit women and girls as coaches, trainers, umpires, as players and in administrative positions of influence and then will provide mentor programs for them.

"Male and female club representatives (also known as 'club drivers') are working with their committees to introduce short, medium and long term goals and Fair Game Respect Matters remains a regular item on the committee's agenda to sustain changes," she said.

"I've been really impressed by the number of men in Ballarat who are committed to ensure clubs become more respectful and welcoming of girls and women. It's important for men to lead by example."

The Ballarat League and club stakeholders including board, presidents and secretaries will all take part in this cultural development.

In the coming weeks, club members and spectators will notice Fair Game Respect Matters logos on players' shorts and in the footy record.

The City of Ballarat and Victoria Police have welcomed Fair Game Respect Matters into the League as an important initiative to create clubs that are friendly, equitable and welcoming places for women and girls.

AFL Victoria General Manager, Grant Williams said that AFL Victoria is committed to the ongoing support of the program.

"We need to constantly strive to improve the match day and club environments to ensure we can nurture participation and growth, and more particularly include women and girls in all aspects of community football because Respect Matters," Williams said.

Wenke not new to Chargers

FEW people have as intimate knowledge of Oakleigh Chargers' history than new coach Justin Wenke.

When last year's Chargers coach Greg Doyle accepted the position as ruck coach at St Kilda it left an opening as Oakleigh coach.

It seemed fitting that Wenke step up to the position given his long standing involvement with the club dating back to last century when John Lamont, now a Development Coach at North Melbourne, coached the Chargers.

That's sounds a long time and it is. Wenke is in his 13th season with the Chargers, he's a Life Member of the club.

Initially Wenke began as team manager under ex North Melbourne player John Law, who coached the Under 16 squad, and then branched out to work with the club's Under 15 & 16 squads and for the past five years coached the Under 16s squad.

He's also been a foot soldier, doing a lot of recruiting work within the club's region.

"The timing was right for me to step up and take the job," Wenke said.

"The club has been fortunate to have so many good people working over a long time. Stephen Canole (one-time Regional Manager) is now with Brisbane; Bob Batty (another ex Regional Manager) is doing development work in Queensland.

"And our coaches like Steve Grace is at Fremantle; Neil Ross is doing his recruiting. As a footy club we are really proud that not only does the competition give players an opportunity, but gives staff an opportunity to progress to the next level."

Wenke is mindful of the important role its relationship with Port Melbourne offers players who for whatever reason may initially be overlooked in the NAB AFL Drafts.

With the club listing five 19-year-olds this season and only three allowed to play in any one TAC Cup match, the other two will play for Port Melbourne in the Development League.

"It's really important exiting players can go to a strong club like Port Melbourne," he said.

Last year the Chargers made a late season surge that saw them climb from the lower rungs of the eight to reach the TAC Cup Grand Final and take a 20-point lead into the last quarter only to be run over by the rampaging Sandringham Dragons.

New Oakleigh Chargers coach
Justin Wenke

Wenke said the expectation for 2012 is the club to be "competitive in every aspect of our game, week in, week out" regardless of the opposition or what players are available.

He noted that one goal for the Chargers is to be a strong tackling team and by extension become the best defensive team in the competition.

"We want that to become our trademark. We want our work without the football to be something that sets us apart.

"We want the players to embrace a team philosophy, play within the structure and for everyone to play their role within the team.

"If we do that I'm sure it will make a really good team."

TAC Cup Coaches Award

- Lachlan Hunter

TO listen to Lachlan Hunter, the match against Eastern Ranges was just one of those games where the ball bounced his way.

And, that can be the beauty of the game. Some days the ball bounces for you, other days it doesn't.

But, that would be to over simplify Hunter's involvement in Western's emphatic victory over the Ranges.

Hunter produced one of the more brilliant individual games of the 2012 season, whichever way you looked at it.

Quite apart from the fact that he collected a game-high 37 possessions, which was a stunning 17 more than any other Jets' player, break down every facet of the game and the Year 12 St Kevin's student left his mark on it.

He also racked up 11 hand ball receives, laid 10 tackles, took nine marks and finished off a maximum three vote TAC Cup Coaches Award game with three goals.

It doesn't come as a surprise to those who have followed the development of Hunter, who impressed last season as a bottom age player for the Jets.

Western Jets coach Steve Kretiuk knows better than most how much talent Hunter possesses, but even the standout players need to continually work to improve their game.

Kretiuk spoke to Hunter before the Eastern game after two games where Hunter wasn't as dynamic as he can be.

"We sat down and had a chat with Lachie about his last couple of games. We addressed those issues and he came out in the best possible way and really led from the front in pretty much all aspects," Kretiuk said.

The Jets coach noted that Hunter's inside work was really clean as evidenced by his 15 contested possessions, but he was equally, if not more effective with his run, carry and delivery.

Kretiuk said Hunter's game in the first couple of matches had all been inside work at the expense of his outside game.

"You can't have all your eggs in the one basket," Kretiuk said.

"He needed to work back more into our defensive end to give himself the opportunity to run the lines a bit more. He hadn't been doing that.

"But against Eastern he got back, helped out and provided some good link up footy on the way through. He showed resilience and really focused on the things we spoke about.

"It showed a bit of character."

Hunter, a member of the Vic Metro squad, acknowledged that he took on board Kretiuk's talk and went into the Eastern math mindful that he needed to "spread from a contest" and get hold of more uncontested football.

WESTERN JETS
LACHLAN HUNTER

He added that he was aware that he needed to add further dimensions to his game, especially running down the lines, breaking open packs and impacting on the game in a variety of ways.

"It was a fair bit better than my opening two rounds. Everything seemed to fall into place whereas in the first two matches the ball seemed to bounce the other way," Hunter said.

Hunter will be away from the Jets for a large junk of the season now as he has school commitments. The Jets will be eagerly awaiting his return.

- Liam Byrne

LIKE so many others who received an invitation to train with Bendigo Pioneers, Liam Byrne was a little apprehensive about his chances of making the list.

Afterall, Byrne tried out with the Pioneers last year and didn't make the cut. The fact that he played with South Bendigo's seniors in the Bendigo Football League didn't elevate his confidence.

Byrne thought his late start to playing football may tell against him. It wasn't until 2010 that Byrne switched from soccer and basketball, the sports he'd played since age six, to football.

"I'd only played footy for one year before I tried out with the Pioneers, so I didn't really expect anything," Byrne said.

"I hadn't been interested in football growing up. Both my brothers played soccer and basketball and it just seemed the logical choice for me as well.

"I just got sick of soccer and basketball, I just thought I would give footy a go. This has been surreal, I didn't expect anything like this to happen."

Byrne has been among Bendigo's best players and was pivotal in the Pioneers' courageous away win against Oakleigh Chargers in Round 3.

While he did not gain a truck load of possessions – Byrne collected 15 kicks, but laid a team-high nine tackles and his clean use of the ball proved telling as he was awarded the TAC Cup Coaches Award three votes.

Importantly, Byrne kicked a crucial last quarter goal after the Chargers surged to a 10-point lead late in the last quarter.

Bendigo coach David Newett said he had been attracted to Byrne's "awareness" since pre-season training.

Newett noted that not only did Byrne have the vision to place the ball into the right spots, but he also was able to find space himself.

"You could see his soccer and basketball background during our game sense training during pre-season," Newett said.

"We spoke about what he needed to do to get his fitness levels to where they need to be. I started him off in defence, but moved him into the midfield against Oakleigh and he played really well.

"His clean hands, good ball use, good spacial awareness. He's an intelligent player."

Newett said Byrne's work ethos

BENDIGO PIONEERS

was characteristic of the team's never-say-die attitude after it appeared they had let the game slip.

"There is some very good character among the group. It was very pleasing to get the win."

Byrne, who rotated through the midfield and across half forward, attributed the Pioneers win against Oakleigh to its work rate throughout the game.

"Our tackling pressure around the contest was good and that forced them to turn the ball over and gave us a shot at the game," he said.

Crouch selects football over cricket

SEVERAL months ago Matt Crouch made a big call as he chose to make football his No 1 sporting priority.

It was a telling decision given Crouch had played first XI cricket for Melbourne and represented Victoria in Cricket Australia's Under 17 carnival.

While there's little doubt Crouch's cricket was on an upward spiral, the bottom line is that he enjoys football more.

And, that's been evident as North Ballarat Rebels opened the season in impressive fashion with Crouch showcasing his ability, particularly in the victory against Geelong Falcons.

Crouch, a first year player, collected 22 possessions, took six marks, laid two tackles and kicked one goal as the Rebels emerged from their trip to Warrnambool with a thrilling two point win against Geelong.

For Rebels coach David Loader there is no great mystique surrounding Crouch, whose brother Brad was selected as a 17-year-old by Greater Western Sydney then on-traded to Adelaide.

Loader views Matt Crouch as a hard-working midfielder who can go forward and deliver a goal when needed. "To be honest he's just a really good footballer," Loader explained.

"He's the sort of player that can win the football in close, kicks it pretty well and generally makes good decisions."

While North Ballarat began slowly against Geelong, Crouch was one of a few Rebels players that were up and about from the get-go and his work rate around stoppages impressed Loader.

"He just knocked up getting the footy in a contested situation. He was super valuable for us," Loader said.

Crouch believes the key to the Rebels success is that the work load is shared across the team with no reliance of a couple of playing hoisting the club on their back.

He said he's more than happy to play whatever role Loader and the coaching staff give him. "If it helps the team then I'm fine with it," he said.

Crouch has no regrets about his decision to focus on football. "Towards the end of the year I wasn't enjoying my cricket as much, I thought I would give footy more of a crack.

REBELS MATT CROUCH

"With both sports over lapping I found it hard to get to training and to commit to both. I was enjoying football a bit more and decided to go with it," Crouch said.

"I love my footy so I've just been concentrating on that."

While appreciative of what his older brother has achieved, Crouch said it was not the driver for him choosing football over cricket.

"It really didn't have anything to do with Brad, but seeing him do what he's done gives you a bit of hope," he said.

Asked about similarities between the brothers, Loader replied: "They are different boys, but they both love playing footy."

was a pretty good effort, rounded off a pretty good day."

Cameron – a star in the making

Jeremy Cameron from Greater Western Sydney has stamped his authority on the competition by being selected as the Round Two NAB AFL Rising Star nominee.

Cameron was drafted to the Giants from the North Ballarat Rebels in 2010 as a 17-year-old access selection.

Jeremy, now 19, played his third AFL match on Sunday against West Coast.

The 196cm forward was a stand-out in the Giants' young side, gathering 12 disposals, 7 marks and kicked 4 goals against North Melbourne in round two.

Giants coach Kevin Sheedy was impressed by Cameron's ability to perform under the circumstances.

"For a young man playing just his second AFL game, Jeremy showed not just tremendous skill but also maturity. His effort in the third quarter when he kicked three goals was particularly impressive and demonstrated he has what it takes to succeed at the elite level," Sheedy said.

Jeremy played his junior football at Dartmoor FC in country Victoria. He represented Vic Country in the 2010 NAB AFL Under 18 Championships and is a graduate of the AIS-AFL Academy.

At the conclusion of the season, a nominee from 1 of the 23 home & away rounds will be chosen as the 2012 NAB AFL Rising Star.

The 2012 NAB AFL Rising Star will receive a personal investment folio and a dedicated personal banker, courtesy of NAB.

Junior clubs that have helped foster the early careers of the nominated players will also be recognised by NAB. Each club will receive a NAB Club Recognition Award, which includes a package of practical resources designed to assist them in developing future champions. 2012 will see the introduction of a life saving St John defibrillator as part of the St John Heart Start program.

PAUL, NOT PETER

New Vic Country Under 16 coach Paul 'Henry' Henriksen went under a new alias last weekend up in Bendigo, when everyone referred to him as Peter. We must apologise to Paul for not only getting his first name wrong in the Record last week, but also his last name.

AFL DEBUTS

Round 3 saw the AFL debut of Northern Knights star, Billy Longer. Longer was left to lead the Brisbane Lions in the ruck after his teammate Leuenberger injured himself early in the game. This meant competing against Fremantle big man Aaron Sandilands. Longer put forward a strong effort against a legend of the game.

2011 Bendigo Pioneer player Sam Kerridge debuted on Sunday afternoon for the Adelaide Crows in their clash against Hawthorn. Kerridge played a third of the game which resulted in few possessions but he was effective with his use, recording 100% efficiency.

NAB AFL RISING STAR NOMINATIONS

The early weeks of the season have seen two of the three NAB AFL Rising Star nominations come from former TAC Cup players. Jeremy Cameron from Greater Western Sydney was selected as the Round Two NAB AFL Rising Star nominee - drafted to the Giants from the North Ballarat Rebels in 2010 as a 17-year-old access selection.

Dylan Grimes from the Richmond Football Club was selected as the Round Three NAB AFL Rising Star nominee - recruited from the Northern Knights as pick number two in the 2010 AFL Preseason Draft.

Today we feature a story on Cameron on page 42, and next week we will feature Grimes. Well done to both players, and we look forward to announcing more nominations throughout the season.
