Big V honours await

The countdown is on to State football in both the Peter Jackson VFL and the TAC Cup.

Next month begins a pivotal part of the Victorian football calendar for hundreds of aspiring young players.

It starts with the Peter Jackson VFL State Representative game against the Tasmanian State League which is followed by the commencement of games of the NAB AFL U18 Championships and then the NAB AFL U16 Championship carnival.

Players from all Peter Jackson VFL clubs as well as TAC Cup clubs will gain the opportunity to represent Victoria.

These teams provide some of the few remaining opportunities in football that players have to represent their State.

Indeed, it is a moment to savour.

For many of those players it will be an audition, if you like, before the scrutinising eyes of AFL Club recruiters and, potentially, a launching pad to an AFL career.

History tells us that so many players are chosen by AFL Clubs on how they perform on the national stage during the NAB AFL U18 Championship games, where the best play the best from around the country.

Already, we have seen the AFL Vic Country and AFL Vic Metro Academies select players to play in trial matches in preparation for upcoming games.

Over the coming weeks respective coaches Mark Ellis, who'll coach AFL Vic Country Academy team for the first time, and AFL Vic Metro Academy team coach Rohan Welsh and selectors will begin formulating their preferred team line ups.

For the Peter Jackson VFL team, this year under Port Melbourne premiership coach Gary Ayres, there is a return to State football with a match against Tasmania at Bellerive Oval on May 26.

It will be the VFL's first representative match since its resounding victory against Western Australia at Leederville Oval, Perth in 2010.

Quite apart from the magnitude of the nine goal win, the most significant aspect of the game was the number of VFL players subsequently drafted.

Nine players were drafted from that VFL team with five - Ed Curnow, Cam Pederson, Orren Stephenson, Stephen Clifton and Peter Faulks - all progressing to play AFL. And, of course, it should not be forgotten that Jarryd Blair, a member of that VFL team, was upgraded from the rookie list to play in Collingwood's premiership team later that year. Two years earlier James Podsiadly and Robin Nahas represented the VFL.

Will history repeat itself, both in terms of team success and also players enhancing their credentials in the eyes of AFL Clubs?

Obviously, this year's Peter Jackson VFL team will have a far different look, but it will provide so many first time Big V wearers with the chance to showcase their ability.

We await with interest, firstly for all the Victorian representative teams, from both AFL Victoria's underage Academies and the Peter Jackson VFL level, to be finalised and then for those playing capturing the attention of the wider football community. It's an exciting time across all levels of Victorian football.

Panozza enjoys leading role

NEWCOMEN Road these days is the home of the Springvale Districts Football Club, but it remains very much a special location for the Scorpions faithful.

Wind back the clock more than a decade and Newcomen Road was home to Springvale, an earlier version of Casey Scorpions, the dominant club in the VFL in the 1990s.

The Scorpions won four flags based at the suburban ground, a couple of torpedo punts off Springvale Road.

As the VFL evolved, the Newcomen Road facility was unable to keep pace and the club relocated to its current site at Casey Fields.

Evan Panozza, one of the longest serving Scorpions, didn't get to play at Newcomen Road, but he well remembers sitting in the cramped confines of coach's box alongside then coach Peter Banfield, who also taught him at Aquinas College.

Panozza came through TAC Cup club Eastern Ranges along with Travis Cloke, Leigh Adams, Heath Hocking, Matt Bate, Chris Knights and Lucas Markovic, whom he played juniors with at South Croydon. When he graduated from the Ranges the choice of club seemed a formality.

"I had a good relationship with Peter Banfield through my school and that's how I got to learn about Casey," Panozza said.

"He invited me into the rooms just to see what the club was about. I met John Sharkie (long serving president) and Brian Woodman (club general manager) and that's how I got to know the club.

"Once I finished in the Under 18s, it was a natural progression to go there and play under Peter."

While he didn't get the chance to play at Newcomen Road, Panozza understands the proud history and significance the venue holds.

Now in his seventh season with Casey, Panozza, the vice-captain for the past three seasons, was elevated to co-captain alongside Kyle Matthews, something he views as an honour.

What makes the position even more telling in Panozza's eyes is that initially it was a vote among the players for the leadership group. From it, it then went to the coaches and the Board.

"Early on I gained a good grounding on leadership under Steve Harrison and Nigel Carmody, past champions, whose record stack up so to learn under those guys was fantastic," Panozza said.

"To be promoted to captain alongside Kyle, one of my closest mates, is an honour and a reward, but in the whole scheme of things it doesn't feel like anything has changed, you just continue to lead by example.

"It's a bit of a reward for effort, which is nice."

Now Panozza would like the Scorpions to taste some finals success. He likes all the stories about the club's success in the 1990s, but he wants to update that history.

Purton-Smith earns senior spot

FOR Jack Purton-Smith the move from Williamstown to Werribee is all about opportunities, even if it means more travel time.

When Purton-Smith decided at the end of the 2011 season that he would be best served looking for another VFL club, he did his due diligence.

Purton-Smith met with officials of both Port Melbourne and Werribee before finally settling with the latter.

It would have been easier to select Port Melbourne given he works in Elsternwick and lives locally, but Purton-Smith believed his best chance to play senior football lie with Werribee.

After starting in the Development League where he sits in equal third on the goal kicking ladder with 12 goals, one behind teammate Jason Tom, Purton-Smith received the call-up to make his Werribee debut in the Foxtel Cup match against Burnie.

While Burnie was clearly no match for Werribee, Purton-Smith showed he wasn't out of place as he kicked two goals and had an efficiency rate of nearly 80 percent with his disposals, in an encouraging first game for his new club.

"It was good fun and great to have a run on Etihad," Purton-Smith said.

Purton-Smith said the partial alignment Werribee has with North Melbourne presented more opportunities for VFL listed players than a full blow alignment.

And, he reckoned the opportunities may be limited at reigning premiers Port Melbourne who have a bunch of similar type players.

"It (Werribee) is a little further, but sometimes you've got to do what you've got to do," Purton-Smith said.

"I thought about Port Melbourne, but I just felt Werribee suited me the best."

After an injury-prone top age year with Sandringham Dragons, where he required surgery on a knee and then hurt a hamstring, Purton-Smith chose Williamstown as his next football home.

Purton-Smith played two games in his first year with the Seagulls, but spent the entire season with the club's Development League team last year.

He kicked 42 goals, second behind Casey's Aaron Purvis on the goal kicking ladder. His season haul included one bag of nine goals and another of seven.

It was not enough to force his way into a talent laden Williamstown team.

"Some weeks at Williamstown there were 14 or 15 Doggies (Western Bulldogs) players and then you had your core group of VFL players so it meant opportunities were limited," Purton-Smith said.

"You've still got your core players at Werribee, but with not so many Kangaroos players coming back there is more chances."

When opportunity knocks Jack Purton-Smith believes he's ready to seize his chance.

Dwyer enjoying winning

IF you watched enough TV, listened to the radio, absorbed the newspaper offerings or tuned into social media over the last few months of the 2011 season you could have been forgiven for thinking two things.

First, Sam Dwyer was a lock to win the Liston Trophy and second he would end up on an AFL list in 2012.

It didn't appear either prediction was outlandish. Dwyer enjoyed an outstanding season for Port Melbourne, some club insiders believing it even better than when he won the 2009 best and fairest for the Borough.

Sadly, for Dwyer neither forecast became reality. In fact, the pundits could not have been further off the mark.

Dwyer received just two votes, 23 behind teammate Shane Valenti, who made it back-to-back Liston Trophies.

Interestingly, Valenti finished third in Port Melbourne's best and fairest behind Sam Fleming and, yes, Dwyer.

As for the groundswell that Dwyer would be snapped up by an AFL club, well, that was as far askew as the Liston tip.

The 25-year-old gained an invitation to a State screening, but after that Dwyer was greeted by deafening silence.

Dwyer didn't get caught up in the speculation swirl. External expectations more often than not fall a long way short of reality.

"I try not to listen to it," Dwyer said.

"The internal expectations are more important than the external ones. People can say what they like, but as long as I'm doing my bit and keeping 'Ayresy' (coach Gary Ayres) happy then it makes me happy.

"I thought I had an alright season, but Shane was obviously a very deserving winner and a lot of boys in our team had good years, which you have to happen to achieve what we did.

"You never know what the umpire is thinking and what they are seeing throughout the game. I didn't think about any Liston voting or anything like that."

Dwyer said he had other things on his mind. "I was enjoying winning," he said.

While he had been hopeful that an AFL club may have displayed some interest, Dwyer said he couldn't put a gun to an AFL club recruiter and make him draft him.

Asked if he wonders why recruiters have not given him a chance, Dwyer said: "It goes through your head. Obviously, you would love the opportunity to test yourself against the best.

"It's up to others to decide if you are worth a go. You can only do what you do."

And, in Dwyer's case that has been play first class football for Port Melbourne for a sustained period of time.

Dwyer's season, capped by the Grand Final triumph where he was among the club's best, was also acknowledged by his selection in the VFL Team of the Year.

If you listen to any Port Melbourne player from last year, you will gain a pretty good idea of how valuable a player is Sam Dwyer.

Wheeler ready for next step

IT wasn't so much a wake-up call, but the five weeks Willie Wheeler spent pre-Christmas training with Richmond was certainly a reality check.

During his first season with Coburg, Wheeler had been impressed with the fitness level and professionalism of all the Tigers that played alongside him.

But, when he ventured to Punt Road along with Coburg Tigers teammates Leigh Masters, Glenn Grgic and David Fahey, in a bid to gain a rookie spot with the Tigers, Wheeler gained a far greater insight into what it takes to play the game at the elite level.

Asked what the biggest eye-opener had been, Wheeler replied: "Just how hard it was. It was very hard.

"Just seeing how professionals go about their footy and just how hard they train, just how hard they push each other to make it to that next level.

"It was just unbelievable compared to what I'm used to at the VFL and TAC Cup. I just learned so much in that time. I've brought back what I learned there to Coburg.

"By Christmas last year I was a lot fitter, by a mile, than I've been before."

Wheeler played a club high 15 games as a rookie last year and such was the impression that he created that he was in the mix for the Fothergill Round Medal, eventually won by Ahmed Saad, subsequently drafted by St Kilda.

The 19-year-old is determined to use that encouraging start as a foundation for a better season, one which he hopes will see Coburg return to the finals for the first time since 2008.

"It's been a good start to the season, but we still have a long way to go," Wheeler said.

Given the feedback from both Richmond and Coburg, Wheeler is working on ways to improve his pace and also impacting more on the scoreboard.

Coburg Tigers coach Adam Potter noted there has been an improvement in Wheeler's tackling as evidenced by his equal team-high tackles against Sandringham in Round 4.

"His tackling on the spread, in particular, has improved plus he's averaging 24/25 possessions," Wheeler said.

Tackling had been one of Wheeler's strengths as a junior and with the Murray Bushrangers, but like everything you've got to keep working to improve.

"I sort of pride myself that if I'm not in the game that my tackling can get me in the game. It's what keeps me consistent," he said.

"Last year coming up against the bigger bodies for the first time, my tackles were slipping, but this year I've tried to really ramp it up."

And, that started down at Punt Road where Willie Wheeler gained an inkling what it's like to be a professional footballer.

Boland switches to Magpies

LIFE as a top-up player isn't for everyone, but Matt Boland is one player who absolutely loves the concept.

After two frustrating seasons at Sandringham, Boland moved to Collingwood this season along with ex-Zebra teammates Ricky Ferraro and Rob Cathcart.

Boland, who kicked 14 goals in seven games last year for Sandringham, made an immediate impact with the VFL Magpies. He kicked six goals in the club's win against Northern Blues.

While that is enough to make him feel good about the switch, Boland said there is so much more to the change that appeals to him.

One aspect that he finds attractive is that if there is no room for him at Collingwood he can return to his local club – Parkdale, which play in 'C' grade in the VAFA.

"My two brothers and a lot of my close mates won a flag at Parkdale and I was playing in Sandringham reserves so I missed out on that," Boland said.

"The system they have at Collingwood is really good. You know where you're at – if they've got room for you, you are in otherwise you go and play locally.

"Everyone knows exactly where they sit, it's really good.

"I played a lot in the seconds at 'Sandy' and at the end of the season, I spoke to Luke Beveridge (ex-Collingwood Development Manager) and he arranged for Tarkyn (Lockyer, Collingwood's VFL coach) to give me a call."

So, if Boland isn't playing with Collingwood, he's back with his brothers and mates at Parkdale.

What also appeals to Boland is the facilities - gym and pool - available for VFL players both at the Westpac Centre as well as the coaching feedback via game vision.

"It's the state of the art equipment there, it gives you the best chance to get into great shape and be the best you can," Boland said.

"All the training sessions and vision, everything they do with you is just so professional. It's unreal."

Boland, completing the fourth year of carpentry apprenticeship, said the VFL team for the upcoming weekend match trains each Friday morning, which gives everyone a chance to understand the structures as well as familiarise themselves with the Collingwood players.

Sometimes it requires an understanding boss for Boland to attend training, but the 21-year-old said he can't complain with his employer.

Patience is something Boland has learned to acquire after his late teen years were wracked with injury.

Boland missed out on going through the TAC Cup program as he broke his arm one year and endured knee and shin injuries another pre-season.

For the first time in a while Matt Boland is really enjoying his football and it's clearly evident.

VFL Season 2012

Around the grounds

EACH week we will take a look at some of the news and views from around the Peter Jackson VFL.

GAME DELAY

It is not too often games are delayed even before the ball is bounced for the first time for the afternoon. Last weekend in the ABC TV game, an injury to boundary umpire Jacob Murrells prior to the first bounce did just that, with the Collingwood trainers and doctor called to the field to examine Jacob who had suffered an ankle injury jogging to his position to start the game. The incident was not the best way to remember his first ABC TV game, with family at home watching in as he was chaired from the field.

AFL WATCH

Two Peter Jackson VFL players from Season 2011 have done the competition proud by playing all four consecutive rounds of the 2012 AFL Home and Away Season after being drafted to their respective AFL Clubs at the end of last year.

Former Sandringham Zebra, James Magnier was overlooked in 7 successive drafts before being selected in the NAB AFL Rookie Draft by the Melbourne Football Club.

At 24 years of age, Magnier has been playing like a seasoned professional, which has resulted in week after week selection.

In Round 2, Magnier had a team high of 32 disposals and highlighted that the much scrutinised football club does possess talented athletes that can guide the team to a brighter future.

Tim Mohr from the Casey Scorpions made his AFL debut for Greater Western Sydney in Round 1 of the 2012 AFL Season and hasn't looked back since.

As one of the older players at only 22 years of age, Mohr has used his speed and strength to intimidate opponents and provide some stability to the youthful team.

Mohr has averaged 12 disposals and 3 tackles a match, however statistics cannot demonstrate the full extent of Mohr's influence on the GWS backline.

FOXTEL CUP

Williamstown will be continuing the Peter Jackson VFL's representation in the Foxtel Cup in two weeks. On Saturday the 12th May, Williamstown will take on the South Adelaide Panthers at the MCG. The game will be broadcast at 11:00am on Fox Footy Live before Richmond vs Sydney in the AFL.

The following week, reining VFL Premiers Port Melbourne will make their debut in the Foxtel Cup. Port will fly to Darwin where they will compete against NT Thunder at TIO Stadium before the Western Bulldogs take on the Gold Coast Suns.

16 GAMES TOO EARLY

Dean Galea will definitely remember his 84th career game last weekend being chaired off at the end of the game. Due to an error in AFL Victoria's stats collection, we wrongly promoted the fact that his game last week versus North Ballarat would be his 100th. Where the error occurred was his 16 TAC Cup matches were included in his season tally up to the start of 2012. Apologies to Dean, but we are sure he will enjoy his real 100th game, set for sometime during the 2012 Acacia VFL finals series.

COACHES COMMENT OF THE WEEK

To beat Port we either pray for lightning to get a draw or try and be as hard as we can to be competitive – Robert Hyde, Northern Blues Coach

MILESTONES

Ben Clifton from the Coburg Tigers will be playing his 50th VFL game this weekend against the Box Hill Hawks at Highgate Recreational Reserve.

Goal umpire Steven Piperno will officiate his 100th VFL games this Saturday in the ABC TV clash between Collingwood and Sandringham Boundary umpire Damien Cusack will record his 100th VFL games, officiating in the Port Melbourne vs Northern Blues game.

OH BROTHER

There will be no brotherly love shown on Saturday as Coburg

Tigers and Box Hill Hawks go head to head. Tigers General Manager Jake McCauley will not be as supportive of his little (?) brother Broc as he lines up in the ruck for the Hawks this weekend. The welcome mat will not be there for Broc like it was in round 1 when Broc was guest speaker at the Tigers luncheon.

FACEBOOK COMMENTS OF THE WEEK

Foil to focal point

DEAN Galea is credited for helping to entice Patrick Rose last year to Port Melbourne.

History now tells us that Rose is the 2011 Jim 'Frosty' Miller medallist, VFL Team of the Year representative and, of course, a member of the Port Melbourne team that helped bury demons that taunted the club for 29 years.

Galea's value to Port Melbourne far extended in whatever role he played in the club securing Rose. While he played a perfect foil to Rose throughout the season, Galea was pivotal in the club's crushing win over his old club Williamstown.

What should not be forgotten is Galea's role in sparking Port Melbourne when they appeared on the canvas after the Seagulls swooped in the first quarter.

The 27-year-old took telling marks, showcased his talent at ground level and, importantly, kicked goals when they were desperately needed.

Galea finished with a game high six goals, which followed from his game high five against Northern Bullants in the Preliminary Final.

Cometh the hour, cometh the man. For Galea it succinctly describes his contribution as Port Melbourne hoisted high the premiership cup.

After kicking 48 goals in his first season at Port, Galea improved on that tally to kick 69 goals, second behind only Rose.

With his sidekick Rose now kicking goals for Wodonga, Galea has gone from foil to focal point for rival clubs.

Galea doesn't view the departure of Rose adding any extra pressure on him.

He points to the fact that Adrian Bonaddio is now recovered from injury to play the big man role in attack; Chris Cain is a regular goal kicker, so, too Billy Burstin and a host of his midfield teammates.

"I've just got to perform, do my part during the game. We've still got a very good forward line. If we all chip in it will help make is a better side," Galea said.

"It makes my job so much easier when you have guys like John Baird, Toby Pinwill, Shane Valenti, Sam Dwyer and all the other good players we've had in the midfield.

"What happened last year was an unbelievable achievement. To go through the season undefeated is something you would think would never happen.

"What is great about playing at Port is that you get to play with the guys you train with all the time. We're a very tight bunch."

Galea, frustrated by the revolving door selection at Williamstown, where he played four seasons, punctuated by a year at West

Adelaide in the SANFL, is more than happy he made the move across the bay.

So, too, all the Port faithful who know only too well that Dean Galea's finger prints on its premiership success out matched his link to luring Rose to the club.

**the Record incorrectly published last week that is was Galea's 100th game last Saturday. After a stats check during the week, it was found he is on 84 – full story on page 13*

Vinditti makes move east

AFTER six years of playing in the WAFL, riding the football elevator up and down from reserves to seniors, Daniel Vinditti decided on a sea change.

It coincided with an opportunity to relocate with work so Vinditti embarked on the move east.

"I got a bit stale and I was pretty keen to make the move over here as I've got a few mates that live in Melbourne," Vinditti said.

"I've always wanted to give the VFL a crack."

One of those friends knew the Coburg Tigers fitness coach Rob Innes who contacted Vinditti, put him in touch with the club and not long after the 25-year-old had found a new football home.

Vinditti played under former Essendon ruckman Simon Eastaugh, ex-Adelaide Crow Andrew Jarman and last year

Damien McMahon during his time with Perth.

One of the many differences between the WAFL and VFL, according to Vinditti, is the latter is a far younger competition. So much so that Vinditti is one of the oldest players on Coburg Tigers' VFL list.

Also, Vinditti noted there is more AFL listed/rookie players playing each week in the VFL and competition for spots at aligned clubs is intense.

"It can only be a good thing, it's more competitive for spots, everyone tries harder," Vinditti said.

Vinditti said he's gone from an environment where some weeks there may be no AFL listed/rookie players in the team to the Peter Jackson VFL where there could be as many as 14.

Another significant difference Vinditti has noticed is the spacious WAFL grounds is more conducive to run and carry play as opposed to the more congested VFL style.

Vinditti said if a club was attempting a full ground press in the WAFL, players would have to work overtime to cover it.

"Here it is more in tight and congested. Tackling over here is massive, if you get that right and execute right it's a big thing," he said.

Coburg Tigers coach Adam Potter said Vinditti had made an encouraging start, but still needed to capitalise on his opportunities, particularly around goals.

"We have seen with the impact he's had. He's got speed and he finds the footy, which is important," Potter said.

Vinditti didn't get to play finals with Perth, but he's upbeat that he's come to Coburg Tigers at the right time.

While Coburg Tigers haven't been a fixture in finals for quite a while, Vinditti said all the early indications were positive that the club had the right mix to play September football.

The VFL season can fluctuate on a weekly basis, but Vinditti is confident that his move east will be beneficial in more ways than one.

Schultz returns to VFL

FOR Graham Pratt, the Bendigo General Manager, signing Wayne Schultz was a win/win for the town.

If Schultz, winner of the Michelson Medal for best and fairest player in the Bendigo Football League last year, could help out the Gold great, if not he could return to Castlemaine and assist all the young kids playing there.

After the Michelson Medal, Pratt read that Schultz was unsure what he planned to do in 2012, but there remained a passion to return to the VFL.

Pratt said he and Bendigo coach Hayden Skipworth spoke with Schultz.

"We just told him that we were keen to keep him involved with Bendigo footy. We said we liked what he could do for us and also Castlemaine could do with some help," Pratt said.

"We told him that we would list him and if he didn't play with Bendigo he could go back play with Castlemaine and help out the club.

"We didn't want to lose him from Bendigo footy. We said 'if you go back to Port and play seconds you are not helping anyone, but stay here and if you don't get a game with Bendigo you can go back and help out Castlemaine'."

Schultz admitted that it did "cross my mind" to return back to Port Melbourne, but he enjoyed his time with Castlemaine, made many friends in Bendigo and agreed with Pratt's proposal.

It's added another chapter to a story that has seen Schultz play for three VFL clubs as well as with Horsham in the Wimmera Football League.

After beginning his VFL career with North Ballarat followed by a couple of seasons with Port Melbourne, Schultz moved away from the VFL last year due to increased work commitments.

Schultz succumbed to pressure from friends to play the season with Castlemaine. Everyone was happy with the result as Schultz won the Michelson Medal from 2010 winner Josh Bowe.

While it was an enjoyable season, Schultz said he missed the "professionalism" and facilities that the VFL offers.

"I'm really enjoying myself. I'm super excited to be back in the system this year," Schultz said.

"There is a vast difference in the pace and intensity, but I never let my fitness go even when I stopped playing VFL. Although with local footy you only train two nights a week, I kept training and kept myself pretty cherry ripe."

So far so good. Schultz has been one of the standout players for Bendigo and there hasn't been any suggestion of him returning to Castlemaine.

Casey Scorpions coach Brett Lovett awarded Schultz the three votes in the Ford VFL Coaches Player of the Year Award for the Round 4 match.

Votes are recorded by the coaches after each match with the player emerging with the most votes at the end of the home and away season winning the use of a Ford vehicle for six months.

Everyone's a winner

The final two Peter Jackson senior sides recorded victories last weekend, with the Northern Blues and Frankston both opening their accounts for season 2012. Both clubs did it in different fashion - the Blues dominating Bendigo Gold by 100 points, and Frankston leaving it till the final quarter to overrun Coburg for the fourth time in their last five encounters.

Both coaches were relieved to get their first win of the season on the board, with both sides having challenged in early matches this season, but not having found that consistent performance to claim the four points.

"It was important for the group as we have been playing some good football without getting the 4 points, so it was a great feeling and it should give the boys a bit of belief," Frankston coach Simon Goosey said about the win.

Frankston left it till the final term to stage a fierce comeback, but they were kicking to the scoring end in the final term. Goosey did not have to say too much to motivate his players at three quarter time, the focus was more on the team game.

"It was more so focussing on what we had to do as a group and how we needed to go about it.

"A lot of it had to do with our work rate & pressure that we applied & also we were kicking to the scoring end," Goosey said.

The result showcased a number of the Dolphins new recruits in 2012.

"Look all the recruits have stepped up, it's hard to individualise but Kyle Martin, Lee Kitchin & young Corey Buchan in the middle stepped up down back Dylan VanUnen & Jarrod Irving were good too," Goosey said.

It was a different story at Queen Elizabeth Oval, with Northern Blues leading from start to finish to record a big first up win. New Blues coach Robert Hyde acknowledged his opponents were suffering from a depleted line-up.

"We were lucky to catch Bendigo with a depleted squad to choose from, but saying that we played good footy," Hyde said.

"We haven't structured up very well in the forward line in previous weeks so we concentrated on that and our tackling."

A number of players were amongst the best, but Hyde highlighted the standouts.

"A few stood out - Dave Ellard with 38 possessions, Adam Marcon through the middle, Nick Heyne on the wing and Rob Warnock with 52 hitouts."

After their first wins, Frankston will enjoy the bye, whilst the Northern Blues face powerhouse Port Melbourne.

"To beat Port we either pray for lightning to get a draw or try and be as hard as we can to be competitive," Hyde said.

Port blitz Roosters

Port Melbourne have continued to re-write the record books after they notched up their 26th win in a row, storming home over North Ballarat in a second half blitz. Brendan Lucas reports.

Looking for their second win of the season, North Ballarat had come to play, and took it up to the undefeated Borough in the opening half.

The Borough set the intensity early in the first term, but North Ballarat rallied in the second to bring the margin to 13-points at the main change.

John Baird backed up his 150th game last week with a stellar performance. Sam Dwyer and Chris Cain led the goal-kicking tally with four each, whilst Shane Valenti continued his string of good form through the middle.

The Borough capitalized with a spread of 15 goal kickers for the day, but it was the Roosters who missed a crucial scoring opportunity to hit the front before half time through forward Bill Driscoll.

After the Borough held a slender lead at the main change, Gary Ayres gave his side a spray in the rooms at the break. He told his side they had disregarded the key areas to focus on which had been discussed.

Port Melbourne responded after half time and kicked the first three. The Roosters attempted to minimize the damage, but the Boroughs overlap and run off halfback was too much to handle.

Mitchell Woffindin provided a spark of pace with a goal at the 14-minute mark, and gave a glimpse of future excitement for Boroughs fans.

Driscoll was the only multiple goal kicker for the Roosters and finished with four, but the Boroughs had done the damage by three quarter time.

North Ballarat coach Gerard FitzGerald showed his anger in the huddle and urged his players to finish the game strongly.

However the Borough had all the answers in the last term, and kicked eight goals to record a dominant 84-point win.

Port coach Gary Ayres said he had been pleased with his midfield's ability to carry the load, but assured that improvement as a whole still had to be made.

"I thought our spreading of the load with our team got better after half time," he said.

"I think it is the volume of midfielders that we can put through there. I think one of the strengths was in previous years is that we can throw a huge number of players in there."

"The group has got to emerge as a total midfield group and not just in outstanding leaders as Baird and Valenti. They're not going to do it on their own, so our volume we have needs to keep improving all the time."

The undefeated Port Melbourne will try to extend their winning streak this week against the Northern Blues at home, whilst North Ballarat will meet top four contenders the Casey Scorpions in a tough contest away.

130 YEARS

Every leather Sherrin is made today the very way T.W. Sherrin intended back in 1880. We carefully hand-make every ball using our rigorous 23 step process; each ball is masterfully cut and perfectly stitched by hand. There are some things that will never change.

2012 Youth Girls Victorian & AFL Victoria Development Teams Announced

AFL Victoria is pleased to announce the 2012 Victorian and AFL Victoria Development Youth Girls teams. The fifty-four girls selected across both teams will compete at the 2012 AFL National U18s Youth Girls Championships in Adelaide from May 14-19.

A squad of eighty has been training weekly at the Calder Cannons TAC Cup club in preparation for the Championships since the end of February, with some girls travelling over three hours to get to training.

Represented in the Victorian team are Victorian Premier's Award recipient, Ellie Blackburn and Rhiannon Banner, sister of Port Adelaide Football Club's Mitchell Banner. The youngest member of the team is Newtown & Chilwell FC's

Lily Mithen, who turned fourteen last month. She will make her National Championships debut alongside other debutants in Bonnie Griffiths and Brittany Bonnici who started their football careers at Stawell JFC and Wallan JFC respectively.

AFL Victoria's Development Youth Girls team will enjoy a Tasmanian flavour this year. Tasmanian Women's Football League players, Maddie Smith and Kiara Foley have been selected as part of an AFL initiative to ensure that Australia's best talent has the opportunity to play representative football, regardless of their own State's development of Youth Girls football. Former Tasmanian women's team representative, Emma Oliver, has been selected after moving to Victoria this year. Maddie Smith is a current senior All-Australian representative, after an outstanding performance at last year's AFL National Women's Championships.

AFL Victoria's Development team is mostly comprised of debutants, as we seek to invest in our newer and younger players, whilst there are more country representatives than ever before. The team includes strong football pedigrees in Lucy Schneider, younger sister of Hawthorn Football Club rookie Tom, and Georgia Watson, sister of VFL North Ballarat FC player Thomas.

AFL Victoria congratulates all girls on their commitment and tireless work over the selection journey and looks forward to seeing the two teams' development over the Championships.

MERV KEANE – WESTERN JETS FIRST COACH

MERV Keane's memories of the TAC Cup burn bright.

While the clock may have ticked over an extraordinary 21 seasons since Keane coached Western Jets in the inaugural season of the TAC Cup, time has not dimmed what was the start of something incredibly special.

The TAC Cup is now universally known as the nursery to the AFL. It doesn't surprise Keane that the TAC Cup has furnished into an elite development competition.

Keane vividly recalls one of the players from that first season back in 1992 – Dustin Fletcher, who remarkably is still playing AFL with more than 350 games to a CV that places him up with the all-time greats.

The former Richmond premiership player described Fletcher as a player of "freakish" talent even back then.

"He was an absolute freak show. I didn't think there was anything you needed to teach him," Keane said.

"Expert coaches will tell you that you can always teach something, but to this day I doubt there is anyone who has had the need to teach him anything.

"You may harden up, get mentally stronger as time goes on, but his footy brain was absolutely elite at that age.

"The proof of that was the very next year he played on (Stephen) Kernahan in the Grand Final just pretty much sums it all up."

Keane recalled a match from that 1992 season at Arden Street where the Jets played Southern Stingrays where Fletcher went head-to-head with Justin Leppitsch in the ruck.

He viewed it as "two young tyros" going at it from different perspectives: Leppitsch going at it 100 kilometres an hour with Fletcher working at all the nuances of how to beat his opponent.

"It was just a cracker," said Keane, who later coached Williamstown and is now senior recruiting officer at Essendon.

"And, in the Grand Final that year he played on Matty Primus at the MCG. They are the two great memories I have of him, he's still the same person and still the same footballer."

Fletcher was not the only player that Keane fondly recalls. Craig Ellis, who went on to play 122 games with Western Bulldogs and Melbourne; Craig Jennings now the Football Knowledge Manager at Essendon, also played for the Jets in the TAC Cup inaugural year.

Paul Satterley, a Liston Trophy winner, coach of Northern Knights, Werribee and now an assistant coach at Melbourne, is another player who played under Keane in the TAC Cup expansion year.

Keane worked alongside Kinnear Beatson, the Jets Regional Manager, who is the Sydney Swans Player Personnel Manager, after working with Brisbane during its halcyon days.

"Kinnear was an absolute master as a Regional Manager. He really set the tone for future standards of the TAC Cup," Keane said.

"The TAC Cup has been a fantastic success. Kids aspire to play in the TAC Cup, it's a great breeding ground."

- Cadeyn Williams

DURING his formative years Cadeyn Williams displayed talent as a swimmer, but it's as a footballer that he hopes to make a bigger splash.

Williams kicked a competition high seven goals, the most he's ever kicked in a single match, as Murray Bushrangers defeated Geelong Falcons by 34-points in Round 4.

"The boys were delivering the ball straight down my throat. I could not ask for any better," Williams said.

While Williams displayed his talent in front of goals, the Cobram Secondary School Year 12 student is not a one-trick pony.

Bushrangers coach Darren Ogier has played Williams a variety of positions during his two seasons with Murray, but decided to play him in attack against the Falcons.

"We knew they weren't extremely big down back so we thought if we could get him deep we might get the right match up," Ogier said.

"Cadeyn took it from there, started well and continued on for the rest of the day.

"He's very versatile, he can play forward or back and he can pretty much run through the midfield as well.

"He's a very good mark, particularly one out. He certainly has a few strings to his bow."

Williams performance earned him the maximum three votes in the TAC Cup Coaches Award, something both coach and player hope will propel him into forcing his way into the Vic Country squad for the upcoming NAB AFL Under 18 Championships.

While there may be more glamour kicking goals, Williams said he really doesn't mind where he plays.

Williams said the most important thing was playing in a position where he could help the club win.

"I don't mind going down back, playing one on one. Beating your opponent is always good," Williams said.

"Wherever the coach wants to play me, I'm happy to play there. It really doesn't bother me where I play."

Ogier noted that selfless attitude serves Williams well.

"The best thing about him is that he will do his job for the team where ever he is played," he said.

Last season, Ogier played Williams on Gippsland Power's Clay Smith, subsequently drafted by Western Bulldogs and already made his AFL debut. It was all part of the learning process.

The Bushrangers coach noted that Williams has matured and is showing the benefits of a hard-working pre-season.

MURRAY BUSHRANGERS
CADEYN WILLIAMS

He said Williams, like so many of aspiring young players have a number of fundamentals they need to work on. For Williams there was an emphasis on repeat efforts, change of direction, agility.

"It has certainly paid dividends," Ogier said.

"He's certainly a big strong boy who hates getting beaten in a contest. He's had a good day, but the challenge ahead is for him to back that up.

"He has a number of strings to his bow and his flexibility allows us to throw him into a number of positions."

While Williams said he enjoyed his swimming, these days his sporting focus is all on football.

- Jake Calvert

DEVELOPMENT is one of football's great imponderables.

There are no rules, no time frame, no pattern or formula to it. The only given is that each player has his own development clock.

For some it ticks much faster than others. It's one of the reasons why AFL Victoria introduced several years ago a rule that allows clubs to select up to five 19-year-olds on their list each season.

It allows players, deemed to have something to offer, those who have endured injury or others new to the sport, an extra season in the TAC Cup to work on aspects of their game, to enhance their performance and maximise their ability.

Dandenong Southern Stingrays listed five 19-year-olds for the 2012 season – Jake Calvert, Jake Cameron, Rob Hill, Nick Newman and Jack Sheppard.

Stingrays' coach Graeme Yeats said the quartet all had attributes that, with a further season in the competition behind them, could help to realise their potential.

Already, Yeats has seen one of the four – Jake Calvert – display the talent that he believed the teenager possessed.

After what can only be described as two so-so games, Calvert had a break out match against North Ballarat Rebels as the Stingrays posted their first win for the season.

Nothing seemed beyond Calvert who collected 23 possessions, won 11 hit outs, grabbed five marks, laid four tackles and kicked two goals in a game that earned him the maximum votes in the TAC Cup Coaches award.

Yeats said Calvert's first couple of games were fair, but against the Rebels he burst out.

"We saw on that weekend what he's capable of, he dominated," Yeats said.

"He was just a different player, something clicked and he was just enormous, he was everywhere.

"He took a pack mark, fell on the ground, jumped up, ran around the guy on the mark. He was playing like a 180cm midfielder.

"He took a couple of really big pack marks. He sort of played like a midfielder and he's 192 cm and 95 kilos.

"It was really pleasing to see him perform at that level."

Yeats described Calvert as a "big, strong type, like a Chris Dawes although not quite as tall", but whose full talent hasn't been realised.

He said Calvert didn't play much as a 17-year-old, but played 15 games last season.

The Stingrays coach wonders if Calvert realises how "powerful" a player he could be, but to do that he needed to ramp up his intensity.

"He can be a bit matter-of-fact, a bit care free. Hopefully, he can now see what he can do," Yeats said.

"I could just see Jake being a really good player if he could maintain a level of intensity.

"We look at players who haven't been exposed to the program when looking at the 19-year-olds we will list.

"There are plenty of kids out there, it's just a matter of timing in their development."

Around the grounds - TAC Cup

EACH week we will take a look at some of the news and views from around the TAC Cup competition.

AFL DEBUTS

Jack Crisp has surpassed AFL listed teammates by being named in the Brisbane Lions clash last weekend against the Gold Coast Suns at the Gabba.

Crisp hails from Myrtleford in Victoria's north and played his TAC Cup football in 2010 and 2011 at the Murray Bushrangers.

The 190cm left footer was overlooked in 2011 National Draft, but was later selected by the Lions in the AFL Rookie Draft at number 40.

Crisp did not take a backwards step on Saturday evening, accumulating 17 disposals, 4 tackles and kicking 3 behinds in the Lions 65 point win over the Suns.

ACADEMY PROGRAMS

Under 16, Futures (U17) and Under 18 Academy's are all currently taking part in Squad Training Sessions and Trial Matches as they gradually decrease their lists leading into the National Championships. Watch this space for the announcement of final teams.

NAB AFL RISING STAR NOMINATIONS

Mitch Wallis, son of former Bulldogs captain Steve Wallis, has upheld the reputation of his family name by being selected as the Round Four NAB AFL Rising Star nominee. Mitch has followed in his father's footsteps, being recruited by the Western Bulldogs in the 2010 NAB AFL Draft.

Wallis played his TAC Cup football at the Calder Cannons' where he was part of a premiership winning team in 2010 and recipient of the TAC Cup Medal for the best player in the grand final.

The 19-year-old midfielder played an impressive game in the Bulldogs' 21-point win over Melbourne at the MCG on Sunday.

Mitch finished the game with 22 possessions and seven tackles, whilst notching up his first AFL goal.

SEEING DOUBLE

Last Saturday brought about the display of a few considerable TAC Cup victories, with Sandringham defeating Eastern by 100 points and Calder overpowering Western by 112 points. However, it was the final quarter of each match that had interested followers seeing double. Both the Sandringham Dragons and the Calder Cannons recorded a 9.5.59 last term against their differing opponents. These two teams met in Round 2 which resulted in Sandringham finishing with a 67 point win. They meet again in Round 9, which should present a tighter contest.

PAUL, NOT PETER

New Vic Country Under 16 coach Paul 'Henry' Henriksen went under a new alias in the country weekend up in Bendigo, when everyone referred to him as Peter. We must apologise to Paul for not only getting his first name wrong in the Record that week, but also his last name.

AIS-AFL Academy European Tour

ASK Lachie Plowman the highlight of the AIS/AFL Academy tour of Europe and you're greeted with a long pause.

Understandable, really, when you consider what unfolded on the recent two week trip: playing a match on the MCG; training at the elite AIS European Training Centre; playing against the European Legion Squad at Surrey Park and the European Titans at the Chantilly Polo Club.

And, then there was the inspirational visit to Villers Bretonneux, the small French town that witnessed Australian heroics during World War 1; the beauty of Lake Como or the majesty of the Eiffel Tower.

Little wonder that Plowman found it hard to isolate one standout moment.

"It was all awesome, we got so much out of it," Plowman said "Being with the group for two weeks, training together and just the lifestyle of a footballer – training, recovery, watching what you eat, just being around each other.

"We got to visit some amazing places, meet interesting people."

The AIS/AFL tour unofficially began at the MCG where the team took on VFL club Box Hill Hawks as a curtain raiser to the Carlton/Richmond blockbuster.

One of the many opponents Plowman had was Jarrad Boumann and while the AIS/AFL held their own in the first half they were over run in the second half to lose by 31-points.

"By the end of the game the atmosphere was getting pretty big. It was great," enthused

Plowman. "Playing on the MCG was unreal."

After a 22-hour flight, the group, including head AIS/AFL Academy coach Michael O'Loughlin, Essendon legend Matt Lloyd and Hawthorn great Robert Dipierdomenico, arrived in Milan and headed to the AIS European Training Centre in Gavirate.

Plowman said the training facilities were something like he'd never experienced and the opportunity to train under the supervision of the coaches was every young player's dream.

After the experience at the European Training Centre, the AIS/AFL flew into London ahead of their match against the European Legion Squad, an under 21 team, at Surrey Sports Park.

While the scoreline was lopsided – the AIS/AFL Academy won by 22 goals – Plowman was impressed by talent displayed by the opposition. "They showed a lot given they had only played the game for a few years," he said.

From London the group caught a train to Paris and from there they travelled to Villers Bretonneux, a small French town which was the site of the 1918 World War 1 battle where the Australian spirit is still talked about.

The Germans took the town, but by the following day the Australian-led forces had recaptured it, albeit at a loss of more than 1000 lives.

The AIS/AFL Academy visited the war museum and Australian War Memorial, which honours all those who lost their lives fighting for their country.

Afterwards, the group conducted a clinic for more than 300 primary school children. "We walked in and they were all cheering, it was unreal," Plowman said.

Wrapping up the playing side of the tour, the AIS/AFL Academy team defeated the European Titans, an under 25 team, at Chantilly Polo Club by 167-points.

"The whole trip was unreal, I'll never forget it," Plowman said.
