Recognising umpires

Umpires play an integral part in our game every week, and this round we recognise their role in our matches.

THIS weekend at football grounds throughout the country we celebrate Umpiring Round.

It is a celebration where everyone – players, coaches, administrators and, you, the fans – can participate by simply recognising, embracing, appreciating, respecting and thanking umpires for the role they play in the game.

The importance of umpires can't be understated: no umpires, no game.

Like footballers, umpires are committed, disciplined and passionate athletes who want to get the best out of themselves. Included in this edition of the Peter Jackson VFL and TAC Cup Record there are several insightful vignettes about what drives some of our field, boundary and goal umpires.

The overriding theme is that umpires also love the game. With the support of the umpiring development efforts of community football Leagues around the State, AFL Victoria provides a clearly defined pathway for umpires. Just last year four umpires from the VFL senior panel progressed to the AFL panel.

And in past years we've seen Ray Chamberlain, Michael Vozzo, Chris Donlon and Heath Ryan graduate from the VFL to AFL umpiring ranks. As Kevin Mitchell, the AFL Victoria Director of Umpiring, noted in a story inside this issue the Victorian football network is the biggest provider of umpires to the AFL. About 75 per cent of those on the AFL umpires list come from the Peter Jackson VFL and TAC Cup competition ranks after commencing within Victoria's network of community football Leagues both metro and country. There is a strong commitment from AFL Victoria and all community Leagues to provide well prepared umpires. Umpires have repeatedly shown they are up for such a challenge.

More and more young people are being attracted to umpiring with the average age for field, and boundary umpires in both the AFL Victoria Development and Senior squads all under 25. Community Leagues are also reporting similar reductions in average ages within their umpiring groups.

Such a spike in numbers of young people wishing to pursue a career of umpiring can be linked to a commitment, beginning at community level, of creating a positive, inclusive and welcoming environment.

Just recently, 18 year old Annie Mirabile umpired a 1st Division senior men's game in the Southern Football League, she won plaudits from all concerned for her control and management of the game. As we have noted in these editorials previously, it's crucial that football fans treat all people with respect and that includes umpires.

Retention of umpires remains an issue and there is a correlation between umpires leaving the game and unacceptable behaviour on match day.

It is vital that players, coaches, administrators and fans behave appropriately and carry themselves in a manner that they, too, would like to be treated. There is no place in the game for umpires to be abused or vilified. No other work place accepts such action so why should it be any different on the football field? Umpires, like players, coaches and fans, become involved because they enjoy the game. Let's ensure that enjoyment isn't compromised – it's a responsibility we all share. Remember, umpiring is everyone's business

Umpiring Round

JUST like players and coaches aiming to progress to the next level, so too are many of our umpires aiming to join the ranks of the AFL.

Today in the AFL Victoria Record, we look at some of the stories of umpires progressing through the ranks, and the steps they need to take to achieve their goals.

LIKE aspiring footballers there is a clear, structured pathway for umpires in Victoria.

And, no different from footballers, umpires – field, boundary and goal – begin officiating in local country or suburban games.

There are 38 umpiring groups in Victoria, which all have a coach, who can nominate umpires to the AFL Victoria

VFL umpiring department for a trial.

Each October umpires receive a document which outlines what is expected from them in terms of fitness bench marks – minimum skin folds etc. For field umpires it is 85 millimetres; boundary umpires (80) and goal umpires (100).

Umpires have a training program to do on-line and from early January they train at Victoria Park where there is a four kilometre trial, a five one kilometre repetitive test and what's called the yo-yo test, similar to the beep test.

All have bench marks that the umpires need to achieve and if they trial satisfactorily they are placed on the AFL Victoria VFL Development panel list. It comprises 24 field umpires, 23 boundary umpires and 14 goal umpires.

The next step is the AFL Victoria VFL senior panel where there are 23 field umpires, 23 boundary and 15 goal umpires.

Average age on the senior panel for field umpires is 25 – 20 on the Development list; boundary umpires 23 (senior list)/ 19 (development) and 28 for goal umpires/ 21 (development).

Since 2008 there have been 10 field umpires, 12 boundary umpires and five goal umpires who've graduated from the VFL to AFL.

Included in the field umpires is 'Razor' Ray Chamberlain, Michael Vozzo, Chris Donlon

Former VFL umpire Ray Chamberlain.

and Heath Ryan.

Kevin Mitchell is the AFL Victoria State Director of Umpiring. He has a staff of 58 part-time coaches/observers, trainers, physios, sports physiologists, Mitchell noted there are four members of the AFL Victoria VFL senior umpire panel that are on the AFL Umpires rookie panel.

Jack Edwards is in his first season on the VFL senior panel. Edwards spent three seasons on the Development list and according to Mitchell had to “do a lot of work to give himself the opportunity to progress his career”.

“He’s come back and has umpired senior VFL this year,” Mitchell said.

Edwards, now in his ninth season of umpiring, is one of those umpires who have graduated from the Development list.

The 26-year-old followed his father who umpired in the local leagues. Initially, he took umpiring to “earn a bit of pocket money” in the Northern Football League.

After beginning at the junior level he advanced to the seniors, which led to him gaining a chance to trial before the AFL Victoria VFL umpire group.

“A lot of sacrifices come with it. Training is two nights a week and then train on the other nights, but it has been good,” Edwards said.

Mitchell noted the step up is high when umpires are expected to umpire TAC Cup and AFL Victoria Development League games.

He added umpires have a certain amount of time to try to progress their career. On an average Mitchell said he hopes umpires spend about three years on the Development panel.

“If they can’t progress their career to our senior panel then they would go back to local footy. Some might come back for a second try out, others will stay umpiring local footy.”

Umpires are observed every week, video-tracked and all their free kicks are record by Champion Data and provided on a DVD.

Training consists of two sessions per week at Victoria Park with a compulsory program for another four nights a week.

How stringent are they? "Well, if you don't meet them, you don't progress," Mitchell said.

For an umpire to be considered worthy of recommendation to the AFL, the bare minimum requirement is to have umpired a VFL Grand Final.

"It might mean I nominate one, two or three umpires or the emergency as well. It is a maximum of four," Mitchell said.

"But how many go up to the AFL also depends on how many vacancies there are."

Mitchell doesn't hide from the fact that expectation on umpires is immense.

"The VFL is the biggest provider of umpires to the AFL. About 75 per cent of those on the AFL umpires list would come from the VFL.

"There is a strong commitment from us to provide well prepared umpires. If they do make it they are very well-drilled umpires who can perform to a high level.

"Like playing, not everyone can make it, but we are looking at umpires who can progress their career to be the best in the State."

It's not just at TAC Cup and Peter Jackson VFL level where umpire levels are strong.

Neville Nash, the AFL Victoria

Umpiring Development Manager, noted that umpire levels in metropolitan Melbourne is the "best it has ever been."

Nash said there was an upward spike in numbers as evidenced by the fact that last year the Yarra Junior Football League 'got to the stage where they were considering not taking any further umpire registrations.'

He said the interest had been generated by community leagues in creating a positive environment not only for umpires, but for the players and fans.

"The football coaches all realise the responsibility they have in the game. Not just to their players, but their club, supporters and umpires," Nash said.

"I think that environment is why kids want to become umpires and umpiring is fun and it gives people a great network opportunity.

"Umpiring develops very good life skills – leadership, decision making, managing people – for the rest of their life.

"It really is firing on all cylinders. We can't sit back and expect it to continue, but our community leagues are forever working hard to get that positive environment."

Umpire Milestones

LAST weekend in the Peter Jackson VFL, two umpires officiated in their 100th game each. We caught up with both umpires during the week.

DAMIEN CUSACK - 100TH GAME

Damien Cusack can empathise with any batsman stranded in the 90s.

For the best part of eight months, Cusack was left on 99 games after he suffered a stress fracture in his tibia Round 19 last year.

Not only did it push back his 100th game running the boundary in the VFL, but also erased any chance of officiating in the finals.

"It was a sudden injury," said Cusack, who added it was frustrating to see his season end so unexpectedly.

It was not until mid-February that Cusack was able to again complete a full training session and last weekend the 28-year-old posted his 100th VFL game.

Demands on umpire's fitness are no less than players as Cusack explained boundary umpires have to meet certain bench marks in four kilometre time trials as well as five one kilometre runs.

"And we have an on-line training program that we are expected to meet each week and the coaching department know just exactly how much training you are doing," Cusack said.

"Every week you have to be 100 per cent or there will be a young guy waiting to take your spot. You have to be switched on every week and every decision you make has to be a winner."

After just one season running the boundary in the VAFA Cusack was invited to trial with the VFL and 11- years later he hasn't looked back.

"It's a dream to make it to the AFL. Hopefully, if I can get fit and stay healthy, I can push to get promoted."

STEVEN PIPERNO - 100TH GAME

AS a 15-year-old Steven Piperno was looking to boost his bank balance. It led to him taking up goal umpiring.

Ten years later it has, as Piperno noted, turned into a "mini career".

"I love getting out there and playing my role. It's great fun, the camaraderie between the guys is fantastic and I've made some lifelong friends."

Piperno began goal umpiring back in the VAFA in 2003 and moved to the VFL in 2006.

It's simply not a matter of rocking up to a game and heading down behind the goals with a couple of flags, a pad and pen.

"People are constantly blown away by the fitness requirements we need," Piperno said.

"But, it's good to promote a healthy image. Being fit helps combat fatigue and keeping up concentration levels throughout a game."

Highlight of Piperno's career is 10 finals, including last year's VFL Grand Final (Piperno features on today's Record cover).

"That was definitely the highlight of my career so far. The rivalry of the clubs, the build-up, the anticipation, it was a really special week.

"The game was such a high standard, it created a great atmosphere and it was a real highlight to be involved."

Harris now an AFL rookie

BY his own admission David Harris wasn't good enough to play football, but that didn't mean he couldn't be involved in the game.

Harris played a season with Panmure, a small town about 25 kilometres from Warrnambool, but given his small stature he found it hard to get involved.

"My school principal was involved with the umpires and he suggested I come up and have a run around and earn $3.50 a game or whatever it was," Harris said.

"Ever since then it's all I've done and it's been fantastic. You get to meet a heap of great people, watch a heap of great footy players and you get the best seat in the house," Harris said.

From 1996 to 2000, Harris ran the boundary and was recognised with multiple Grand Finals in the Hampton Football League. The natural progression was to switch to field umpiring.

After beginning in the Under 14s and 16s, Harris graduated to senior football.

In 2004 Harris tried out for the VFL Development List, but injured himself and erased half that season. "But it gave me a good insight into what was needed to take that next step," Harris said.

"I went back, umpired the highest level I could do – the Hampton Football League Grand Final – and after that I thought I was ready to have another go at the VFL."

Harris was successful in 2007

when he was appointed to the VFL Development list, where he umpired TAC Cup and VFL Development League games.

He was elevate to the VFL senior panel in 2010 where he umpired 10 games and last season took his umpiring to a new level where he was awarded the Peter Jackson VFL Grand Final.

Now, Harris, 27, has his sights set on moving to the AFL.

"If you apply yourself right there is nothing stopping you. It's not like you have to do an apprenticeship," Harris said.

After last year, Harris was elevated to the AFL Umpire rookie list, where he trains once a week with the AFL umpire squad and sits on the bench in AFL games for about 10 matches throughout the season.

It allows emerging umpires like Harris to listen to how the umpires communicate, handle a match and gain an appreciation of what is required to umpire at the game's elite level.

For example, Harris umpired the Round 5 match between Port Melbourne and North Ballarat on the Saturday then sat on the bench for the Geelong/Richmond match the next day.

During the pre-season Harris umpired several NAB Cup games, which only served to whet his appetite to aspire to reach the AFL.

"You have to work hard and we have a high standard that we have to maintain. Our benchmarks are not too far off what those are in the AFL," Harris said.

So, what does Harris need to do to reach his goal?

Harris noted it's important that he continues to run to the right spots where he can observe clearly the play, communicate articulately the decision and not pay what he calls 'soft' decisions.

"You want the footy to be the showcase not the umpiring to overshadow the game itself."

Umpire David Harris.

Lock joins Hawks

HERE'S one for the Trivia buffs. Who was the first captain of expansion club Gold Coast?

If you said Gary Ablett, you're wrong. That honour goes to Marc Lock. Marc who?

Lock, captain of the club when it played in the TAC Cup in 2009, retained the position when the club progressed to the VFL in 2010.

Ablett assumed captaincy, not surprisingly, when the Suns debuted in the AFL last season and while Lock stayed on its list he did not play a senior game.

At the end of the season, Gold Coast delisted Lock, who, aged 20 had to find another club in a bid to relaunch his AFL career.

Former Gold Coast Sun, Marc Lock.

Lock and his manager decided that the Peter Jackson VFL was the best competition outside the AFL and once that was decided it was then a matter of selecting a club.

What swayed Lock to Box Hill Hawks is the club's extraordinary record of having players selected at the AFL National/Rookie or Pre-Season Drafts.

Ex-Hawthorn premiership captain Sam Mitchell headlines the 23 players that have been drafted from the VFL Hawks since 2001.

Lock said Box Hill Hawks offered him what he thought was his best chance to re-ignite interest from AFL clubs.

"I still have strong ambitions of playing AFL football," Lock said.

"I'd spoken to Sammy Iles (Box Hill best and fairest winner in 2009) and he said just what a good club it is.

"Box Hill has that strong case of getting guys drafted or re-drafted."

From the time the VFL practice matches began, Lock said he realised the difference between the Queensland Football League and VFL was Grand Canyon-like in terms of intensity, hardness, speed and skill.

Lock said he realised he needed to "put his head down" and ramp up his work load so he could make as seamless a transition as possible.

And, he also had to come to terms with playing on grounds far less expansive than what is found in the QAFL.

Football aside, Lock also had another reality check – he needed employment outside playing football. He gained one in Doncaster.

"It's the first job I've ever had. I went straight from school to playing football," he said

"I had a great time with the Suns, but I wasn't surprised when I was delisted. They have a great list and a lot of young kids coming on."

While he's taken time to find his feet, Lock said he's feeling more comfortable and as a result there's more consistency in his game.

Lock realises he needs to work on his disposal efficiency, but believes that will come as the season progresses and all the players gain a greater appreciation of the team structures and roles they have to play.

"We can match it with the best of them when we do play our best. It's just a matter of putting in that consistent four quarter effort," Lock said.

Lock has a burning desire to ensure that he's remembered more than the answer to a trivia question.

Feels like home for Cook

IN many ways Myke Cook finding himself at Sandringham this season was a home coming.

After Adelaide Crows delisted him at the end of last season following four seasons with the AFL club, Cook returned home to a club that he'd had ties with during his development years.

Cook grew up in Parkdale, followed the Zebras as he was growing up and played with Sandringham Dragons in the TAC Cup.

"Being around home and playing for the club that was most local really appealed," Cook said.

"And, Sandringham has such a rich history that it really was a pretty easy decision to make."

What also helped is that one of his mates, Michael Lourey also plays with the Zebras and he knew several other players.

Unlike others who find excuses to explain outcomes, Cook refreshingly said he had his chances at the Crows, but was unable to cement a position.

After Adelaide drafted him with selection No 38 at the 2007 NAB AFL Draft, Cook made his AFL debut in 2009, played three games that season, nine the following season and three last year for a grand total of 14.

Cook thought he played consistent football with South Adelaide in the SANFL, but not as dominant as he'd hoped.

He realised that 2011 shaped as a watershed season. Crows coach Neil Craig told him at the start of pre-season that his "head was on the chopping board" and he had to do something special.

"I think I was pretty close to it, but unfortunately I did my ankle with about seven rounds to go when I was in really good form," Cook said

"I learned a lot over the four years and I've taken it into my game this year.

"I'm hoping that if I have a consistently good season that I can get picked up at the end of the year and if not this year then the year after.

"I'm going to keep trying to get drafted again."

Cook is keen to be involved in the VFL representative match against Tasmania at Bellerive Oval later this month, a match that historically throws up players before AFL recruiters.

Already, in the first six rounds, Cook has made his presence felt. The 22-year-old is appreciative of returning to the game style of the VFL.

"I like the VFL a fair bit better than the SANFL. There is always a consistent amount of AFL players to match yourself up against," Cook said.

"It's always a good challenge and there's always recruiters out there watching and I'm hoping to be in the VFL team and then play finals with Sandy."

Hughes back at work

IT'S every footballer's dream to make a living out of the game, but the truth of the matter is you can't play for ever even if you're Dustin Fletcher.

At some point reality has to kick in and for Danny Hughes that moment arrived at the end of the 2011 season.

After spending two lots of two seasons at Melbourne followed by a season at Subiaco, Hughes decided that he needed to compliment his love of the game with gaining full time employment.

"I had a ball, loved playing at Subiaco. It was hard to leave, but I knew I was always coming home," Hughes said.

"I really needed a job out of football."

Hughes was unsure where he was going to play football when he returned to Melbourne, but the one, non-negotiable, he told his manager was that wherever he played there had to be a job attached.

Box Hill Hawks president Tony Pinwill delivered with a job at Veolia and Hughes found himself at his third VFL club.

Hughes began his career at Sandringham in 2005, straight out of the Sandringham Dragons, and experienced playing with the Zebras during the club's greatest ever era.

Melbourne rookie listed him in 2006 and he spent a further two seasons with Sandringham before being delisted at the end of 2007.

He stayed at the Zebras at the suggestion of Melbourne, who re-rookie listed him for the 2009-10 seasons although by '09 the Demons had moved their alignment to Casey Scorpions.

Hughes was elevated to the primary list in '10 and made his AFL debut against Western Bulldogs and followed that up with a game against West Coast the following week.

Fate dealt Hughes a cruel blow not long after where he tore ligaments in an ankle, which put him out for nine weeks and ultimately ended his AFL career before it really got going.

Hughes chose to move west last season where he thought the bigger grounds in the WAFL would showcase better his speed and stamina in the hope that it would reignite interest from an AFL club.

When it didn't Hughes decided to return to his home state.

While he now finds himself on the flip side of an alignment where there are no guarantees of selection, Hughes said that situation suits him fine.

"That's the best thing about it. If there is pressure for spots everyone is going to be trying to playing at their best," Hughes said.

"There have been some of the Hawthorn guys playing in our Development League team so that shows the Box Hill guys have really stepped up."

Hughes knows that Box Hill Hawks still haven't realised their potential and when they do he's confident the club can have a significant say in determining the best club in 2012.

Ford Coaches Player of the Year Award

THE 2012 Peter Jackson VFL Season brings with it the introduction of a VFL Coaches Player of the Year Award.

Coaches will vote on players from the opposition team that they believe to have been the most influential on the match and on their team's performance.

All votes – on a three, two and one basis – are submitted to AFL Victoria after each match. The voting tally will be featured on the Peter Jackson VFL website for the first half of the season as well as in the AFL Victoria Record.

The player awarded the Ford Coaches Player of the Year Award will win the use of a Ford vehicle for six months.

The leader board after Round 6 is:

PLAYER	CLUB	VOTES
John Baird	Port Melbourne	14
Liam Hoy	North Ballarat	9
Ben Warren	Werribee Tigers	8
Sam Dwyer	Port Melbourne	7
Ben Jolley	Williamstown	7
Adam Marcon	Northern Blues	7
Lachlan Delahunty	Frankston	6
Ben Duscher	Bendigo	6

Condy back at Geelong

IF you reckon Geelong VFL recruit Rob Condy looks familiar, well, you're right.

While Condy spent last season playing with Collingwood, this is not the first season he's played with the VFL Cats.

Condy played with Geelong in 2005-06-07 as a top-up player, but injuries seemed to stalk him.

First, there was a stress

New Cats recruit, Rob Condy

fracture in a leg then he broke a thumb. "They were the only injuries I've ever had in my life, I was just a bit unlucky at that stage," Condy said.

"It put a bit of a dampener on things and after that I went overseas and played cricket in England."

Condy played for Retford in the Nottingham Premier League, where he more than acquitted himself well.

For Condy the break from football proved just the tonic he needed. When he returned from his overseas jaunt his enthusiasm for the game was back to its previous heights.

He played the 2010 season with his junior club Newtown in the Geelong Football League. It renewed his desire to play at a higher level.

"I did one of Nick Maxwell's Leading Locals, which gives you the opportunity to do all your testing," Condy said.

Maxwell puts players through a three kilometre time trial, a beep test, the Nathan Buckley kicking test, 20 metre sprint, agility test, vertical jump as well as skin fold tests.

From that workout, Condy received an invitation from Collingwood VFL coach Tarkyn Lockyer to a pre-season, which resulted in him gaining a spot on the VFL Magpies list.

Condy enjoyed playing again in the VFL, but the travel time from the Geelong area where he lives to the city proved too much so he turned back the clock and tried out for a spot as a top up player with the VFL Cats.

It's worked out well for Condy, who was Geelong's best player when Werribee defeated them under lights at Chirnside Park last month.

Coach Matthew Knights gave Condy the challenging assignment of a run with role on North Melbourne listed player Ben Warren, who was coming off a five goal haul against Burnie in the Foxtel Cup.

Warren was kept to single digit disposals and just the one goal by Condy.

"I had a bit of a run with role and the wet conditions helped, but it was disappointing to lose," Condy said.

"Ben has a huge motor so the challenge was keeping up with him. It was great to be able to play on a guy like that."

While the extent of Geelong injuries determines whether he gains a game each week, Condy doesn't mind.

If he's not playing for Geelong he returns to Newtown, where ex-Cats Brad Ottens and Ryan Gamble as well as his twin brothers Michael and Scott play.

Rob Condy is more than happy with his football lot.

Grand Final Replay

A NEW year and new lists, but the same all encompassing battle between reigning premiers Port Melbourne and runners-up Williamstown will occur this Saturday.

The Peter Jackson VFL match of the round for ABC TV is a cracker, with Port Melbourne taking on Williamstown at North Port Oval in the Grand Final replay. The game is guaranteed to be an exciting contest with Port Melbourne remaining undefeated for 27 matches in top spot, whilst Williamstown sit in third having won their last three games in a row.

Port Melbourne enters this challenging round after a mammoth 126 point win against the Northern Blues last Saturday. Coach Gary Ayres was pleased that his side produced such a significant score against the Northern Blues and was even more impressed by the negating role his defenders were able to play, keeping their opponents to a mere 48 points.

"The ability of the players tackling pressure to dispossess the Blues when they had the ball and numbers at the contest and winning the disputed ball were all factors that go towards being better defensively so it is about what we do when we do not have the ball."

Port Melbourne have been front runners in almost all of their contests this season. This weekend's clash should provide the Club with their first true challenge for the year.

"We are fully aware of how hard this week's game will be and what we aim for every week is to get our processes right and hopefully that gives us the result that we are after.

"Williamstown have been steadily building into better performances since they beat North Ballarat at Ballarat and have been led by Jolly, Goodes and young players like Hill and Redpath. I am sure they will be up for a huge contest as we are old enemies," Ayres said.

Williamstown approaches Round 7 on a high following a nail-biting win against local rivals Werribee.

The Club opened the encounter very slowly and let Werribee take what seemed to be a game winning lead. General Manager, Brendan Curry felt that his side was initially hindered by the Tigers obvious experience.

"We have a very young side and I think it was more the quality and intensity of the Werribee players which resulted in us trailing by 7 goals early last week. Werribee were outstanding early and we couldn't get our hands on the ball."

Nevertheless, Williamstown demonstrated their inherent character by producing a thrilling come from behind victory.

"I think the comeback from our playing group was kick started by our leaders but without doubt all the players responded and lifted which enabled us to get over Werribee in the dying moments last week."

Williamstown enter their battle with Port Melbourne enthusiastically and hungry for a tough challenge.

"We have the highest respect for Port Melbourne and the opportunity to play them on their home ground is a great challenge we look forward to. Peter German and the coaching staff will prepare for Port Melbourne in the same manner we prepare every week.

"To get the result we desire, we will have to produce a 4 quarter team effort with everybody contributing," Curry said.

Around the grounds

Each week we will take a look at some of the news and views from around the Peter Jackson VFL

STATE GAME

The countdown is on to this year's State Game with the Peter Jackson VFL taking on the Tasmanian State League. The game is on Saturday May 26 and will be broadcast live on ABC TV from 1pm. Selectors have been watching numerous games in the early rounds of the season, and the initial squad will be announced in next week's AFL Victoria Record. Port Melbourne premiership coach Gary Ayres will be at the helm of this year's team, and with the way his side is travelling, Ayres is sure to see a few familiar Port faces in the squad when it is announced.

FOXTEL CUP

Williamstown will be continuing the Peter Jackson VFL's representation in the Foxtel Cup next Saturday, May 12. Williamstown will take on the South Adelaide Panthers at the MCG. The game will be broadcast at 11:00am on Fox Footy Live

CASEY CLOSE CALL

Casey Scorpions fans continue to have their hearts tested on a weekly basis, with their team recording their fourth win of the season – all by a goal or under margin. Whilst Casey sits in fourth spot on the ladder, their percentage of 87.24% does not reflect that of a side that has only lost one game for the year. In fact they have the fourth worst percentage in the competition, which is not surprising with wins by 2, 6, 1 and 1 point this year.

After their last 1 point win, they were beaten the following week by Bendigo by 71 points. This week they face Geelong, and they will not have fond memories of their last trip to Simonds Stadium in Rd 18, 2011 when they were defeated by 128 points.

TOP FOUR GO HEAD TO HEAD

Just seven rounds into the season, and already we have a blockbuster round with the top four teams going head to head. Not only do the top four teams battle it out, but six of the top eight sides will all meet in round seven action. The highlight game is the Grand Final replay between Port Melbourne and Williamstown. The Seagulls will be disappointed they are unable to greet the Borough as their first opponent at the refurbished Burbank Oval due to facilities not being completed, but they would love nothing more than to inflict Port's first loss in over 18 months. And just for those fans that will be sitting home to watch this clash on ABC TV, you can be guaranteed that a repeat of their round 20 TV shortened match will not occur this year.

FACEBOOK COMMENTS OF THE WEEK

Round 6 Highlights

Jan Dandridge: The last few minutes of the Williamstown vs Werribee game was so exciting! So glad Willy got up and won!!

Arj Giese: The VFL Cats Forward line is not only looking dangerous for the 2012 VFL season, but for the AFL in years to come. Brown and Kersten are dead eyes, while Walker loves crashing packs. Exciting mosquito fleet too.

Peter Holden: The highlight... that after 3 games, the average winning margin for Port Melbourne at North Port Oval is 89 Points! Welcome to the 'House of Pain'!!!!

Morgan Hancock: How can you go past Casey's never say die effort late in the last term, after being down by more than 2 scoring shots down at the 28 minute mark, they came back. Sam Blease's tackle and goal were amazing!

Coburg bounce back

COBURG is back on the winners list after holding their nerve to beat Box Hill by 13 points at Highgate Recreation Reserve on Saturday, as Adem Saricaoglu reports.

The Tigers held on in a tight second half, gaining momentum to overrun the Hawks, as tough windy conditions played havoc on goal-kicking and provided for a dogged, low-scoring contest.

Goals were hard to come by in the first quarter with Box Hill firing many wayward shots out on the full before Derick Wanganeen finally threaded a classy goal from the pocket at the 22-minute mark.

Coburg's first goal didn't come until the quarter time siren, when Ozgur Uysal pounced and snapped for a brilliant finish.

Box Hill struggled all day to contain Coburg inside defensive 50, and the first signs of trouble arrived early in the second quarter when Coburg captain Nick Carnell marked strongly and goaled to put the Tigers in front.

Coburg's pressure became evident throughout the second term as Box Hill continued to push forward, and again both sides found themselves wasting opportunities in front of goal.

By halftime the Tigers could only manage 4.6, while the Hawks' 4.8 had them two points up.

The game opened up after the main break as both sides traded blows, but it was Box Hill who managed to gain early ascendancy.

Amos Frank's intercept and goal extended Box Hill's lead to nine, but the Tigers were quick to reply.

Eventual best-on-ground Willie Wheeler got Coburg's reply minutes later before Ben Clifton put them in front at the 24-minute mark.

It sparked a purple-patch for the Tigers as they got out to a 16-point lead; however the Hawks managed two late goals to reduce the three-quarter time margin to four.

Coburg's dominant marking inside forward 50 came to the fore in the last term, with Tom Derrickx and Nick Maric both extending the lead, which by the 14-minute mark was extended to a game-high 19 points.

Both McGuane and Rhett Jordan kept Box Hill in the contest with missed opportunities to ice the game for the Tigers, however with the Hawks struggling to find targets up forward, they ran out of time to find a way back.

After the game Coburg coach Adam Potter said it was important for the club to bounce back after a disappointing loss to Frankston a week earlier.

"To come out today and play the way we did with the spirit that we did was fantastic," he said.

"Our guys fought it out right to the end and our ability to continue to put the ball inside 50 and put them under pressure I thought was really good."

The disappointment of dropping a winnable game was evident in the Box Hill rooms after the match.

Coach Damian Carroll said his side missed a golden opportunity to consolidate its ladder position.

"We haven't lost a final but we're bitterly disappointed because there's another opportunity you get each week to step up and perform and we didn't do that and get the win," he said.

Carnell's three goal effort was important for the Tigers, while McGuane's 2.4 proved significant late in the game.

Wheeler, Addam Maric and Christian McErlain were also among Coburg's best performers.

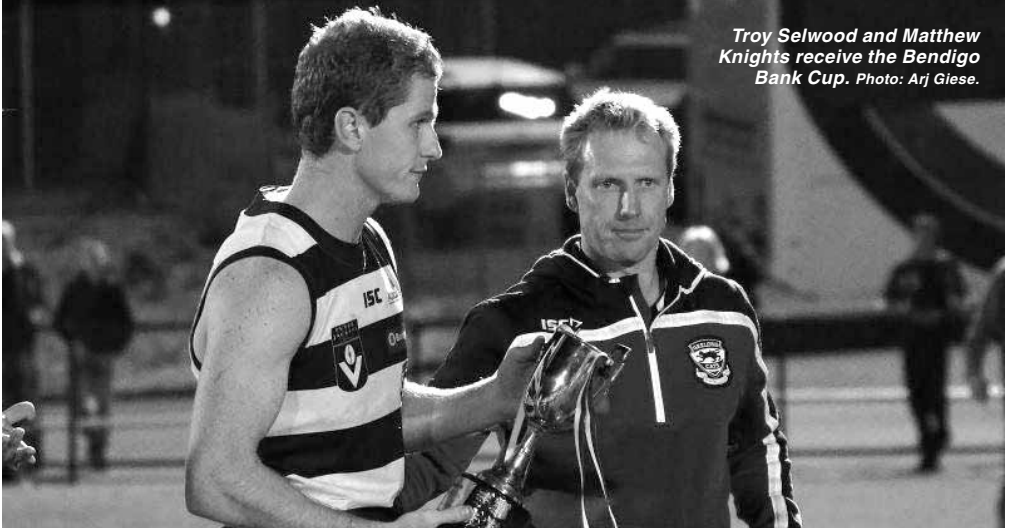

Frank finished with three goals for the Hawks while Brad Hill managed two, with Jarrad Boumann and Clinton Young also named in Box Hill's best.

Box Hill this weekend host Frankston, whilst Coburg faces another top eight side in Werribee Tigers.

Best on ground, Willie Wheeler.

Cats get points under lights

THE Geelong Cats sit in second place on the Peter Jackson VFL ladder after a big Round 6 win over Bendigo Gold at the Queen Elizabeth Oval on Friday night as Peter Shannahan reports.

A large crowd of around 2,000 people witnessed a disappointing display by the local side as Geelong built on an explosive start to run away with an 86-point win.

Mitch Brown was the name on everybody's lips following his nine goal haul but several other Cats also made statements in the cool, still conditions.

Jonathan Simpkin was the dominant midfielder on the ground, with 15 hard-ball-gets amongst his 36 possessions, while Orren Stephenson accumulated 55 hit outs and kicked two goals. Simpkin attacked the stoppages from the first bounce and emerged with the ball more often than not.

After the game Geelong Coach Matthew Knights applauded Simpkin's all-round performance.

'His ball-winning on the inside and then when it was his turn to run and carry on the outside he was really dynamic. Also he was closing space well with tackles. "It's probably the most pleased I've been with Simpkin over the last three or four weeks,' Knights said.

Stephenson controlled the air and Simpkin, Troy Selwood and Shannon Byrnes led the midfield supremacy over their Bendigo Gold counterparts.

Bendigo's Rick Ladson and Jacob Thompson (4 goals) showed some resistance but Geelong had winners all over the ground and the result was never in question.

Brown's performance gave him the record for the most goals in a Peter Jackson VFL game by a Geelong player.

The record was previously shared by Ben Johnson, Scott Simpson and Jason Davenport. The Bendigo defenders were powerless to stop Brown as he kicked goals from contested marks, on the lead, from snapshots and one miraculous kick off the ground from the boundary line.

Geelong's kicking for goal was a feature of their performance, with Brown, Josh Walker (4 goals) and Shane Kersten (3) all booting long goals from various angles.

Geelong Coach Matthew Knights and Captain Troy Selwood accepted the Bendigo Bank Cup after the victory.

Geelong hosts fourth-placed Casey Scorpions in an AFL curtain-raiser on Saturday at Simonds Stadium at 10am, while Bendigo plays Sandringham at Trevor Barker Beach Oval on Sunday at 2pm.

VFL Club Notes

All the latest news, events and match information from inside each VFL club.

BENDIGO: What a fantastic crowd in attendance last Friday night, this was a strong indicator that the Bendigo Football community are keen to support Friday night football and we look forward to another Friday night special at the QEO later in the season. We must however apologise to our supporters and the great group from Geelong as we were surprised by the attendance which clearly stretched the resources to the limit. We thank all patrons for their support and in some cases patience will waiting in extended queues for entry, food and drinks. Thanks to the Sandhurst Football-Netball Club for doing their best with the catering. We all take this on-board and promise more staff next time. Regardless, of a great crowd it was not enough to encourage the lads to get on top of Geelong at any stage. Other than a solid 3rd quarter effort we were outplayed by a very committed Cats team. Congratulations to Geelong for winning the Bendigo Bank Challenge Cup this time around, we remind them that the cup is not the 'Ashes' and we expect it to be back in Bendigo in the not too distant future. Club Memberships, merchandise and a host of other information are available on our new Website – www.bendigofc.com.au and we encourage everyone to get on and check it out the special member offers from our sponsors.

AFL Victoria Umpire Mates Program

THE AFL Victoria Umpire Mates Program enters its 7th year after developing a successful track record in connecting flourishing local umpires with professional AFL umpires.

The program brings together 16 field umpires from leagues around metropolitan Victoria and initiates a relationship for them with one of the seven AFL umpires involved which include Michael Jennings, Stefan Grun, Heath Ryan, Shane McInerney, Stephen McBurney, Troy Pannell and Rob Findlay.

Its aim is to create an environment in which a 'mateship' is formed, which will help the personal development and acquisition of knowledge and skills that are required for young umpires to progress towards an AFL career.

The AFL Umpires involved will mentor each up and coming 'mate' in numerous ways. They will observe the young umpires in their local games, provide feedback, catch up one on one to discuss their experiences and also possibly take their mate to watch an AFL game to talk them through the match play by play.

Andrew Heffernan is a young umpire undertaking his second year in the Victorian Amateur Football Association. Andrew has been paired with AFL umpire, Shane McInerney. Among the many games that Shane has officiated, he has umpired 18 finals, 2 Grand Finals and was awarded the Herald Sun AFL umpire of the year in 2005. Andrew understands the prestige of Shane's role and wants to make the most of the time they will share via the program.

"Shane has 300 plus games of experience. I am going to act like a sponge and take on board all of his knowledge, such as managing a successful work to life balance," Heffernan said.

Shane McInerney started his umpiring career in the Ballarat Football League and has been involved in this program for four years as he has seen it as an opportunity to give back to this local level of football.

"I think this program provides an opportunity for those of us that have been around for a while just to provide a bit of mentoring. It is good to be in a position to pass on our own experiences to guys that have been identified in their own leagues as wanting to challenge themselves.

Shane has a clear message that he reiterates to his mates each and every year.

"I think the best piece of advice I received and the one I pass on to the other guys is to be yourself and don't try and be someone that you see on TV. I like to think that what you learn in umpiring is not too different to what you learn in life," McInerney said.

The AFL Umpires Manager, Jeff Gieschen, is a passionate believer in the program and what it has to offer for aspiring umpires.

"I don't think there are too many other organisations or sports that have been able to manage to put together a program like this. You have umpires at your disposal that have been involved in Grand Finals and All Australians. In some ways it is not dissimilar to a young suburban footballer being mated up with a Jonathan Brown or a Gary Ablett. It is just unheard of and fantastic," Gieschen said.

All participating umpires will have the opportunity to train with their AFL mentor in the next month at Visy Park. This activity will expose these young individuals to the demands of AFL umpiring, both physically and mentally.

Around the grounds - TAC Cup

EACH week we will take a look at some of the news and views from around the TAC Cup competition.

GIPPSLAND CLAIM TOP OF LADDER CLASH

In the battle of the remaining undefeated teams last weekend in the TAC Cup, Gippsland Power prevailed by 13 points over Sandringham Dragons. New Power coach Nick Stevens was pleased with his sides win. "We are very happy with the win over Sandy, they are a great team and club, and it was a very tough game. I think we have had a great pre season and are playing well as a team. I think it has given our team the belief that if they work hard as a team that they are a great team."

STRINGER KICKS 9

Bendigo Pioneers forward Jake Stringer rocketed into the TAC Cup goal kicking top 10 last week with a bag of nine goals in his first match of the season. Pioneers new coach David Newett enjoyed watching the youngsters first up performance for the 2012 season. "It was great to witness Jake's return to TAC Cup football after 12 months out due to injury. He has displayed great commitment to his rehabilitation over the journey enabling him to return to playing. Whilst still regaining match conditioning it was evident on Saturday that he has a great ability to win the contested ball either in aerial contests or at ground level."

AFL DEBUTS

Taylor Adams, a former 2011 Geelong Falcon, made his AFL debut for Greater Western Sydney on Saturday against the Western Bulldogs. The 18 year old displayed no signs of intimidation, amassing 17 disposals and achieving a team high 88% efficiency rate. Adams should receive a call back this weekend when the Club makes their first trip to Melbourne for the season to take on Carlton at Etihad Stadium.

NAB AFL RISING STAR NOMINATIONS

Tomas Bugg from the Greater Western Sydney Giants is the Round Five NAB AFL Rising Star nominee. Tomas represented Gippsland Power in the 2010 TAC Cup before he was prelisted by GWS as a 17 year old.

The 19-year-old utility was one of the Giants' best against the Western Bulldogs at Manuka Oval last Saturday. He played most of the match in defence, moving into the midfield in the final quarter. His opponents included Shaun Higgins, Justin Sherman and Nathan Djerrkura. Tomas finished the match with 28 possessions and seven marks. In 2010, Tomas represented Vic Country in the NAB AFL Under-18 Championships and was a member of the 2010 AIS-AFL Academy Squad.

SANDRINGHAM DRAGONS CONQUER THE WEST GATE BRIDGE

The Sandringham Dragons

will be performing one of their TAC Driving Practice Sessions this weekend when they travel to Avalon Airport Oval. Each member of the Dragons team, whether playing or supporting, will be jumping in the drivers seat to clock some quality time and miles behind the wheel.

The Northern Knights and North Ballarat Rebels will also be conducting their driving activity this weekend for their match at Eureka Stadium.

FACEBOOK COMMENTS OF THE WEEK

Round 5 TAC Cup highlights:

Andrew Couch: Joe Daniher 7 goals. Essendon is getting a steal, even if they have to use their 1st rd pick.

Philip Crooks: I really enjoy the way the Cannons set up there spread on the break there strength in the contest and of course Joe Joel Smith: Working for the Chargers, I don't get to see much of anyone else. Geelong played really well and deserved their 7 goal win. I like their game style, it's fast paced and any opposition that doesn't play goal side will get beaten. They love to kick over the top and run!

HIGHS AND LOWS ROUND 5

Highest Score: Bendigo Pioneers 21.13.139

Lowest Score: Northern Knights 5.9.39

Most goals: Jake Stringer (Bendigo Pioneers) – 9 goals

Biggest quarter: Calder Cannons 9.3.57 (4th qrt).

Daniel Fletcher

HUNDREDS of games as a player and coach have clouded a total recall, but not erased fond memories Daniel Fletcher has of the inaugural TAC Cup season.

Fletcher, who played in Geelong's Under 19s the previous season, played for Geelong Falcons, which consisted of a mix of players from both Geelong and North Ballarat, when the TAC Cup was launched in 1992.

Numbered among Fletcher's teammates were current Port Adelaide coach Matthew Primus, who captained Port and also won a best and fairest, and Matthew Capuano, who played 107 games with North Melbourne and St Kilda. But it was Fletcher who was pivotal in guiding the Falcons to its Grand Final triumph as they defeated Western Jets by seven goals.

"I can remember little bits and pieces, but not that much," Fletcher said.

"Of course, I can remember the Grand Final. We were with (North) Ballarat and sometimes we would train with them and other times we wouldn't meet them until game day."

Such was Fletcher's dominance that he was awarded the TAC Cup medal for best-on-ground and several months later Geelong selected him with its fourth selection, No 61 overall in the Pre-Season Draft.

Fletcher played the one solitary AFL game in two seasons with Geelong before heading to Norwood in the SANFL for one season and then returning home for one season to play with Grovedale in the Geelong Football League.

He then stepped up to play with North Ballarat in the VFL for the next two seasons before an ankle injury forced him out of the game for a couple of years.

Fletcher returned to the Falcons as an assistant coach in 2000 when the club again won the premiership. It was a unique era at the Falcons, who boasted Gary Ablett Jnr, Jimmy Bartel, Amon Buchanan and a year later Luke Hodge and Matt Maguire.

"All those kids were really good players, you could tell then they would make a good go of it and they were also good kids," Fletcher said.

After two years as an assistant coach, Fletcher returned to playing with Grovedale before moving to St Mary's, also in the Geelong Football League, where he played in a premiership before coaching the club for five seasons.

During his tenure, St Mary's won a premiership, but for the first time in 21 years, Fletcher is taking a complete break from football this season.

"It's a little different not having any involvement, but I'm enjoying my rest," Fletcher said.

"The past 21 years seems to have gone pretty quick. I've enjoyed my footy and I still love going to watch."

TAC Cup Coaches Award

- Keegan Shrimpton

BREAK out games evolve for a myriad of reasons. For Calder Cannons ruckman Keegan Shrimpton it was simply game time.

Shrimpton found himself elevated to the No 1 ruckman against Western Jets when the incumbent decided to move on.

It was just the opening that Shrimpton was looking for. He responded with a 29-hit out, 11 possession, seven tackle match that earned him the three votes in the TAC Cup Coaches Award.

"It was great to be the No 1 ruckman and to get all that time on the ball," Shrimpton said.

"Instead of four or five minutes on the footy, I was getting nine, 10 minutes and it allowed me to get into a rhythm. It was a good opportunity to have.

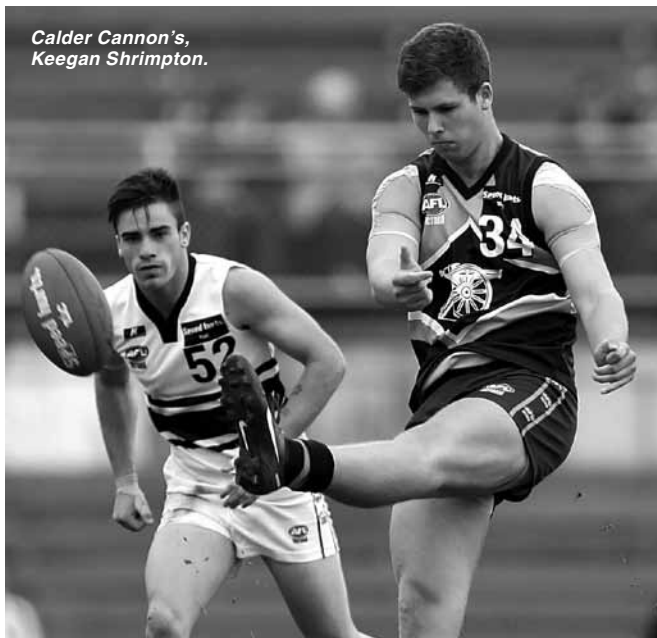

"I'd struggled the past few weeks. It's good to get some confidence up and start playing some good footy.

"I played most of the game, I was around where the ball was, there were a lot of stoppages. I was able to get my hands on the ball and put some pressure on."

Cannons' coach Martin Allison said he could not help but be impressed with the way Shrimpton stepped up, competed and improved as the match progressed.

Allison noted that as Calder took control during a second half where they kicked 16.7 to 4.5 it was largely on the back of Shrimpton's ruck dominance.

Calder Cannon's, Keegan Shrimpton.

"Keegan competed really well, gave first use of the ball to our midfield and the clearances were 41 to 29 and that was as a result of him getting his hand on the ball first and giving the midfielders a bit of an armchair ride," Allison said.

Last year Shrimpton played just three games. He had a shoulder "clean out", but struggled to force his way into the team.

According to the TAC Cup media guide, Shrimpton grew one centimetre to 198cm as well as adding 11kg to take his frame to 104kg.

"I wasn't very strong last year, but I find my strength is one of my best assets this year,"

Shrimpton said.

"I'd like to lose a couple of kilos. I've just got to get some run into my legs and see what happens from there."

While it has been a roller-coaster ride for Calder, Shrimpton said the promising sign is that the team is improving every week.

Shrimpton, in the first year of a commerce degree, said he's channelling all his outside time into his football.

The Cannons could have high single, even double digit players in the Vic Metro squad, but Shrimpton said the spread and depth of talent at the club is such that it could hopefully cover the top end losses.

TAC Cup Coaches Award

- Tom Cutler

ROLE models can never be understated, no matter what walk of life.

For Tom Cutler, former Trinity College schoolmates Dom Tyson and Adam Tomlinson created an indelible imprint.

"I played a lot of school footy with Dom and Adam and they really inspire you to get things done," Cutler said.

"They're great leaders and great people so you can learn plenty of things from them. They certainly inspired me."

Tyson and Tomlinson, both graduates from Oakleigh Chargers, were drafted by Greater Western Sydney last year. Both have already made their AFL debut.

It was after talking with Tyson and Tomlinson that Cutler decided he would devote himself to football this season with Oakleigh Chargers and Trinity.

It was a big call as Cutler played representative basketball for Nunawading Spectres.

Tom Cutler in action for Oakleigh Chargers.

Chargers' coach Justin Wenke said Cutler was matched up on Northern Knights' Matthew Haynes, a member of the AFL/AIS Academy, and more than held his own in the Round 4 match.

Cutler had 21 possessions, took six marks and initiated many forward thrusts as the Chargers posted a 31-point win over the Knights.

It was a performance viewed by both Wenke and Knights' coach Anthony Allen as deserving of the maximum three TAC Cup Coaches Award votes.

"We were really impressed with the way he went about it. Obviously playing on a really good player and giving us some good drive from the backline," Wenke said.

Cutler modestly downplayed his role in the Charger's win, preferring to deflect credit to his teammates as well as lauding Haynes as a player with untapped potential.

"I didn't know much about him (Haynes) before the game, but I just tried to worry him out of getting the footy, but he's a good player," Cutler said.

"It was good just to compete against him."

Cutler's performance should be put in the context that he's a bottom age player, playing just his second TAC Cup match after spending much of his teenage years playing basketball and playing it well.

"I enjoyed playing basketball, but I thought footy might be more my go," Cutler said.

Wenke described Cutler as an exciting prospect with untold upside.

"We had limited access to him in his 16-year-old because of his basketball. We kept trying to involve him with his footy," Wenke said.

"And, late last year he committed to a full pre-season. He's giving his footy a bit of a crack and we're pretty excited about that."

What impresses Wenke quite apart from Cutler's depth and penetration with his kicking is his quick, clean hands in traffic.

Wenke said the ball speed of movement and hand-eye co-ordination was obviously a legacy of his basketball background.

"Tom's use of hands under pressure and his decision making was really good," he said.

"Look, Tom still has to learn about the game, but he's only two games into a competitive football background at this level

"I spoke to Tom after the game and he said he gained some real confidence and belief that he belonged out there."

Cutler, included in the Futures (Metro) Academy, will be lost to the Chargers for a large chunk of the season as he returns to play school football for Trinity, but Wenke is looking forward to when he returns.

Ellis moves to new coaching role

NEW Vic Country coach Mark Ellis hopes the team will play “an exciting” style of game throughout the NAB AFL Under 18 Championships.

Ellis takes over coaching Vic Country from Rob Hyde, who coached the State team for the past five years, including the 2010 Championships title.

He's upbeat about the players who'll be given the honour of representing their State in one of the highlights of the football calendar.

“We want to play an exciting brand of footy. I think our midfield will be okay and we have some good key position players,” Ellis said.

“We want to play a brand of footy that hopefully will get these boys noticed.”

Included in the Vic Country squad is Dandenong Stingray Lachie Whitfield, already widely touted as a top three selection in this year's NAB AFL Draft.

Ellis said in the little he's had to do with Whitfield, he noted it's easy to understand why he's projected so highly.

“He's a terrific kid, he's very level headed,” he said.

After ending a seven-year stint as coach of Bendigo Pioneers, Ellis planned to help out AFL Victoria with its Academy programs.

“The opportunity came up to coach the Vic Country team and I jumped at it,” Ellis said.

“I really enjoyed my time with the Pioneers and now I have the chance to work with all the top kids from the country clubs around Victoria.

“Everyone is trying to run the same program so essentially the transition is not that different. It's a matter of getting to know all the kids as we don't get together all that often.

“From that point of view it's not only exciting from me, but all the other coaches involved.”

Dandenong's Craig Black will look after the midfield; Murray Bushrangers' Leon Higgins is assisting with the midfield; Geelong Falcons' Cameron Loftus is the forward coach and Gippsland Power's Ash Green is the defensive coach.

“All the country TAC Cup coaches have been fantastic with the feedback they have given me about how all their kids are going,” Ellis said.

“It's certainly good to have them involved.”

Late last month about 50 country players competed in a trial match, one of many steps in formulating the squad that will represent Vic Country during the NAB AFL Under 18 Championships.

Performances in the TAC Cup will play a significant role in determining those who will play in the trial match against Vic Metro on May 20. The Vic County squad of 35 won't be finalised until after the Vic Metro trial match.

After the final squad is selected they will prepare for the first match, a trip to Sydney to play New South Wales.

TAC Cup Club Notes

All the latest news, events and match information from inside each TAC Cup club.

BENDIGO: The Bendigo Pioneers would like to thank some of its Player Sponsors for their support in 2012 – Cameron's Fine Jewellers, Swan Hill Packaging, P & A Cua & Sons, Bendigo Radiology, Pohlner Family, Adrienne & Ken Moffat, and Shane and Tania Moffat. We will be holding an event this season to recognise your support of our team which you will be informed of in due course. The Pioneers would also like to thank the Moama Football Netball Club for the use of their ground and facilities for our TAC Cup match versus Calder Cannons. All Pioneers players and parents are invited to attend our after match held in the Moama Social Club after the game.

CALDER: Today we take on the Bendigo Pioneers at Moama Rec Reserve in what should be a great game with both teams coming off good wins last round. The Cannons would like to thank all parents, friends and staff who have travelled to be at the game today to support the boys in this big game. We would also like to thank long term supporters of the club Hydralite for their continued assistance by ensuring our players are always suitably hydrated and in optimum condition for playing and recovery. Be sure to follow the Cannons on Twitter for all the latest @CalderCannonsFC !!

DANDENONG: The Dandenong Southern Stingrays would like to congratulate the 11 Stingrays Under 18 players who were selected into the Vic Country Academy Squad for the upcoming NAB AFL U18 National Championships- -Nick Tuddenham, Clayton McCartney, Billy Rolfe, Billy Hartung, Ryan Morrison, Lachlan Whitfield, Jason Pongracic, Nathan Wright, Matt Rennie, Taylor Garner and Lewis

Pierce, Tim McGennis- we wish all TAC Cup players luck heading into the Championships. Last weekend Mother's Day social event was a great success and we would personally like to thank all Mums for their support and take the time to thank Kim Foale for organizing the event. A reminder to our entire player Sponsors the upcoming Stingrays sponsors Day will take place on Saturday 7th July at Shepley Oval at 12.00pm, please book the date into your diaries. Lastly, the Stingrays are now on Twitter, please follow us @DandyStingrays

EASTERN: The Eastern Ranges would like to congratulate former player Aaron Young for making his debut for Port Adelaide on the weekend against Adelaide. He started the match as sub, coming on to pick up 4 disposals. It is a terrific achievement to get his first game and we hope it only one of many more to come. The club would also like to congratulate Brandon Wood and Tom Boyd for making the Vic Metro U/18 squad.

GIPPSLAND: The Loy Yang B Gippsland Power welcomed back its 2012 club captain Tim Membrey last week after a successful European tour with the AIS / AFL Academy. The leadership skills that Tim developed on the AIS tour were on display with a 3 goal effort against Sandringham in his return match. Tim is also one of 10 Power players that have been named in the initial Victorian Country squad for the national championships later in the season. Matt Northe, Nick Graham, Kaiane Allen, Jack Leslie, Lachie Channing, Simon Deery, Jack Johnstone, Josh Scott and Ryley Hall have deservedly been recognised for their impressive starts to the season with state selection. Anthony Tipungwuti has once again been named in the Northern Territory squad. With 2012 being Gippsland Power's 20th year in the league the Power will be holding a "Twenty Years Of Power" celebration ball on Saturday July 28th at the Premiere Function Room 29 Grey Street, Traragon. The function is for all current and past players, parents and officials. More relevant information relating to bookings will be advised during May. Please put the date in your diaries and get behind the club as we celebrate all things that have made the club what it is today.

MURRAY: The Bushrangers would like to congratulate former players Jack Crisp (Brisbane Lions - rookie elevation) and Anthony Miles (GWS) on their recent AFL debuts. Just a reminder also for all players to have their levy or sponsorship up to date. Many thanks to current player sponsors for their support in 2012 - Koryo Taekwondo (Jarman Impey), Global Traffic Management (Kaiden Antonowicz), Smith Lovett & Associate Brokers (Michael Gibbons, Joss Group (Ethan Hodder & Kieran Ellis), GV Charcoal Chicken (Kaine Greening), HD&C Securities Limited and Peter Davis Rural (Jake Pallpratt), CA Sinclair (Josh Porter), Corowa Rutherglen FNC (Iain McGillivray), Infrastructure Solutions (John Woodcock), B&K Harding Pty Ltd, Booth Transport, NE Haulage, Black venom (Chris McKay), Shepparton Carpet Court (Matthew Brett). Go Bushies!

NORTH BALLARAT: The Rebels would like to welcome all our Sponsors, Player Sponsors, Parents and Friends of the Rebels to today's game against the Northern Knights. Your support of the Rebels Talented Player Pathway Program and the Players is greatly appreciated and we hope you all enjoy the Rebels and North Ballarat Sports Club hospitality. This week we come up against the Northern Knights which will be another competitive game for the developing Rebels. Congratulations to all the Rebels 2012 Rebels Playing Squad who today along with the Northern Knights Team have been involved in our "TAC Driving Activity" where all players with their Learners or P's have drove to today's game and Logged their Practice Hours. A fantastic opportunity for both teams to reinforce the importance of driving in all conditions to ensure all our players have the confidence and experience when they are behind the steering wheel. Reminder that our supporter Hoodies are still available. Many have been sighted around our games which is pleasing. Hoodies will be available for sale at today's function so please see Phil or Sarah. Don't forget our game against Tasmania on Saturday 26th May will be played as the Curtain Raiser to the VFL V Tasmania at Bellerive Oval in Hobart. The selected Rebels players and staff will depart Melbourne the day before and the team will be announced on the Tuesday 22nd so players can notify their local clubs and school. Go Rebels.

NORTHERN: As part of our partnership with the TAC, we look forward to all our "L" Plate Drivers, driving to Eureka Stadium for today's game against North Ballarat. This activity will provide and opportunity for our young drivers to gain over an hour's valuable driving experience on both city and country roads. The Northern Knights congratulate Dylan Buckley on making his senior VFL Debut on Saturday with the Northern Blues. Dylan who was drafted by Carlton last year, suffered a finger injury in the pre-season and is just now starting his comeback. Saturday, 12th May will be the Northern Knights/AFCA Youth Coaches Day at Preston City Oval commencing 12 Noon. We welcome all local Junior Coaches from the Region to attend our Rd 7 game vs Sandringham Dragons.

Our Coach, Anthony Allen will address all Coaches prior to the match. The Knights would like to acknowledge our Major Sponsor Technika for their continued support and welcome our new and returning Bronze Sponsors for season 2012 Deluca Partners (Nick Soccio), The Hacer Group (Paul Smith), Clean City Services (Vladimir Gavrilovski), Bertocchi Smallgoods (Ralph Nesci) Hewlett Packard Australia (Richard Booth), The Salvation Army (Les Smith), Hodges Plumbing (Michael Hodges), we also welcome aboard our new Club Supporter sponsors LC Dyson's Bus Services (Jamie Dyson), Rochdale Square Bakery (Tony Janev), Melbourne Vinyl Specialists (Glen Coulson), Elite Appliances (Paul Sanova), Beond Sports (Damian De Vincentis). We thank them all for their support of football in the Northern Region.

OAKLEIGH: This Saturday looms as a big day at Warrawee Park with a TAC Cup double-header, as we welcome the Stingrays for our round 6 clash and also the Jets and Power who will provide a great contest in the afternoon game. After 5 rounds, we have fielded a total of 48 of our listed players, which is a fantastic result for our player development program. We would like to acknowledge and thank our Major Sponsors for the 2012 season and especially thank Bendigo Bank – Murrumbidgee for coming on board as a joint Major sponsor with IS MY CV. Other partner sponsors are: Mulgrave Country Club, Active Lifestyle, Telstra, Diadora, Holmesglen TAFE and Woodards Real Estate.

SANDRINGHAM: The Sandringham Dragons would like to thank all the players who took part in today's Dragons Drive Day by driving to the game and gaining some valuable practice. In conjunction with the TAC and AFL Victoria, the drive day is a great way for all Learner Drivers to test their skills on different road conditions. The Dragons would also like to thank today's umpires and congratulate the rest of the 12,000 umpires who officiate games across the country each week. Without umpires we wouldn't have such a great game so we thank each and every one of you for your efforts. A big congratulations to former player and now Adelaide Crow Jarryd Lyons for making his debut on Sunday against Port Power. It must have been a huge thrill and from everyone associated with the Dragons, congratulations. A friendly reminder that Program Fees and Player Sponsorship's are now overdue. If you are having trouble with these please see Ryan. Also, the Dragons Parent's Information evening will be held on Monday May 21st at Princes Park South Caulfield, it is a compulsory night for all players and at least 1 parent to attend. Go Dragons!

WESTERN JETS: The Western Jets would like to once again thank all U16 Brad Johnson squad player sponsors for 2012: Import Export Fumigation Services (Pele Manivong) Hynes Group (Hayden Bray) Class Glass & Aluminium (Jayden Laverde) Pacific Metal Group (Mohamed Dibb) Patrick Autocare (Brenton Payne) CP Sutherland P/L (Tim Sutherland) A & J Almenara Consulting PTY LTD (Mitch McLean) Complete Concrete Developments (Andrew Saliba) GJP Heating and Cooling (Jake Pettitt) Inspirations Paint & Colour (Liam Duggan) Grevillea Nursery & Landscaping (Dillon Viojo-Rainbow) C O'Halloran Plumbing Pty Ltd (Zac O'Halloran) Ballan Holden (Mitch Parkinson) Pack-Tainers Pty Ltd (Jesse Shell) My Mates Pizza & Pasta Pty Ltd (Josh Ryan) Container Logistics (Ben Forbes) Swann family (Dylan Swann) Ellis Plumbing Services (Corey Ellis) Philip Boorman (Tyron Boorman) Phoenix Freight Management (Jordan Patty) AAA Premier Roofing Pty Ltd (Billy Myers) AEY Garden & Property Services (Liam McMahon) Avis Footscray (Ryley Stuhldreier) PC Mobile Welding Australia Pty Ltd (Braden Ferrari) Pipeflow Drain Services (Mitchell Norton) Our Café (Jake Ancrum) and Caroline Chisholm College (Joe Blake).
