Feel the difference

Vic Metro prevails

VIC Metro has won back to back NAB AFL U18 Championships.

CONGRATULATIONS to all associated with the AFL Vic Metro team, winners of the 2012 NAB AFL U18 Championships.

Vic Metro, under the coaching of Rohan Welsh, clinched the title with its victory against West Australia at Etihad Stadium last Wednesday after going through the Division 1 series undefeated.

It is the 14th time in the past 22 years that Vic Metro has secured the Championship while Vic Country has won the title an additional three times.

Without doubt it is a record that Victoria can feel justifiably proud and reinforces our position as the No 1 State for continually producing quality young players from a football network that is the envy of all.

The NAB AFL U18 Championships is the last truly State Of Origin competition where the best from each State and Territory challenge each other on different grounds, under varying conditions and in various States.

Victoria emerged triumphantly with Vic Metro showcasing skill, courage, discipline, character and team work that had no peer.

Clearly, the Championship success is a ringing endorsement of the talented player pathway program

AFL Victoria has in place, under pinned by the TAC Cup competition and the network of community football leagues that support it.

Credit must go to Welsh, his coaching/support staff and all those players who represented Vic Metro in its five game Championship series.

All concerned were rewarded for the countless hours they devoted and sacrifices made over a six month period as they prepared for the Championship then executed so convincingly once the carnival began.

AFL Vic Country's performance should not be overlooked. They ran Vic Metro to its closest margin and were in every game they played deep into the last quarter.

Coach Mark Ellis, his coaching/support staff and players also deserve recognition for how they performed.

The next phase of the talented player pathway begins in Blacktown this weekend when the NAB AFL U16 Championships begin. We wish all the best to those involved with the Vic Metro and Vic Country outfits.

WHILE the NAB AFL U18 Championship highlighted all the emerging young talent in Victoria, the Peter Jackson VFL continues to provide weekly opportunities for aspiring players.

The 23rd player rule, which allows all VFL clubs, including stand-alone AFL clubs, to use a TAC Cup graduate from the previous season or a TAC Cup listed player this season, has been an unqualified success.

It exposes young talent to the next level of the game, helps their development and enhances their football career.

Inside this edition young Murray Bushranger Lachie Howe speaks of playing with VFL Club Geelong and what he took away from the experience.

While the 23rd player rule is capped at three games for any one player, many players, including Northern Blues and VFL representative Adam Marcon, have taken the opportunity to forge a place in the team on their own merits.

It underscores one of the key platforms of the Peter Jackson VFL competition – providing opportunities for young Victorian players.

Top of the ladder clash

THE top two teams in the VFL go head to head this Sunday in round 15 action. Port Melbourne and the Casey Scorpions have been the two standout sides all season; entrenched in the top five all year, and having sat one/two since round 10.

Before last weekend's defeat at the hands of Werribee, Casey had a prime opportunity to wrestle top spot from Port in this clash. The Scorpions however now sit four points and 59% behind the ladder leaders, so a victory this weekend would only draw Casey level with the Borough in top spot.

For Port Melbourne heading into this clash, it is the perfect opportunity for Gary Ayres and his side to go two games clear on top of the ladder; helping cement a double chance for them later in the season.

Last weekend Port Melbourne stamped their authority on the game early with a seven goal to two first term, and it will be their aim again this weekend versus Casey.

"We always aim for a fast start to hopefully grab the initiative away from the opposing side," Ayres said.

"When you weigh up how the game went the 5 goal margin we gained in the 1st quarter was the difference between the 2 sides at the end of the game."

Despite the strong start, Sandringham challenged Port in the final term, getting the margin back to four points.

However Ayres was once again pleased with how his side responded.

"Sandringham were a very tough opponent and the way they played the previous week against Casey showed they are a quality side and they were able to gain ascendancy with some centre clearances that put our defence under enormous pressure.

"What good sides do is identify and then rectify to gain the momentum back and we did this by drawing on the character of our leaders and we were able to get back on top in the midfield and scored goals to put the pressure back on Sandy."

A pleasing aspect for Port heading towards finals later this year is the number of senior players still to return from injury in the second half of the season.

"We have Brewer, Gale, Bentick, O'Farrell and Grice to return to our senior side and we believe that we can improve with these additions," Ayres said.

"These players plus some of our development players who are playing better now will be given an opportunity and will play an important role towards the back end of the season. They must be ready as you do not know when your chance will come."

For Casey, Port Melbourne is the third top five team they will play in a row, currently with and 1/1 record over the first fortnight of a big month. Coach Brett Lovett is looking forward to the challenge of taking on the ladder leaders, and will look for improvement from the sides defence this weekend, after they struggled against the Tigers.

"Werribee are a good side but we really let ourselves down defensively and our intensity was not up to par. We set bench marks for these things are we just didn't meet them on the weekend," Lovett said.

"In saying that, we had a very young team consisting of nine players that had played less than eight games.

"I told the players that this was a clear example that if you don't come to play you produce a result like we did."

With Casey's AFL aligned club Melbourne travelling interstate last weekend, Lovett will be hoping to regain a number of players that were emergencies last weekend.

"We will have a couple of players returning this weekend which should help the team. We are quite dependant on Melbourne's list with who they play or where they play.

"They travelled interstate last week and took three extra players with them. If a few players make their way back from injury then we should be starting to get our strongest side again."

The 23rd player rule

WITH a coaching career now in its 14th season and hurtling along towards 290 games, Gerard FitzGerald has literally seen it all.

So when the triple North Ballarat premierships coach describes something as the best innovation he's seen in the VFL you automatically sit up and take notice.

That's how significant FitzGerald views the 23rd player rule, a policy that allows all VFL clubs to have an additional player on its interchange bench.

"It's one of the best rules I have seen come into the VFL," lauded FitzGerald.

VFL clubs can use a club-listed player who has just graduated from the TAC Cup or a current TAC Cup player as their 23rd player in a match.

No 23rd player can play more than three games during the home and away season, but a club can again use that player during the finals.

Once a VFL listed TAC Cup graduate plays three games as the 23rd player he must be named in the team solely as a VFL listed player.

The 23rd player must receive a minimum of 25 per cent game time while the game time for a first year VFL listed TAC Cup graduate is at the club's discretion.

"Our club thinks it is fantastic for the relationship between the Roosters and the Rebels and it is looked upon favourably by both our own players and the Rebels players," FitzGerald said.

"We try to ensure there is a reason behind each boy playing and the boy is included in the flow in and out of the game so he understands the expectations of him as a player and then feed-back and analysis once he has played."

FitzGerald said football manager Marg Richards meets with North Ballarat Rebels' Regional Manager Phil Partington who discusses which Rebels player will step up with coach David Loader.

He said once the Rebels player has been chosen he trains with the Rooster's leading up to the weekend game and he's also involved in the review process the following Monday.

"If Phil Partington believes it is going to benefit the boy by playing again he will put that suggestion up," FitzGerald said.

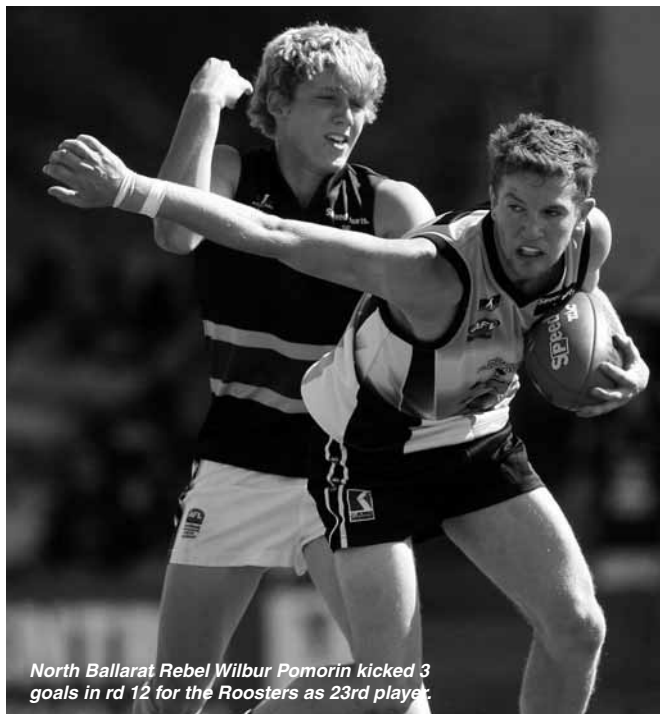

"Phil will say to us these are the type of players we're thinking about, what do you need?"

FitzGerald said the minimum game time a 23rd player will spend on the ground is 40 per cent of the match.

"They won't get much more than 55-60 per cent. We're not expecting them to play a distinct role.

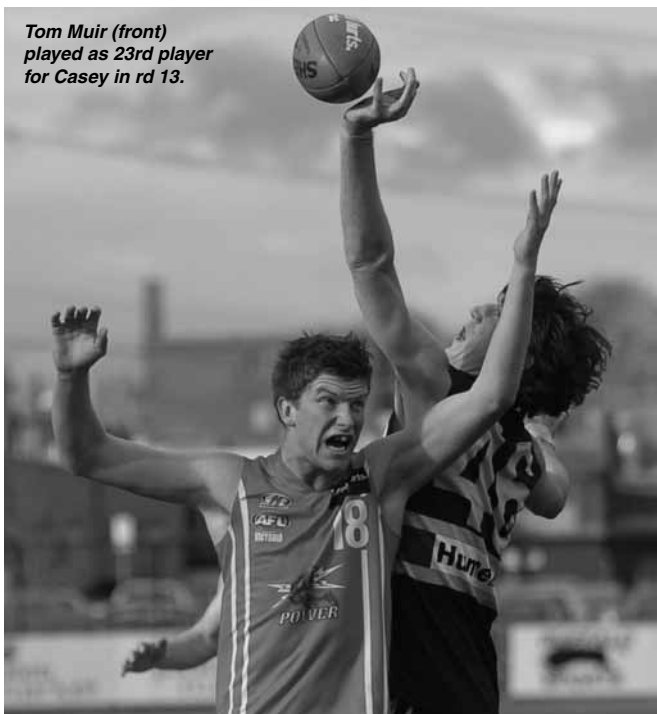

"We are just providing exposure and experience."

FitzGerald said the Rebel's

North Ballarat Rebel Wilbur Pomorin kicked 3 goals in rd 12 for the Roosters as 23rd player.

Tom Muir (front) played as 23rd player
for Casey in rd 13.

19-year-old players regularly play in the Rooster's Development League team.

Casey Scorpions started the season with four VFL listed players on its list eligible to play as the 23rd player for the 2012 season.

The Scorpions have called upon TAC Cup affiliate Gippsland Power to provide the 23rd player for the games when it hasn't used one of its own players.

Scorpions' coach Brett Lovett, who didn't have the advantage of the rule during his time at Frankston, is an advocate of the rule.

"I think it is more beneficial, even if it is a skinny young kid, to allow you to have five on the bench. Generally if you go with just four you would cop an injury early in the first quarter and would impact on your rotations," Lovett said.

Lovett said the information of who and where the Scorpions are playing coupled with the players available from Melbourne FC, as well as Casey's list, are fed into the equation as to what type of player is needed to fill the role of the 23rd player.

He noted it was advantageous if the VFL listed player or TAC Cup player was in form.

"I think it is a good thing that (TAC Cup) players are given the opportunity to play at this level," Lovett said.

"I just throw them in there, they're just part of the team. You throw them out there and give them a go. If they are a midfielder, they just go into the midfield rotation."

Most Power players, if travelling distance is not too great, will train a couple of times with the Scorpions in the lead up to the match.

Lovett doesn't expect the 23rd player to tear the game apart. All he wants is the player to play whatever role he's asked.

"The assistant coaches would talk to them about their role to ensure they are clear on what is needed, but apart from that it is just about attacking the footy and doing the basic things well.

"I'm certainly not expecting them to be best on ground or anything like that. It about doing all the little things well – if there is a tackle to be made, make sure you tackle, putting their head over the ball.

"That is all you can ask any player."

Lovett said the exposure that the 23rd player is given, gave whoever the club utilised a fantastic help to his development.

He added the experience of playing with older players and as Gippsland Power's Tom Muir experienced in the thriller against Sandringham and then to stand in the circle after the match and be showered by soft drink from jubilant teammates as they sang the theme song was something the player would long cherish.

"If a (23rd) player plays well then it can help when recruiters are thinking about rookie spots or even spots on an AFL list," Lovett said.

Cain kicking goals at Port

CORRELATION between the spike in Chris Cain's career and Gary Ayres arrival at the Borough is unmistakable.

Two seasons after Cain arrived at Port Melbourne from affiliate club Oakleigh Chargers it appeared his VFL career was stuck in neutral.

Cain struggled to gain a game and then struggled to hold his spot when the opportunity presented itself.

Enter Ayres, the Hawthorn premiership super star, the Norm Smith medallist who would later coach Geelong and Adelaide. Right from the time Ayres took over at Port Melbourne, Cain's football has spiralled upwards.

After managing just 16 games in his first two seasons, Cain has played 72 games during Ayres' five-season tenure.

Not only has it taken him to the doorstep of his 100th game, which he plays this round against Casey Scorpions, but to one of the elite players in the competition.

Cain played every match in last season's historic premiership season, gained selection in the VFL Team of the Year and this year represented the VFL in the State match against Tasmania.

Remarkably, Cain is only 24 – he turns 25 next week – but his deft skills, uncanny ability to create space and provide a constant goal source has him on target for a better season than last year – if that's possible.

Only teammate Dean Galea has kicked more goals than Cain, whose 34 goals is three shy of his 2011 total with still six games plus finals ahead.

While Cain admitted his pre-season training has improved considerably over the journey, he acknowledges that Ayres has been an integral part in his football development.

"Gary having faith in me was the main thing that got me going," Cain said.

"Once he came I started to improve a fair bit and started to play regular senior footy. I had a few senior games here and there, but I couldn't string together enough to hold my spot.

"I thought I was good enough to play senior football and although a lot of my good mates did leave, myself and Sam Dwyer decided we would hang around for another year."

Cain was a teammate of Marc Murphy at Oakleigh Chargers and a year behind current premiership teammate Toby Pinwill, also a hundred game player at Port Melbourne.

The enormity of what Cain was involved with at Port Melbourne last year is something he understands is unlikely to ever happen again in his football lifetime.

He's constantly reminded of the magnitude. "Sometime whether you are just walking around or whatever and last year's achievement pops into your head and you think 'that was bloody unreal,'" Cain said.

"What made the premiership so special is that we didn't lose a game. We had some slow starts, but we had the confidence to know that one player would do something to kick start the team."

While there may be a host of new faces at Port Melbourne, Cain believes the belief is just as strong that the Borough can again make a genuine play for back-to-back premierships.

And, the only thing better than playing in a premiership is playing in two.

Harris back in charge at Blues

NORTHERN Blues dismal performance against Geelong in Round 13 proved the catalyst for a shock change to the club's coach.

Incumbent coach Rob Hyde, who took on the post on a part-time basis, stepped aside with Darren Harris, who coached the club into last season's Preliminary, taking over.

Harris took up the position as the Carlton development and academy manager this season while the club chose to capitalise on Hyde's outstanding CV with Calder Cannons and Vic Country.

Northern Blues' General Manager Garry O'Sullivan said Hyde's job as a school principal coupled with a change in the training schedule made his position "nigh on impossible" O'Sullivan said Carlton acknowledged that a part-time VFL coach had not worked and returned to the model it has used with Harris in 2011 and David Teague before him.

He said Hyde acknowledged the coaching position needed to be full time.

"Carlton and Robert came to an amicable decision for him to step aside and the Carlton guys to take over again," O'Sullivan said.

"He (Hyde) just couldn't devote the time needed. There wasn't anything against 'Hydey', but you just can't do the job part-time.

"With his job he was missing out on knowing the idiosyncrasies of the Carlton players and the Carlton players playing in the VFL only met Robert on match day.

"Initially he was down at Carlton on Wednesday for training, but when that changed, Robert couldn't change because of his work.

"It was just a time constraint thing and nigh on impossible for Robert to do his best with the Carlton players blossoming under him because they were like ships in the night."

As well as Harris returning, Matthew Capuano and Luke Webster, both of the Carlton coaching staff, will be the Northern Blues line coaches.

O'Sullivan described as "very poor" the VFL Blues performance against Geelong considering the team fielded 18 Carlton listed or rookie players.

The club did not kick a goal in the second half as its 2.9 was its lowest score of the season.

O'Sullivan said the wretched run of injuries endured by Carlton had a "domino" effect on the VFL Blues.

Northern Blues, which changed its name from Northern Bullants at the start of the season, posted only one win under Hyde's coaching – remarkably a 100-point win against Bendigo in Round 5.

The VFL Blues have since rode a six game losing streak, including a 126-point loss to Port Melbourne, but its performance against Geelong in kicking just two goals was a low-light of the season.

For the first time since the 2007 when the club finished ninth, Northern Blues, which played in successive Grand Finals in 2009-10, will miss the finals.

Northern Blues' season from hell continued in Harris' first game back. Its 57-point loss to Box Hill Hawks cemented them in the cellar of the ladder.

Marusic back from injury

ADVERSITY can be a constant life companion, but it's how people deal with it that can often determine their outcome.

As Shaun Marusic, winner of the TAC Cup Coaches Award last season, has discovered football can be all about picking yourself back up when adversity knocks you down.

After a strong season with Gippsland Power, Marusic was on the radar of many AFL clubs, but as so often happens things suddenly change and at the end of all the AFL Drafts he wasn't on an AFL club list.

Several clubs told Marusic that he remained a potential AFL player and they would monitor his career during 2012.

"I spoke to two clubs after the Drafts and they gave me a few hints. They basically said we'll keep an eye on you and see how you go in the VFL," Marusic said. The disappointment of missing being drafted was replaced by renewed hope.

Marusic decided to join brother Gavin at stand-alone club Frankston, but fate dealt the 20-year-old a cruel blow earlier in the season.

After Round 2, Marusic broke his left foot at training, an injury that kept him out for six weeks.

"I was just running around and started to feel some pain. It ended up being stress fractures," Marusic said.

When he was over the injury, Marusic had to make his way back via the Dolphins' Development League team, where he stayed for three games.

While he would have liked to gone straight into the seniors, Marusic realised that he had to earn his spot.

"The Development League is a pretty good standard," he said.

It wasn't the only surprise that Marusic discovered. "The pre-season was a bit of a shock, it was a lot harder than the TAC Cup pre-season.

"When the games started I slowly found my way into how everyone plays and I've blended in pretty well."

Marusic is back in the Dolphins seniors and starting to display the form that attracted interest from AFL clubs and gained him selection in the inaugural AFL Victoria VFL Academy, an innovation that he believes has been most beneficial.

"It helps you with all the stuff that you need working on, the weaknesses in your game that you need to eliminate," he said.

"You also get involved with AFL recruiters and Nathan Bibby (the AFL Victoria VFL Academy, coach) has been really great with all the help he gives you."

While Marusic has hit some speed humps it hasn't slowed his desire to gain the best out of his football.

Marusic's versatility allows him to play many varied roles for Frankston and both his and the club's season seems to be heading in the right direction.

"We have been really competitive, we just need to play out a full game," he said.

"We've played 90 per cent, 95 per cent, but not playing a full 100 per cent has proved costly. I'm sure it's coming."

Austin returns to Ballarat

IT'S been a tough initiation in more ways than one for former Brisbane Lion Matt Austin who returned home this season to North Ballarat.

After initially considering staying in Brisbane to continue playing football and studying, Austin decided to head home to be close to his family and friends. However the 23-year-old ran into unexpected set-backs.

First, a spider bite he endured became infected, which caused Austin to miss a match then he fractured his nose at training, which required an operation and saw him miss another match.

"It has been tough. It's a whole new environment, a whole new game plan and playing with a whole new group of players," Austin said.

"I've been in and out and in and out, but now I'm getting a bit if continuity."

Austin's ties with North Ballarat extend back to the days when he played with TAC Cup club North Ballarat Rebels.

He came down from Stawell to St Patrick's College, Ballarat where he did enough to attract the attention of AFL talent scouts.

Austin was selected by Brisbane Lions with its fifth pick, selection No 56 overall, in the 2007 AFL National Draft.

He made his AFL debut in 2009, where he played a career-high eight games, but his combined games over the next two years fell short of his first year mark.

On returning from Brisbane, Austin proved one of, if not the Rooster's easiest signing – a 45 second walk for neighbour

Gerard FitzGerald to go from his home to that of Austin's.

"I said if we could play a role it would be nice to have him back at our place," FitzGerald said.

Austin is enrolled in a sport's management degree at Ballarat University, a course managed by Sue Brown, mother of twins Nathan and Mitchell.

The fact that he came through the North Ballarat Rebels program and had been coached by FitzGerald weighed heavily in Austin's decision to play with the Roosters.

"Even though I wasn't going to be at the AFL, I wanted to play at the highest level possible. I came through North Ballarat as a junior and I knew it was a really good club and I still wanted to test myself at the highest level I could," Austin said.

While Austin has had to adjust to VFL football, one thing that hasn't surprised him – Ballarat's weather.

"It's been freezing," Austin said, "but I don't mind the colder weather."

FitzGerald can see Austin beginning to emerge and believes he will only continue to improve over the remainder of the season.

"We want him to learn to win more ball and continue to work hard without it," FitzGerald said.

Port Melbourne captain John Baird is the current leader in the Ford Coaches Player of the Year award.

TEAMMATES John Baird and Sam Dwyer are literally jockeying for the driver's seat of a Ford car that accompanies the inaugural Ford Coaches Player of the Year Award.

With votes soon to go into camera for the final home and away rounds, the Port Melbourne pair sit one-two in the award that will see the winner gain the use of a Ford for six months.

Votes are allocated each home and away round by coaches on a three, two and one basis to opposition players.

The player who receives the most votes at the end of the home and away season will receive the keys to the Ford. The winner will be announced on J.J Liston Trophy night.

Baird jumped to an early lead with the maximum votes in the first three games, but Dwyer came roaring back to tie up the leader board after 13 rounds.

But, Baird reclaimed outright leadership with a two vote game against Sandringham last week.

Enjoying one of, if not his finest season, Baird has received votes in nine games, including four lots of three votes in the first five rounds.

While he hasn't polled a three vote game since Round 5, Baird has received two lots of two votes – Round 6 and Round 14 – as well as three singles in Rounds 8, 10 and 12.

It illustrates perfectly how telling and pivotal a player Baird is viewed by opposition coaches.

Dwyer has polled in eight games, but he has received just the three maximum votes, three twos and two ones.

After the bye and State match, Dwyer polled two three votes and a one vote to move right into contention.

While Baird and Dwyer are best positioned there's a posse of 11 players within nine votes of the Port Melbourne captain.

And, as evidenced by Baird's start to the season three best-on-ground performances can catapult a player from the boot to the driver's seat of the Ford.

Northern Blues have endured a miserable season, but through no fault of Adam Marcon who is doing his draft prospects no harm with a series of outstanding games.

Marcon moved into third position on 15 votes with a two vote game against Casey Scorpions in Round 11.

Frankston 'rookie' Kyle Martin continues to impress in his first VFL season. After receiving seven votes in the first seven rounds, the former Noble Park premiership player secured a three vote in Round 10, two votes in Round 11 and then two lots of two votes in Rounds 13 & 14.

Casey Scorpions Tom Couch is well poised on 12 votes while dual Port Melbourne best and fairest Sam Pleming moved on to the leader board for the first time after Round 14.

Roosters in the 8

NORTH Ballarat is in the top eight for the first time since round one after the Roosters handed Williamstown its third loss in four games at a soggy Burbank Oval on Sunday, as Adem Saricaoglu reports.

The seven-point win also knocked the Seagulls out of the eight for the first time this year.

After both sides kicked a combined 7.1 in the first quarter, Williamstown squandered several scoring opportunities in the second term.

The Seagulls added nine behinds to its tally in the quarter and went goalless, while North Ballarat's 1.4 ensured them a six-point lead at halftime.

Williamstown coach Peter German admitted after the game his side's second quarter inaccuracy was ultimately costly.

Michael Searl was named amongst the best for North Ballarat last Sunday.

"If you want to isolate where we lost the game you could probably say that was the quarter," German said.

"To have 23 inside-50s to eight in the second quarter and to kick nine points and actually lose the quarter by a point, it's disappointing."

Williamstown's midfield dominance continued after the main break, but staunch defending by the Roosters' back line ensured goals were still hard to come by.

However the Seagulls managed to scrap a goal to get themselves in front, which kick-started an end-to-end shootout.

But it was the Roosters who again made the better of its opportunities, and with two goals in a minute to Aaron Black and Lachlan George their lead was again beyond a goal.

Williamstown kept on pressing, but continued to blow golden chances.

Three shots on goal late in the third quarter all missed out on the full, and by three-quarter time their deficit remained eight points.

In the second minute of the final term Jason Tutt kicked his third goal to again bring the Seagulls back within a kick, but four minutes later the Roosters answered through Ben Cunningham, who slotted his fourth goal with a classy set shot.

Williamstown kept on coming, but every time they did North Ballarat had an answer.

The arm wrestle continued into time-on, as the Seagulls continually won the footy but struggled to penetrate North Ballarat's last line of defence.

Rooster Coleman Schache seemingly iced the game with a goal at the 24-minute mark, but when Williamstown's Ed Carr broke free from a stoppage in the forward pocket and goaled three minutes later, the game was once more in the balance.

However the resilient Roosters proved too good, working the clock down and forcing two behinds deep inside their own 50 to seal a stirring win.

North Ballarat coach Gerard FitzGerald was proud of his side's resilience after the game.

"I thought our resilience was outstanding today," FitzGerald said.

"We had one other very close game against Casey earlier in the year and we weren't quite able to hang onto the ball that day, so we learned a lot from that game.

"We needed to be a bit more measured today late in the game when we had the ball."

FitzGerald said the efforts of his back line were particularly impressive.

"I was very pleased with our group generally," he said.

"I thought we had some very good players in the backline because there were times there when Williamstown was getting a lot of the ball, and it put a lot of pressure on our back six.

"I thought they were terrific."

Round 15 sees Williamstown hosting Collingwood at Burbank Oval on Sunday, while the Roosters face a refreshed and in-form Bendigo outfit at Eureka Stadium, also on Sunday.

Williamstown – On Foreign Territory

WHEN former Australian Test captain Greg Chappell collected what seemed an apron full of ducks he noted he was just a good batsman out of luck.

Could Williamstown, sitting in foreign territory outside the eight and staring at missing the finals for the first time since 2005, use the same analogy?

After the Seagulls finished ninth in '05, they've finished the home and away season fourth, fourth, third, second, first and second.

But, after its latest loss against North Ballarat, the Seagulls have sunk to ninth, half a game behind the Roosters.

While North Ballarat has always had Williamstown's number even when they were perched in the upper rungs of the ladder, what is particularly troubling for Peter German and co is that the Seagull have only won one match since Round 6.

And, that was against Coburg Tigers back in Round 9.

As well as losing four and inexplicably drawing with Frankston, Williamstown also lost its Foxtel Cup match against South Adelaide.

Admittedly, Williamstown has dropped three close games - Bendigo (19-points), Box Hill Hawks (six) and North Ballarat (seven) – and drew against Frankston.

So, the Chappell analogy has some merit.

But, the issue for Williamstown is that they have played one more game than four of the clubs they're chasing – Casey Scorpions, Geelong, Bendigo and Box Hill Hawks – in the eight.

Box Hill Hawks is the closest of that quartet, just half a game in front, but the VFL Hawks appear to have the better run into the finals.

North Ballarat is just a half game ahead of Williamstown, but the two clubs appear to be travelling in different directions.

And, the Roosters play three of its toughest games in the run home – Bendigo, Geelong and Port Melbourne - at Eureka Stadium.

After its slow start to the season, the Roosters are building momentum at the right time with four successive wins and, significantly, two were against Geelong and Williamstown.

Many believed that Williamstown were poised to make a run for a top four spot when its renovated Burbank Oval facilities were opened earlier last month.

But, Williamstown has lost both its home games.

One of the many areas that would be causing German angst is Williamstown's inability to apply constant scoreboard pressure.

Apart from its season-high feast against Coburg Tigers when it kicked 22 goals, Williamstown only has five century scoreline scores.

The Williamstown faithful will know its fate by the end of July as it faces Collingwood, Werribee and Port Melbourne in the next three rounds.

If Williamstown were to lose two of those three then season 2012 could be consigned to the history books.

Werribee bounce back

THE Werribee Tigers returned to form with a 78-point demolition of the Casey Scorpions at Avalon Airport Oval last Saturday as Ben Carbonaro reports.

After the previous week's disappointing loss to the Bendigo Gold, the Tigers were looking to rebound against a second placed Casey team that had been in superb form for much of this season.

Werribee started strongly as they kicked five goals to two and controlled play for much of the first quarter. Some strong work by the Tigers defensive unit, led by Kyle Hartigan, made it tough for Casey to move the ball forward quickly. The Tigers held a 16-point quarter time lead.

The second quarter was highlighted by the athleticism and strong marking of North Melbourne rookie Majak Daw. Nathan Ablett also became a factor as the Tigers kicked six goals to two to lead by 43-points at half-time.

Strong wind and rain made the third quarter one that featured plenty of stoppages around the ground. Despite the Tigers continuing to build a big lead, Casey staged something of a comeback but it was too late. Werribee kicked three goals to one to effectively end any hope for the visitors as they trailed by 59 points at the final break.

The Tigers put on something of a skills clinic in the last quarter piling on six goals to three to complete an impressive win.

Coach Scott West was pleased with his team's return to form.

"Good to bounce back, you never like to lose but I think you judge a group by how they react the next week. When you can get the flow and run, then take the game on, sometimes it falls for you, which it did today."

Nathan Ablett played his best game for the Tigers kicking four goals in a best on ground performance. Ben Ross was outstanding in the midfield and didn't stop running for four quarters.

West was impressed with Ablett's performance

"You know when he gets it (football), within 35-40 he's a deadly kick.

"He provided decoy leads, he got into space and contested in the air and his hands were terrific providing opportunities for the other guys."

Jack Fitzpatrick, Leigh Williams and Lucas Cook all booted two goals while brother of Olympic runner Jeff Riseley, Michael was best for the Scorpions.

Werribee's Foxtel Cup campaign continues this Saturday morning when they face Queensland club Morningside in a semi final at the Gabba in Brisbane. They return to VFL action when they host Coburg Tigers on Sunday July 15. Casey Scorpions continue their top five battles as they host ladder leaders Port Melbourne on Sunday.

Under 16 Championships begin

VICTORIA will have vast representation at the 2012 NAB AFL Under 16 Championships this week, highlighting the diverse talent that the state has the opportunity to develop.

The Championships will take place from the July 7 to 14 in Sydney's Blacktown, home to the 18th AFL club, the GWS Giants. AFL Victoria will have a heightened interest with four different sides including Victorian representation.

After more than a decade of the Championships, Vic Metro and Vic Country will continue to be the teams other states aim to defeat.

However, following the successful inclusion of the World XVIII and South Pacific teams in 2010, another exciting expansion will occur in 2012 with the introduction of two more teams, the Western Australia North West Academy and the Flying Boomerangs.

Victoria will subsequently have representatives in the World XVIII Team and the Flying Boomerangs side that will compete in an expanded Division 3 competition.

The World XVIII is a squad of players that have been selected to represent such diverse nations as South Africa, United States, Sudan and Denmark to name just a few. The squad of 25 consists of 12 Victorians.

The Flying Boomerangs are made up of the best 25 indigenous players aged 14 to 15 years from all across the nation. Five Victorian boys made the side this year, the second largest amount from any state only behind Under 15 KickStart Champions, WA.

AFL Victoria's Community Engagement Manager, Xavier Moloney believes the inclusion of new teams will be beneficial for all levels of the game.

"It is great to see the opportunity given to Indigenous and Multicultural participants who were involved in our local Victorian camps in April this year.

"The Under 16 Championships provide an opportunity for all the boys to showcase their skills on a National level," Moloney said.

The 2012 NAB AFL Under 16 Championships will feature a three-match, round robin series in each of three divisions at Blacktown International Sportspark and Bruce Purser Reserve.

Vic Metro and Vic Country will face potentially their toughest competitors in the first round, taking on one another on Saturday at 2:30pm.

The World XVIII and Flying Boomerangs teams will also be going head to head in the first round on Sunday at 5:30pm.

AFL Victoria's High Performance Manager, Anton Grbac believes the competition is the best initiation into the AFL Talent system.

"The Under 16's program offers athletes with an avenue of formal entry into the AFL State Academy programs.

"It provides an opportunity to identify prospective talent and gives athletes a perspective of what is required at an elite level of the game," Grbac said.

The U16 Championships are the beginning of the NAB Rising Stars Program and provides almost 200 players with their first opportunity to test their abilities against our country's best emerging young footballers.

Around the Grounds - TAC Cup

EACH week we will take a look at some of the news and views from around the TAC Cup competition.

AFL RISING STAR NOMINEE

Toby Greene from the Greater Western Sydney Giants is the Round 14 NAB AFL Rising Star nominee. Toby was recruited from the Oakleigh Chargers with selection 11 in the 2011 NAB AFL Draft. The adaptable 18 year old tallied the highest number of possessions for the Giants in their contest against the Sydney Swans last Saturday night with 31 touches. His opponents included Jarrad McVeigh and Kieren Jack. In his 11 games this year, Greene has played on the wing, at a half-forward and on the ball. He is also ranking high on the club's clearance and tackle tallies.

BEN MITCHELL MEDAL

AIS-AFL Academy's Joe Daniher has been awarded the Ben Mitchell Medal for the 15th intake into the AIS-AFL Academy. Daniher represents the Calder Cannons in the TAC Cup as a tall versatile forward or ruckman and will be eligible for father-son selection with the Essendon Football Club, where his father Anthony played. The Ben Mitchell Medal winner is the highest award given to a member of the AIS-AFL Academy squad and is named in memory of a former AIS squad member who tragically lost his life in a car accident on his way to training in 2002. All team members vote on the award based on the player who shows exceptional personal qualities, including; respect, honesty, skill and competitiveness.

KNIGHTS GET THEIR 2ND WIN

The Northern Knights have secured their second win for the season after knocking off the 5th place Calder Cannons. The Knights walked away with a nail-biting 1 point victory at Preston City Oval. This success may be short lived with the side facing ladder leaders North Ballarat this weekend.

TACKLE TALLY

Last weekend saw the Geelong Falcons and North Ballarat Rebels tally exceptionally high tackle counts. The 106 vs 104 tackle total produced some notable performances from Falcons players Watson and Spokes with 11 tackles each and Rebels players Smith and Hendy with 16 and 15 tackles respectively.

AFL DEBUT

Former Dandenong Stingray member Todd Elton made his AFL debut last weekend for the Richmond Football Club in their loss against the Adelaide Crowns. Elton was selected by the Tigers in the 2011 NAB AFL Draft after displaying his athleticism in combine testing and AIS-AFL Academy games. The 197cm ruckman/forward tested very well in the vertical leap drills, with his 89cm jump off his left foot putting him in the top 2 per cent at the combine.

Elton bears a resemblance to teammate Ty Vickery and will find success when he makes the most of his athletic, quick and competitive nature.

The 19 year old, tallied few possessions in his debut on Saturday, but worked hard without the ball, accumulating four tackles during the game.

Stevens Powers On

WITH his side having lost just two games to date this season, former AFL star Nick Stevens is making a solid impression as the coach of Gippsland Power as Joe Barresi reports.

After having forged a successful career at Port Adelaide and then Carlton, Stevens turned his hand to landscaping but it wasn't long before the coaching temptation took hold. After a stint with the New South Wales Rams, Stevens had a burning ambition to someday enter the AFL coaching ranks and he believed that the best way to prepare for that would be to take control of a side in a full-time capacity.

He sold his landscaping business and moved to Traralgon after being given the opportunity to be the head coach of the Power. It wasn't an easy decision to make, but it's one he is hoping will pay off in the future.

"I wanted to obviously get into AFL coaching and thought it was a great opportunity to go and coach my own side," said Stevens. "With the junior development side of the program, it's a really great way to learn about coaching. I think the best way to learn is to coach your own side and after two years with the New South Wales state side, I felt it was the right time to get into coaching full time."

The Gippsland role involves more time and effort than most would expect from a junior development coach. The fact that the team is made up of boys from various towns around the Gippsland region means that Stevens has had to take a different approach to coaching his side as he doesn't have constant access to his players.

"We're a bit unfortunate because we only get the group together each Wednesday as most of the boys have to travel so far so we can only get together one night a week. On Monday night I get the local boys for what is generally a recovery session, with Tuesday being the boys night off."

"We all come in and train on Wednesday in what is our main training session. We have three buses from all over Gippsland to pick the boys up for training each week. We tend to travel to Melbourne on a Friday to play games but sometimes depending on location, we can travel on the morning of the game."

In addition to those team commitments, Stevens does plenty of work behind the scenes in order to fast track his sides development.

"The rest of my time for that week is spent preparing for games and making tapes for boys to take footage away as I don't get a good chance with them to sit down and watch their tapes one on one unfortunately. I also spend time running Auskick for AFL Victoria."

With all the hard yards he is putting in this season, surely it won't be long before Stevens gets an opportunity to prove his coaching worth at an AFL level. When he does, rest assured it will be well deserved.

Howe tastes senior football

AS the day and the match drew closer, Lachie Howe's excitement grew palpably.

After all, how often does a recently turned 19-year-old get to run out on Visy Park and count dual premiership player Shannon Byrnes and a host of emerging Cats like Simon Hogan, Billie Smedts, Joel Hamling, Cameron Eardley, George Burbury as teammates?

And, be coached by Richmond great and ex-Essendon coach Matthew Knights and have experienced Carlton defender Paul Bower as one of your opponents?

Howe realised such an experience when he played for Geelong's VFL team as the 23rd player against Northern Blues in Round 13.

The Murray Bushranger key position player met the criteria as a 19-year-old TAC Cup player who previously had not played three games with Geelong or Collingwood's VFL club in the 2012 season.

While the trip from Howe's hometown of Yarrowonga to Geelong is considerable, time seemed to fly as he made the trip in two stages. "It was a bit of a hike, but it was all right," Howe said.

After training with the Bushrangers on the Wednesday night, Howe made his way to Geelong training on the Thursday and then returned to Melbourne to play on the Saturday.

What made the experience a little less daunting was that Howe last year completed Year 12 at Xavier, where Knights oversaw the school's football program.

"We got along pretty well when he was at Xavier, so it was good to play under him," Howe said.

"It was very exciting, really enjoyable, a really good experience. Obviously, it was a big step up to the bigger bodies."

Howe, who played two and a half quarters and kicked one goal in Geelong's 51-point win, found the experience "eye-opening" in that it provided a reality check as to what is required to play at the next level.

He said the body definition of the players; their work rate and the speed of the game were aspects of the experience that he took away.

"It makes you step back and think 'shivers, I'm not going as well as I thought'," Howe said.

Howe was invited back by the Bushrangers this season as a 19-year-old after most of last season was erased by a broken collarbone.

It brought a premature end to a season that promised so much – Howe numbered two bags of six goals during his six games with the Bushrangers.

The Bushrangers service both stand-alone AFL clubs – Collingwood and Geelong – with the requests for a 23rd player varying depending on the club's requirements.

Bushrangers' Regional Manager Andrew Carson said there have been times when both Collingwood and Geelong have requested players for the same weekend.

"It's exciting and it's great for the players. It's a win-win no matter which way you look at it," Carson said.

TAC Cup Coaches Award

– Josh Bench

THERE is no end to the ribbing exchanged between Western Jets coach Steve Kretiuk and rover Josh Bench over the relative merits of their respective 'old' clubs St Albans and Albion.

While he dismissed Kretiuk's notion that St Albans is the better club, Bench agrees that his Western coach has helped bring the best out in his football this season.

Bench, all 170 cm and 67 kg of him, has been a spark plug for the Jets whose back-to-back wins against Northern and Oakleigh has put Western into final's contention.

Both weeks Bench scored the maximum TAC Cup Coaches Award votes.

The Essendon Keilor College student racked up identical mid 20 possession numbers, applied constant pressure when the opposition had the ball and also was able to impact the scoreboard himself with one goal in each game.

Bench, whose pre-season was interrupted by a torn posterior cruciate ligament endured late last season, said as his fitness and confidence has grown, so, too, his performance.

"I feel I have stepped up a bit and done all the things that he (Kretiuk) has told me, hit the right positions, done the right things and it's worked for me," Bench said.

"Steve said I had to improve my work rate and defensive side of my game and that's what I've tried to do and get as many tackles as I can each week and work back as well as forward."

Bench wasn't initially on the Jets' list last year, but he was invited to train after playing well at a mid-season 'scratch match'.

Three weeks later, Bench made his debut for Western and showed he was up to the level.

"He trained really well, showed a fair bit of speed and agility and was hard at it so we thought we would throw him in the deep end and he had a bit of x-factor about him," Kretiuk said.

Bench's form tapered off, he was subsequently dropped and he went back to his local club Albion, where injury ended his season.

While Bench's form has peaked and troughed early in the season the rover has really emerged as one of the club's pivotal players in the past month.

Kretiuk said Bench's performance has been so impressive that he's been elevated to the club's leadership group.

He said the other pleasing aspect of Bench's game is that the defensive side has improved, especially being accountable when the ball is turned over.

"The beauty of coaching Josh is that he hates getting beaten, he's very competitive," he said.

"He's very hard at the contest and backs himself in. His speed allows him to get away from stoppages and congestion very easily, and he provides a fair bit of spark for us in the midfield."

While Kretiuk and Bench are on the same page about most things, best not bring up St Albans or Albion.

Vic Country lead stats, but not the match

SOMETIMES the statistics don't always portray tell the story.

Vic Country emerged from its engrossing match against South Australia ahead in most key performance indicators that usually determine the result of a match.

Vic Country had seven more inside 50s, took five more marks inside 50, won the contested football possession count as well as the clearances.

Where Vic Country did not win was on the scoreboard where South Australia posted a 13-point win, 13.4 (82) to 10.9 (69).

It was Vic Country's third agonising defeat, the third time where victory seemed so tantalisingly close, but vanished as a result of little lapses.

Vic Country fell 13-points shy of South Australia; 15-points adrift of Vic Metro and 18-points short of West Australia.

At various stages in all three games, Vic Country appeared on the cusp of victory, but was unable to secure it.

Vic Country and South Australia traded goals from the outset with Gippsland Power's Tim Membrey proving a pivot focal point.

Membrey kicked three first quarter goals plus provided the hand ball that set up Lachie Whitfield's goal in the opening quarter.

Certainly, Vic Country didn't plan to leave anything in the locker room as evidenced by Jake Calvert crashing a three-man South Australian pack, winning possession against the odds and pumping a 50-metre ball into the arms of Membrey.

Vic Country's two goal quarter time advantage was rested away and with change as South Australia kicked five second quarter goals when Matthew McDonough and Brodie Grundy began to assert their influence.

McDonough and Grundy both kicked two goals each as South Australia's run and carry and ball efficiency troubled Vic Country.

While Vic Country regained the lead thanks to a goal from the hard working Lewis Taylor, one of Country's best, Grundy and Tim O'Brien, another tall South Australian, proved a headache for defenders.

Grundy and O'Brien kicked all three of South Australia's three third quarter goals as Country trailed by eight-points at three quarter time thanks to a late goal by Whitfield.

As valiantly as Country, led by Whitfield, Taylor, Oliver Wines and defender Nathan Wright, tried they were unable to make a dent in South Australia's lead.

When William Hams goaled at the seven-minute mark of the last quarter, Country trailed by just eight points, but a 50 metre penalty and a goal later by the impressive Ben Kennedy kept Country at bay.

Country wasn't able to capitalise on its inside 50 opportunities and despite a late goal by Membrey – his fourth – it wasn't enough.

Whitfield again highlighted his quality with a match equal high 26 possession – Kennedy and Jimmy Toumpas - Wines maintained his high Championship consistency with another 20 plus possession match and Wright was again outstanding in defence.

Taylor produced a stand out game, Membrey was a constant live wire and Taylor Garner was also very good.

Vic Metro goes Back to Back

LEADING the celebration of Vic Metro's NAB AFL Under 18 Championship triumph was an army of salivating Essendon supporters.

The Bombers fans had every right to be excited after Windy Hill-bound Joe Daniher, son of ex-Essendon player Anthony, provided a snap shot of his prodigious talent.

After being a late withdrawal from the match against Vic Country, Daniher treated all to a sample of his untapped ability at Etihad Stadium. Daniher put on a marking clinic as he took a match-high 11 marks as he collected 16 possessions and capped his outstanding game with four goals as Vic Metro defeated West Australia 14.12 (96) to 10.12 (72).

He seemed certain to end with a bag-full of goals, but he went through a period in the third quarter where he kicked three points as well as kicking another out on the full. The 18-year-old took made marking, especially in contested situations, look ridiculously easy as he took eight marks inside 50 metres with seven of his marks contested.

Essendon has already committed to drafting Daniher under the father-son rule. If not surely Daniher would have been the No 1 Draft selection, he was exceptional. With Daniher putting on a show it appeared that Vic Metro would turn its final match against West Australia into a laugh.

After Luke McDonald and Tom Boyd both kicked goals inside the first three minutes of the third quarter, Vic Metro's lead ballooned to nine goals.

But, an extraordinary transformation took over the match with West Australia climbing off the canvas to shake the life out of the Vic Metro players.

From the four minute mark of the third term when Jack Martin kicked the first of his three goals and Laine Wilkins put on a cameo with three goals of his own to the opening minute of the last quarter, West Australia kicked seven unanswered goals.

Vic Metro's lead shrunk to 13-points and it could have been single digits had the visitors not squandered several set shots.

Just when it appeared Vic Metro may lose the unlosable, Christian Salem came off the interchange bench to convert and then Daniher squashed any thoughts of a West Australian revival with his fourth goal. And, when Salem added his second at the 17-minute mark, Vic Metro sealed its Championship success.

Apart from Daniher, captain Nick Vlaustin led by example across half back; Jack Viney, Jonathon O'Rourke and Jackson Macrae all racked big possession numbers.

Viney was relentless in his pursuit of the ball and drove the ball inside 50 a team-high seven times. If Daniher didn't mark then Tom Boyd or Jack Billings did. Billings' capped his game with three first half goals.

Boyd and Billings are bottom age players who will return next season as Vic Metro takes aim at a threepeat of AFL Under 18 Championships.

Both are outstanding talents as evident throughout a Championship where Vic Metro was without peer.

CALDER: Today at home the Cannons take on rivals the Oakleigh Chargers, with both clubs having their private school players available for selection, it promises to be a great game. Coming up on Friday 17th August, the Cannons will be hosting our 4th Annual Auction Night, to again be held in the Highgate Function Room. Last year with many guest speakers sharing their stories and MC David Schwarz running the show, everyone who attended had a great night with many lifestyle and sporting bargains up for grabs. This year we are planning on being bigger and better, a great opportunity to have a night out with everyone at the Cannons and support our club! Anyone able to assist us with our event by donating products or services it would be greatly appreciated, please contact the office on 8339 7482 to discuss.

DANDENONG: Today we welcome the Gippsland Power to the Cave where we will be playing for the CMV Truck and Bus Cup. Each club have aligned sponsorships with CMV dealerships, but bragging rights and trophies have not landed in the Cave since inception... we look to avenge that and our round 1 loss against a quality team who currently is sitting equal top of the ladder. The Stingrays would also like to officially welcome and thank the 100 plus club and player sponsors to today's Sponsors luncheon, without your support we would not be in the position we are at today. Your sponsorship and support is helpful for your player, but as a club we hope you find it enjoyable and we thank you once again for your support and look forward to seeing you at many games this year. Lastly, a big thank you goes to the City Greater Dandenong Council for all their hard work in the off season with the ongoing renovations of the facilities at Shepley Oval. In the 2012-13 year the council has approved redevelopment works to the Keith Miller Pavilion that will see new home change rooms, gym, medical and office upgrades for the Stingrays, as well as an $80,000 electronic scoreboard that will be shared in cost by the Stingrays, Panthers Premier Cricket club and the City of Greater Dandenong Council. Finally, a special thanks to curator extraordinaire Phil Orchard and the team for getting and keeping the ground in 100% condition each week. There are exciting times ahead on and off the field in store for the Rays so get on board.

EASTERN: After seeing our form and confidence improve rapidly over the past couple of weeks, it seemed the boys slipped back into some old bad habits displayed earlier on in the year. That has been addressed during the week and the players & coaching staff will look to turn that around this weekend. The club would like to thank their sponsors for their continued support of the club; Major Sponsors Bayswater Jayco, Bendigo Bank & The Knox Club and Premium Sponsors Phil Munday's, Ultratune, Musashi, ACACIA, Excel Drive School & Connect East. A keen group of parents of current players have been involved from the outset and have worked hard to set up what will be a great event for all involved in the club's outstanding history. A ball will be held at Lardner Park near Warragul on July 28. The highlight of the night will be the announcement of its All-Star team selected from the vast array of talented players who have been through the club since its initial season in 1993. The club has already received acceptances from past players such as Nathan Vardy, David Wocjinski, Jason Winderlich, Dyson Heppell, Jarryd Roughead, Xavier Ellis, Troy Makepeace, Greg Tivendale and Steven Hazelman. Former coaches Paul Hudson and Aussie Jones are attending while AFL legend, Peter Hudson, who was involved with Paul in 2005 and 2006, will be there as well. NORTHERN: Last week the Northern Knights experienced an exciting one point win, in an extraordinary finish to the match. Today, we are back to earth and welcome TAC Cup ladder leaders North Ballarat, to Preston City Oval and invite all players and parents to an Aftermatch in the Function Room after the game. A big thank you to budding young actors/Knights players, Captain Nathan Hrovat, Ben Irving, Hugh Curnow and Michael Kerrigan who took part in the TAC Road Safety Commercial earlier in this week. We look forward to seeing you all feature in the final product once editing is completed. Well done to Sean Bolger who was promoted to the AFL Vic Development League and was named in the best players for the Northern Blues in their win last week. The Northern Knights congratulate James Lowe & Jacob Smith on their selection for Victorian Metro and wish them both every success in the upcoming NAB AFL U/16 National Championships to be held in Western Sydney. Go to the Knights website at www.knights.sportingpulse.net for your latest Club news.

OAKLEIGH: A good win last week with 17 changes to the side the challenge was for the boys to gel and play the Chargers way. The school holidays gives us a good opportunity to re-educate the players and get some continuity into the group. Today we travel to Highgate to play the Cannons with both sides looking to stabilise their position on the ladder with U18 Nationals Representation affecting both teams availability so a great contest is assured. Congratulations to all our 7 U18 Nationals Representatives (4 VM, 2 NSW, 1 NT) for the way they have acquitted themselves during the Championships. I'm sure they have all gained alot from the experience and an achievement they can all look back on with pride. I would like to wish our 5 U16 Vic Metro players all the best for the upcoming U16 National Championships in Sydney. A reminder the club is holding a Staff/Parent get together at the Club on Wednesday 11th July from 6.30pm. Justin and myself to present a mid-year review and Facility Development Strategy for the future. Finger food and some refreshments will be available. We would like to acknowledge and thank our Major Sponsors for the 2012 season, the Bendigo Bank – Murrumbidgee and IS MY CV. Other partner sponsors are: Mulgrave Country Club, Active Lifestyle, Telstra, Diadora and Woodards Real Estate.

SANDRINGHAM: The Sandringham Dragons would like to thank all the boys who helped film the TAC Road Safety Commercial on Wednesday. We are sure it will come up well! Program Fees, Chocolate Money and Warm Up Top Payments are now due, please contact the office if you have any queries. A reminder that this year's team photo will be taken on Monday July 16 at 6.30pm, please make sure you are there. The Dragons are also conducting holiday football camps for boys and girls aged between 5-13. The camp will be run at Princes Park each day from Tuesday July 10 - Thursday July 12. AFL Players will be in attendance so please contact the office on 9532-8688 for more information. Go Dragons!

WESTERN JETS: The Western Jets would like to thank all the mothers for helping with our Thursday night dinners. Without your assistance it would be impossible to have professional preparation for upcoming matches. The Jets major fundraiser for the season is our joint auction with the Williamstown FC. It will be held Saturday 4th August (note date change) at Burbank Oval. Donations from friends and families of the club would be greatly appreciated.
