

MATCHDAY VISITORS IN THE QUARRY

STRONG BULLI CHALLENGE TOP SPOT

TODAY'S visitors Bulli, have stormed up the table in recent weeks and are making a strong challenge for this year's Premier League title.

Three consecutive wins against Kemblawarra (7-0), Albion Park (3-1) and Wollongong Utd (2-1), has seen a massive improvement in the Bulls Paddock Park outfit after a sluggish start to the season.

This could largely be due to the mix of new signings such as; Shane McGirr, Matthew Naylor, Marcello Guerrero and Matt Callahan to name but a few, that are now starting to click under the influential coaching of Adrian Alston.

Alston is one of the most admired and astute coaches in the Illawarra.

He realises goals win games and committed to having one of the best front men partnerships in the business at this level. But their defence can leak goal, which has cost them so far this season. In saying that however, Bulli should be a good bet for a top three spot by season's end regardless.

A quick reminder to all Illawarra past and present players; that the Rod Paterson Testimonial Night will be held on July 21st at the Bulli Workers Club. Loyalty is fast diminishing in our game in this day and age, but Rod has stook it out for 20 years at Bulli, which is well worth recording.

Quote of the week:

Every player, manager & all coaching staff should read this:

"IT could be an open game because that is the way we play and we are not going to change our philosophy for this match.

"There is a lot at stake and that fear sometimes results in a negative game and it's important your big players turn up on the big day.

"But we will set out without fear and be positive. We have to go and grasp the reward, not wait for a mistake.

"I will give the team the same message I give them every week.

"They have got to trust each other's abilities, trust each others jobs and when they go out they have got to look each other in the eye, know they are out there together and try to achieve.

"When you win you come in, you throw your sweat-sodden shirts on the floor, get in the bath and celebrate.

"You need that camaraderie in the dressing room to know that when you are out on the field you are not only doing it for yourself, you are doing it for your mates and for the team.

"That's what football is about - doing it together and achieving together."

RESERVES & YOUTH

5-0 blitz send Youth into Top Eight

KIAMA Youth grade had yet another resounding success with a 5 nil demolition of its hosts Consiton. Blake Eickaler netting a brace.

Coach, Wayne Farnsworth has instilled a great camaraderie among the team and the boys are playing terrific football this season.

Another win against Bulli today is not beyond them, with a top eight place a definite possibility on recent form by the end of this season.

Self-belief and confidence is a huge thing in football, and Farnsworth is achieving this goal.

MATCHDAY ROUND-UP

KIAMA DIG DEEP FOR IMPORTANT RESULT

Consiton Lions 3 Kiama 5

KIAMA came away from Consiton last Friday night, with three valuable points in its fight for survival in the IFA Premier League in a 5-3 thriller.

The win leap-frogs the Lions on the ladder, and with Kemblawarra losing 7-0 at the hands of a rampant Bulli on Saturday, Kiama now sit above their two closest rivals with a superior goal difference.

The Quarriers dug deep after last week's 6-0 mauling at the hands of Dapto, to consolidate its position as a future Premier League outfit worthy of a starting place in next season's competition.

Kiama hit the front as early as the 10th minute when an in-swinging Kris Brant free kick from near the byline was tapped in by midfielder Jonny Hatton in a crowded area to open the score.

But things didn't go according to plan. Within five minutes, Consiton had equalised from a disputed freekick at the edge of the area, and then took the lead halfway through the first half from the penalty spot.

Dave Buchanan, who was doubtful for the game with Chris Hudson

after receiving a knock against Dapto the previous week, saw a great effort flash past the up-right as Kiama ended the half marginally on top, but still a goal behind.

But in a tension packed first half, neither side could gain the uperhand, as both sides realised what a loss would mean to their clubs' campaign.

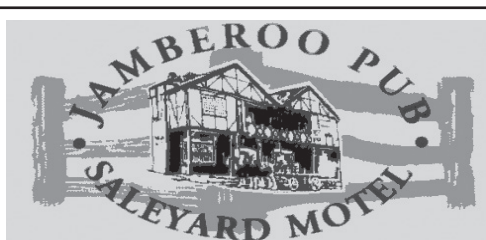

From the restart, Kiama made their intentions clear; Matt Goss worked hard down the flank to create openings while the midfield of Mitch Grant, Brad Gallagher, Alex Cross, James Donlon and Hatton continued to pressure the Consiton defence.

Then, in a two minute spell, the game was thrown wide open. A left-footed screamer from last season's leading marksman, Kris Brant, broke Consiton's hearts with a well placed drive from 25 yards to level.

Dave Buchanan then launched another long range effort moments later to make it 3-2 for The Quarriers.

It could easily go down as one of the goals of the season, as both ball and keeper were sent into the back of the net, such was the force of the

KIAMA DRAW AT BULLI

Last Sunday: Kiama womens team are still finding it hard to score goals, but maintain their unbeaten run and remain top of Division Two, after its goalless draw away at Bulli.

Meanwhile, big wins for Woonona and Shellharbour City at the weekend, reduced the deficit at the top of the ladder to just one point.

Kiama travelled to Dapto this morning (10am) with that side coming off a 9-0 thumping of bot-tom placed Thirroul.

sweetly struck shot from 18 yards.

Coniston were not to be outdone however, and with so much relying on the game, the Lions pushed forward and equalised on the hour with Kiel Zerner beaten at the far post.

Exciting young Kiama prospect, Tom Mayes, was sent on for the tiring Grant and once again proved a handful, as he had done previously in the win over Warilla Wanderers in the midweek Bampton Cup game.

With 10 minutes remaining, and as Consiton weakened, James Donlon fired in the fourth goal to cap a fine individual performance.

Kiama grew in confidence from that point, and a sublime team effort on the 84th minute involving man of the match Alex Cross, finished off the game, with 16 year-old Hatton on hand to stab home his second and the fifth for Kiama in a much improved team performance after the Dapto encounter.

Once again Kiama pulled out all the stops to preserve its place amongst the elite, but it still must realise that heading into the halfway mark of the season, there is work to be done to secure its right to compete in the premier league of the day.

Talking Point

with The Editor

FOUR years ago this month, three year-old India Verity tragically died when a portable goal-post weighing 180 kilograms fell on top of her at a Moss Vale soccer gala day.

Last month in Winchester, America, a 10 year-old boy was killed under similar circumstances, when portable goals blew over in a strong gust of wind, and in Britain it has been noted that as many as 9 youngsters have lost their lives to portable goalposts not been properly secured since 1999.

These are not 'freak accidents' but rather the negligence of adults and clubs who either know no better, or are ill-informed of the dangers.

There has been a huge campaign across the country to inform people of the dangers of these goals, but it is still left up to the clubs to monitor their own situations

Since India's death, new guidelines to a set standard of manufacturing "non-fixed goals" have been put in place (March 2005), but there are still many older-style or even home-made goals being used. Victoria banned all portable goals made prior to 2005 and they must now comply with the strict guidelines created in the Fair Trading Act (March 2005).

All football associations should make note of this on their websites, but at the end of the day, it is our children who place complete trust in adult supervision to get it right, so that they may enjoy the beautiful game without this unnecessary danger. Let's get it right for our kids!
