COACH'S CORNER

The scoreboard doesn't always tell you how a team has performed? Even though it will read that we lost by 80pts and they missed many shots, what you wont read is that the boys held their heads high, stuck to the plan, kept bashing in, tackled everything and most importantly they "HAD A CRACK"

I am sure I speak for everyone when I say that is all we ask of our players! Even if you are outsized, less skillful and not as experienced you can always have a go and they certainly did that last week!

So we look forward to the next game to see if we can maintain the effort. Sunday should have given the boys an injection of confidence in that they can compete and if they continue to give an honest effort then the scoreboard will reflect the work being done and we will win a couple of more games before seasons end.

We will continue to work hard, stick together and believe!! Cheers Pav.
