SEASON 2014 UNDERWAY

Although poor weather threatened to keep many teams off the field last weekend, season 2014 kicked off in style. Across the grades there were some tight matches and a few surprising results to be found.

AFL Sydney Mark of the Year Contender
 If you haven't seen the screamer that Sydney University's Kelvin Barnes took last Saturday at Henson Park do yourself a favour and jump on the AFL Sydney website!

This weekend should hopefully see the first game in AFL Sydney for our newest club in the Wollondilly Knights. Led by an enthusiastic group the Knights will be a great addition to our league and we welcome them to AFL Sydney and wish them well in the Division Four competition this year.

On Saturday we also see the first women's matches for the year as the Division Two competition kicks off with a gala day hosted by the Auburn Giants at Mona Park. The day will see the debut of three new teams in Manly-Warringah, UNSW-ES (Reserves) and Moorebank while up the F3 Gosford will begin their first season also with a home game against the Randwick City Angels. In total there are four new women's teams this year showing significant growth in female footy. Good luck to all the women's teams competing in 2014!

The AFL Sydney Match of the Week streamed live will come from Weldon Oval as last years Premier Manly-Warringah raise their Premiership flag. The formalities will be followed by a replay of last years Grand Final as Pennant Hills look for retribution against the Giants. With the two sides tipped to be the teams to beat in 2014 and both very impressive in their opening round matches, if this match is half that of the Grand Final this is a must watch. Tune in from 2:20pm at www.youtube.com/aflsydneylive if you cant get to Weldon.

Last weekend Western Suburbs made a statement with their big win over Campbelltown and sit atop the Premier Division ladder for the first time in a few years with Manly-Warringah and Pennant Hills just behind. Sydney University and UNSW/ES rounded out the winners.

Enjoy your weekend at the football!

ROUND 1 REVIEW

Article by Michael Shillito

The off-season is over, and footy is back. After pre-season training and trial games, the weekend was time to get the real footy under way. Balmain and Illawarra dropped down to Div 1 for 2014, cutting Premier Division to ten clubs; the right number for each team to play each other twice in 18 rounds.

The season opened on 29th March, the earliest start date in living memory. But it wasn't too early for the wintery rain which saw several grounds closed, however the five Premier Division fixtures went ahead, each having plenty of interest and talking points.

University pride was on the line at Trumper Park, as UTS hosted UNSW-ES. There was added spice in this contest, with former Bats' coach Daniel Lynch defecting to the Bulldogs over the off-season.

The defences were tight during the early exchanges, and only three goals were scored in the opening quarter. Two of them went the Bulldogs' way, giving them a seven point lead at the first change.

In the second term the Bats' game plan looked to be falling nicely into place. The Bats wasted little time in taking the lead in the second term, and with a run of four goals to one had opened up a 12-point lead at the long break. It was four goals to two in the third term, with the Bats also missing plenty of kickable chances at goal. Leading by 26 points at the last change, the momentum running their way, only the staunchest Bulldog optimist could possibly have foreseen how the pendulum would swing in the last quarter. When the teams emerged from the huddle, it was the Bulldogs who found their stamina, digging deep and working their way back into the contest.

It wasn't always pretty, and at times they made it hard for themselves as shots at goal sailed wide. But the defence was magnificent, holding the Bats to just two behinds for the final quarter. And at the other end, although they had to scramble to do it, the Bulldogs managed to conjure up four goals, enough to take the lead in the dying minutes and holding on for a remarkable three-point win.

Ryan Plant, Jeremy Kiel and David Batten were listed as the Bulldogs' best; but it was a solid all-round team effort to salvage a win that looked out of their reach in the third quarter. For the Bats, Justin Kenna, Joshua Maddox and Liam Flanagan gave sterling service all day.

Two teams with hopes of playing finals this year after missing out in the last few years played off at Picken Oval when Western Suburbs were at home to Campbelltown.

The Magpies weren't far off the finals pace last year; and had recruited well over the off-season, including several ex-Balmain players who were keen to continue playing Premier Division. The Blues had finished 2013 with a wet sail, and were hoping to build on that momentum as the new season started.

But it didn't take long for it to be clear that this was going to be a one-sided contest. From the start, the Magpies asserted themselves, piling on the pressure and striking key blows on the scoreboard. Five goals to one in the opening quarter saw the Magpies lead by 23 points at the first change; and five unanswered goals in the second term saw the margin blow out to 54 points at half time.

There was little doubt the Magpies would easily prevail when the teams emerged from the rooms for the second half. But Wests were far from finished, and with plenty of scoring chances opening up they kept the scoreboard ticking over. At the other end, the Blues ended their goal drought and did manage three for the quarter, but they were rare moments of respite from the relentless Magpie juggernaut. With six goals to three for the quarter, the margin was out to 70 points at the last change.

With five goals to two in the last quarter, a dominant day for the Magpies was complete, with the final winning margin being 90 points. Twelve Magpie players got themselves onto the goal-scoring list including Brenton Mumme with a six-goal return. Around the ground, Leigh Conway, Mumme and Lindsay Scown were among their best. For the Blues, Hamish Sherwood, Aidan Bell and Jeconiah Peni kept persevering through a tough afternoon.

After winning the premiership in their first season in Premier Division, Manly travelled to Kelso Oval to take on St George in the first game of their title defence. For the first time, the side from the Northern Beaches were taking the field under the Giants name. But, even with a new identity, the relentless drive that took the team to dizzying heights last year was still there.

The Dragons had drawn with Manly at Olds Park on the eve of last year's finals, but there were signs even early on that they weren't going to snatch any premiership points this time round. From the start, the Giants were controlling proceedings around the ground, and there were plenty of avenues to goal. Six goals to three in the opening term opened up a 20-point quarter time lead; and after a run of four goals to one in the second, the lead was 43 points to the Giants at the long break.

ROUND 1 REVIEW

It wasn't the start to the season the Dragons were hoping for; but they rallied in the third quarter, working hard to stop the Giants' run. And it was working well during the third term, as the Dragons managed four goals to one, cutting the margin to 23 points at the last change and giving themselves just the slightest sniff of getting back into the contest.

But hopes of a miracle comeback for St George would come to nothing, as the Giants regained the ascendancy in the last quarter. With four goals to two, the final margin was 33 points, a comfortable enough first round result and one which keeps Manly's hopes of going back to back as strong as ever.

Brayden Fowler spearheaded the Giants' charge with five goals, while Thomas Thurgarland, Harrison Koch and Angus Buncle were prominent around the ground. Harrison Green, Thomas Green and Alex Wynn worked hard all day for the Dragons.

The NEAFL competition also started this weekend; but with Sydney Uni having the bye in the opening round of the NEAFL and having a near full list to choose from, the Students fielded a strong side for their clash against North Shore at Henson Park on Saturday evening.

Goals were hard to come by early but the Students got the early jump, with three goals to one to lead by ten points at the first change. After an early Uni goal in the second quarter, the Bombers fought back with the next three goals to take the lead. But the lead would be short-lived as the Students hit back with the last two goals of the quarter to lead by eight points at half time.

The third quarter would follow a similar pattern to the second, with the Bombers closing the gap before the Students steadied. It was a low-scoring quarter, just two goals apiece, and as the teams went into the three quarter time huddle, the eight point lead to the Students remaining intact.

Again in the last quarter, the Bombers would emerge full of running, and it didn't take long for them to get within striking distance of the lead. But the Students again steadied to kick five goals to three for the quarter and complete the win.

Ryan Bottin-Noonan kicked four goals for the Students, while Kelvin Barnes, Ben Fitzpatrick and Matthew Powys were ball magnets around the ground. Selby Lee-Steere, Nick Foster and Jack Campbell were North Shore's best.

North Shore had matched it around the ground against a NEAFL-standard opponent, and produced more scoring shots. But the Bombers were unable to make the most of their chances, and would leave the venue disappointed and fuming.

Sunday at Blacktown No 2 saw Pennant Hills take on Sydney Hills Eagles. Fine but humid conditions greeted the players, and the Demons would quickly shake off the disappointment of a loss in last year's Grand Final as they would comfortably take the points against the Eagles.

The Demons would keep the scoreboard ticking over quickly in the opening term, getting the jump on the Eagles with a run of four goals to one in the first quarter to lead by 20 points at quarter time. The second quarter would be similar, four goals to two and a lead of 28 points at half time. Every time the Eagles would challenge, the Demons had the answers; and there was never any realistic prospect of the Eagles getting themselves back into the contest.

It wasn't always one-way traffic. There were times when the Eagles would control the ball for several minutes, even managing a few scoring shots. But the Demons were never out of the contest for too long before again finding a way to re-assert themselves. It was nothing fancy or dramatic; just Pennant Hills doing what they usually do, efficiently working around the ground and getting the job done. Five goals to three in the third quarter saw the lead stretch to 44 points.

The sting had gone out of the game in the last quarter, and the Eagles were able to salvage some respectability on the scoreboard, winning the quarter with four goals to one to cut the final margin to 27 points. But it was the Demons' day, and four points to open the season.

Daniel Preen scored four goals for the Demons, while James Dunn, Damian Dell'Aquila and Seb Parker were influential around the ground. For the Eagles, Marc Dragicevic, Stephen O'Connor and Joshua Cass worked hard all afternoon.

THE CARLTON BLUES

Ever wondered how Carlton got to wear the navy blue colour?

It was towards the end of the 1860s that the colours were decided upon. Prior to that time the players wore yellow and black caps, but the balance of the apparel was not uniform.

Carlton player, Jack Donovan, was the first to appear in knickers. These are not to be confused with the present day knickers worn by women but obviously this is where the term originated. The knickers then were loose fitting short pants gathered at knee. Before, and for some time after, players wore a form of trousers and this could possibly be attributed to why cricket has stuck with long pants instead of the more sensible look of shorts.

Baseball too is another sport which failed to move out of the past. Their players there continue to wear knickerbockers as they did more than 100 years ago.

Well Jack Donovan caused a sensation when the question of a regular costume was being discussed. Another Carlton player, Orlando or 'Lanty' O'Brien wished that the French Zouavt uniform should be adopted. There was also a proposal that the light blue of Cambridge should be worn. Mr. T S Marshall, the 1866 Carlton captain and later, much revered long term club secretary, moved that the colour be Oxford Blue, and this suggestion was carried. They have remained the Blues ever since.

Carlton have played in Sydney many times over the years. In fact it was Carlton FC who first made the tentative step into Sydney football in 1878 when they played rugby side, Waratah at the Albert Sports Ground in Redfern. The table below does not include the occasions Carlton played teams other than NSW or Sydney. All of these games were played in Sydney.

2014 RISING STAR

Taylor Preece is an U19 Swans Academy representative who had a stellar season for UNSW/ES U18s last season.

Taylor has carried that form through the pre-season and was picked to make his first grade debut against UTS in Round 1.

Playing on the wing and across half forward he continued to present and got better and better as the match went on. Preece took a number of crucial contested marks in the second half and kicked a couple of important goals.

With plenty of upside, Preece is just one of a large number of future first grade players coming through UNSW/ES U19s ranks.

With hard work and a focus on maintaining consistency throughout games and throughout a season, Taylor has a really bright future ahead in senior football.

To be eligible to win the Mens or Womens AFL Sydney Rising Star award the player must:

- Be under 21 years of age;
- Play a minimum of four Premier Division / Womens matches during the season;
- Be in his or her first full season of senior football (i.e. Played less than four senior matches in AFL Sydney or equivalent competition prior to this season);
- The weekly award winners are nominated by their clubs and awarded accordingly on their performances over the previous weeks
- The Rising Star winner will be determined by AFL Sydney Premier Division & Womens Coaches from the weekly nominees.

FLAG FLYING HIGH AT WELDON

Manly-Warringah Giants will this week have their chance to rub salt into the wound of the team they defeated in last year's grand final.

Taking on Pennant Hills in Round Two, the newly badged Giants are set to unfurl the 2013 Premiership Flag to a touch of fanfare at their first home game of the season.

Club President, Russell Clack humbly acknowledges that this will be a grand moment in history for the club.

"We are very proud of the achievement, and at the same time honoured to be given the opportunity to compete for it."

"It has significant meaning across the club and represents a culmination of 45 years since the foundation of the club, reflective of the tremendous efforts many people have put into the club on an off the field."

Adding to the emotion of the moment for Manly-Warringah, the 2013 Premiership Flag will be raised in front of their only living club founder, Harry Marston, whose birthday fell on the same day that the then Wolves came away with the 8-point victory.

It has been a busy lead up to the season for the reigning premiers. Announcing their affiliation with Greater Western Sydney, the Wolves became the Giants and a new era officially commenced at the club.

In an aim to raise the profile of the club, and the game of AFL, across the Northern Beaches region, Clack is enthused by the local community's swift response to the new alliance.

"From a club point of view we are already learning the way..an elite AFL club operates, and have also had much new interest in people wanting to come down to the club and help out."

Clack admits that it may take some time to embed their new title amongst long-time supporters, however, ensures that the traditional Wolves culture remains at the crux of their game.

"We will be working hard to maintain the tie with the Wolves identity, as an example, having a heritage round once a year where we wear the Wolves jumpers, and we are also keeping our maroon and white club colours..."

On field, Clack warns other clubs to expect an unpredictable defence of the Bill Hart Cup. Planning to pick up where they left off in 2013, the Giants aim to play "competitive accountable football" each week, and enjoy their time on the field along the way.

Fielding a range of new recruits, the Giants welcome the healthy competition for selection that has blossomed during the pre-season, and with early predictions of a Pennant Hills triumph in 2014, Clack relishes their underdog title.

"We prefer the underdog status as that is when we play our best football. With that said, Pennant Hills are deserving of the ranking, they have a talented football side."

Away from the Premier Division side, Manly-Warringah are pleased with the depth coming out of Weldon Oval.

"Our Under 19 side is moving up to Division 1 this season, and they look stronger than ever."

"[With] our Premier Division and Division 2 sides, we expect them to be as highly competitive as last year. With our Division 4, side we are looking to take the next step and be competitive consistently..."

With growth, comes expansion and for the Giants this sees the birth of a women's side in 2014. Coached by the ever-capable Samantha Engel, the team is said to have made their mark within the club already.

"I think they will surprise a few as most of the girls come from sports background, and they have banded really well together and look a team on the track."

AFL SYDNEY MATCH OF THE WEEK
