AROUND THE GROUNDS

This weekend is AFL Indigenous Round where we celebrate the contribution players, participants, fans and Indigenous communities bring to our game, both on and off the field. This week will celebrate the theme 'When you dream, everything's possible'.

Dreaming plays and important part in indigenous culture and it's something perhaps we could all do a little more of. Because when you dream, everything's possible.

Dreaming is how kids growing up all over the country have gone on to become footy legends, teaching new generations to dream of achieving their own greatness.

And dreaming is what has inspired change for Indigenous rights and recognition and gives us hope for the future.

So join the celebration of our country's Indigenous culture and the proud athletes who've played such an important role, not just on the ground but also off it.

The theme inspired by the significant achievements and contribution made by Indigenous people and communities, past and present, to the game, including the great honour 2014 Australian of the Year Adam Goodes has brought to the game, the incredible story of Sir Doug Nicholls, first ever AFL player to be knighted, as well as the ten year anniversary of the Long Walk and Dreamtime at the G.

Indigenous rounds coincides with the top grades returning to competition after a much needed week off and some classic matches are ensured across the divisions.

The Round 8 Match of the Week features Sydney University hosting Pennant Hills at Henson Park on Saturday afternoon. Pennant Hills not surprisingly sit in outright 2nd but the Students have proved the real surprise packets and a win here will go a long way to competing in finals again. Tune in at www.youtube.com/aflydneylive from 2:00pm for all the action live.

Next weekend is a full round bye for all competitions (excluding a few wet weather catch up games) however the leagues best players will be representing AFL Sydney as part of the 2014 representative football program. Both the senior men's and women's side will be travelling to Canberra on Saturday 7th June to take on AFL Canberra at StarTrack Oval that evening while the 23's team will head north to Newcastle to take on the Black Diamond.

Congratulations to all players selected in these teams. It is a great honour to wear the league jumper and we hope you do the league proud both on and off the field. Good luck to all involved.

Have a great weekend at the footy!

Campbelltown Ressies grab back to back wins!
 Following on from the Macarthur GIANTS maiden victory the week prior, Campbelltown's Reserve Grade two weeks ago chalked up their first win in almost two years. Not satisfied with one win, last weekend they made it two in a row with victory over Manly-Warringah. No doubt after researching the team song it would have been sung with much gusto. Congratulations!

ROUND 7 REVIEW

Article and Photos by Michael Shillito

UTS vs North Shore

The season to date certainly hasn't gone to plan for UTS. The Bats, with their enormous pool of players and strong recruiting network, had high hopes that 2014 would be the year in which they would make it to the Premier Division finals for the first time. But the first six rounds had seen them left without a win, having copped some heavy defeats. Their only premierships points had come from a draw against Sydney Uni.

So when the Bats took the field against North Shore, another defeat would have been horrendous for their finals prospects. There was no time for any more losses. The Bombers were another side with high expectations that the reality hadn't lived up to. But, although decimated by injuries, the Bombers had at least recorded some wins; and were playing to move into the top five.

It was a gloriously sunny day at Waverley Oval, blue skies over the ground and extending down the hill to the ocean below. The ground was looking a treat, and there were plenty of spectators on hand as the Bats and the Bombers faced off.

With some early goals, the Bombers took the lead; but looked far from impressive. Goals were hard to come by, but the Bombers would remain ahead through the first half. Three goals to two in the first quarter, and North Shore led by seven points at the first change. But through the second term, every time the Bombers threatened to kick away, they found themselves unable to shake off the Bats; and the home side would come up with the answering goal. And with a late surge in the shadows of half time, the North Shore lead was cut to just two points at the long break.

This is UTS's fourth season in Premier Division. In each of the previous seasons, North Shore have made the finals and UTS haven't; but the Bats have given the Bombers grief, with the Bats having recorded a few wins and made the Bombers distinctly uncomfortable on other occasions. And there would be plenty of discomfort for the Bombers in the premierships quarter.

It took seven minutes for a goal to be scored, but a strong mark by Michael May just inside the 50 broke the deadlock and gave the Bats the lead for the first time in the game. And a couple of minutes later, May was again in the thick of the action, pouncing on a grubber kick forward and shooting over his shoulder. A running Adam Baker was cooking up a handy lead for the Bats as he slammed another goal through; and when Scott Tregoning capitalised on a free kick, the Bats were well on top.

They weren't finished yet, as Liam Flanagan launched a booming torp from outside the 50 to land another. Confidence, which had deserted the home side for so long, was back; as the Bats were finding winners all around the ground. Even with the Bombers getting a late goal back in time on, with Shaun Atkins finding himself at the end of an impressive run from Dale Fitzgerald, the Bats were 20 points ahead at the last change and victory was all but assured.

The last quarter was largely a countdown to the Bats being able to finally sing their victory song and wasn't a term that produced any great highlights. But by now, UTS had regained the winning feeling and went on with the job in the last quarter with a run of four goals to two. Finally the siren sounded, and finally the Bats had cause to celebrate.

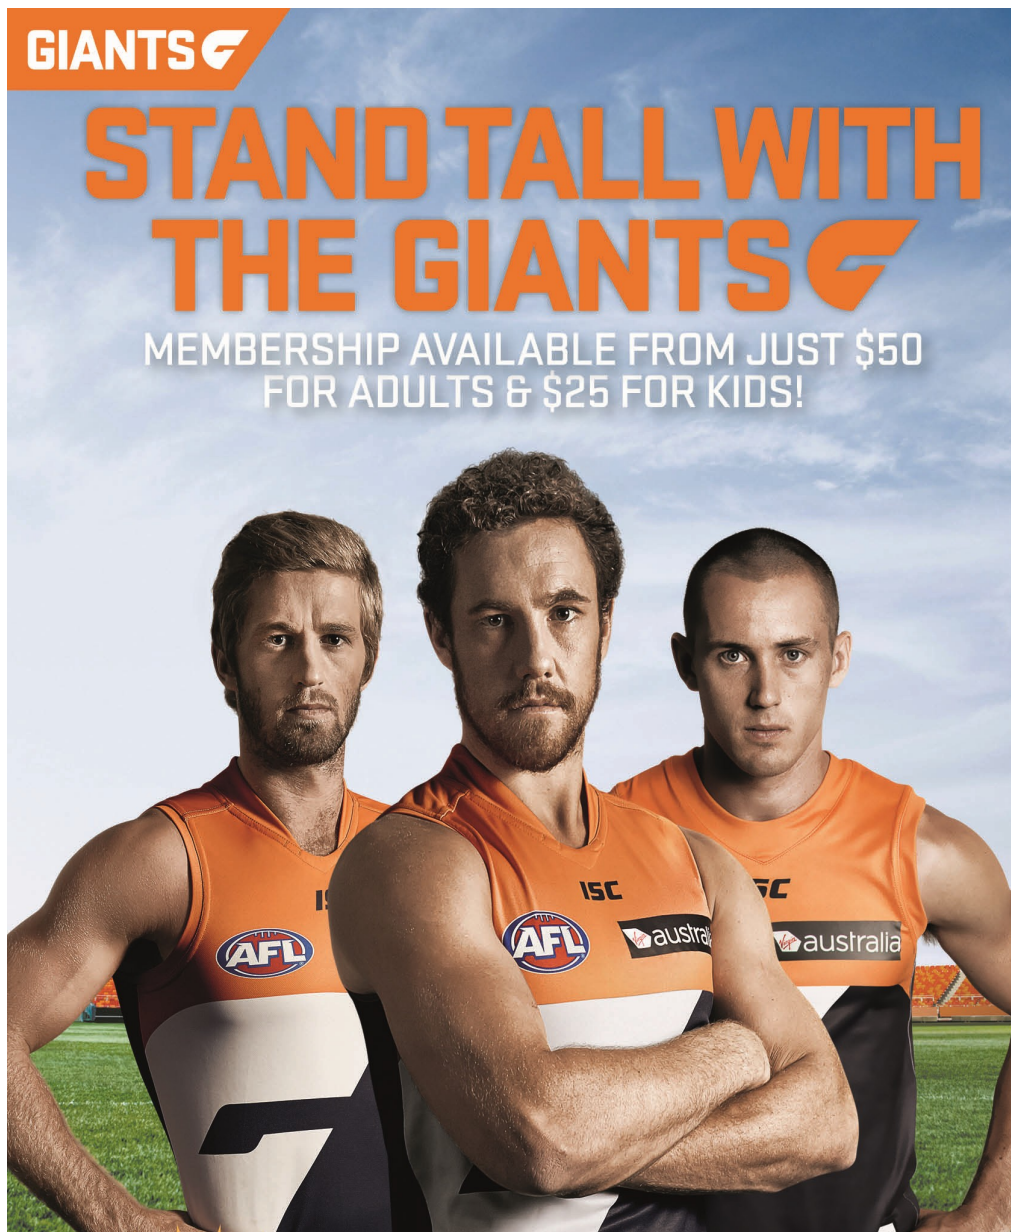

The final margin was 27 points, a comfortable enough result for the Bats' breakthrough win. Brendan Brown, Harry Whiting and Tom Zilm had been their best. For the disappointing Bombers, Jack Campbell, James McKenzie and Daniel Schacher had toiled tirelessly; but it was a below-par performance from the Bombers and one which places their chances of making the finals into question.

St George vs Sydney University

St George hosted Sydney Uni at Olds Park on Saturday afternoon, two of the teams that have got themselves into the top five early in the season and look a strong chance to stay there. And it would be the Dragons who would give themselves a boost against a possible finals opponent when they capitalised on a strong start to record a 14-point victory.

ROUND 7 REVIEW

With the home ground advantage, and keen to make a statement early, the Dragons burst out of the blocks with a flying start that would prove to be the difference between the two sides. The early goals would be crucial, a run of four goals to two in the opening term, with St George leading by eleven points at quarter time. And the Dragons would continue to attack the goals in the second term, but their accuracy would desert them. There were three goals apiece in the second term, and as the teams returned to the rooms at half time, the Dragons held a 14-point advantage.

The Dragons had been easily the better side through the first half, but the Students were still within striking distance. And during the third term, they threw the challenge out to the Dragons; with a string of goals to close the margin. But the Dragons had the answers, and would come up with goals to repel the Student challenge. After a quarter of four goals apiece, the three quarter time siren sounded; the margin finishing where it started at 14 points.

The last term was mainly going through the motions, as Sydney Uni never looked a chance to steal the game. Each side would score just one goal in the final term. The final quarter, like the third, saw each side record the same scores; the half time and three quarter time margin remaining intact at the finish. Dean Gilbert, Alex Wynn and Stephen Wilsen had been ball magnets for the Dragons, especially during the explosive opening term that would prove the difference between the two sides. For the Students, Jack Caspersonn, Sam Sleigh and Evan Smith were among their best.

Hills Eagles vs Pennant Hills

It was an early start at Bruce Purser Reserve for the north-western derby as Sydney Hills Eagles played host to Pennant Hills. The Demons were red-hot favourites, and already by quarter time it looked clear that they were well on their way to a win. The Eagles had early chances but could only manage behinds; while the Demons scored four unanswered goals to lead by 20 points at the first change.

It was looking comfortable for the Demons in the second term, as they raced away with six goals to three to lead by 39 points at half time. But when the teams re-emerged for the third quarter, suddenly the Eagles found a second wind and began to work their way back into the contest. Players who were barely sighted in the first half began to get more of the ball, and the scoreboard began to tick over. The Eagles would kick six goals to three for the quarter, cutting the margin to 17 points; and but for a few missed shots that should have been kicked, would have got even closer.

But the Demons steadied during the three quarter time break, and the Eagles could get no closer. Four goals to two in the final quarter was enough to ensure the Demons would be in no danger, as they regained control of the ball and regained control of the contest. It had been a bold third quarter challenge by the Eagles, but the Demons were able to shut down the challenge when it mattered to run out 31-point winners.

Stephen Wray had been important in coming up with goals when they needed, and finished with a haul of six goals. He was ably assisted up forward by Sam Zikman, who finished with four. Around the ground, Kieran Wright, Thomas Edmonds and Stephen Wray had been among their best. On a day when the Eagles showed some fight against a top opponent, they were well served by the efforts of Aaron Savage, Matthew Scholz and Tim Garlick.

Campbelltown vs Manly Warringah

When Campbelltown, who have only won one game so far this season, hosted the undefeated Manly at Monarch Oval on Saturday afternoon, the Giants were the hottest of favourites. And they would take the points, but not before they faced an afternoon of determined resistance from a Campbelltown side that were determined to take the fight up to their opponents.

Not much separated the two sides in the first quarter, as the Giants struggled early on to cope with the vast expanses at Monarch and the swirling winds that the locals are so much more familiar with. Around the ground, the Blues were matching it with their opposition, denying the Giants easy possessions. Two goals apiece was the scoreline in the opening term, the Giants two points ahead after a more than competitive quarter from the Blues.

ROUND 7 REVIEW

Manly took the upper hand in the second quarter, although the Blues still weren't making it easy for them. The Giants got on top on the scoreboard with three goals to one for the quarter, leading by 13 points at half time; although the game was still very much in the balance. But as the third quarter progressed, the Giants did enough to overcome their opponents with a run of four goals to two, extending the lead to 26 points.

It had been a brave effort by the Blues to take up the fight to the Giants, but they didn't have the firepower to match it with them. The Giants were able to come up with goals when they were needed, piling on the scoreboard pressure; and a further four goals to two in the final quarter extended the visitors' final winning margin to 41 points.

Brayden Fowler was the dominant force in the game, finishing with six goals for Manly in a best-on-ground performance; while Anthony Robertson and Calum Johnston were also prominent for the Giants; who maintain their unbeaten status in 2014. Matt Edwins offered plenty of resistance for the Blues, kicking four goals; and along with Nathan Lomas and Joel Bottin-Noonan was among their best. The Blues won plenty of respect for their competitive performance, but it wasn't enough to take the points.

Western Suburbs vs UNSW/ES

The round finished under lights at Henson Park on Saturday night, with Wests hosting UNSW-ES in a high-standard and entertaining game that would see numerous changes in momentum.

The Magpies, looking to maintain their position in the top five, were the stronger team as the match started; putting plenty of pressure on the Bulldogs to kick five goals to two in the opening term and leading by 18 points at quarter time. The second quarter was a shoot-out, as the Bulldogs threw caution to the wind and threw men forward to keep the scoreboard ticking over. It was a high scoring quarter of footy, six goals to three in favour of the Bulldogs as they cut the Magpie lead to just two points at half time.

But for all the free-flowing play that the Bulldogs used to get back into the game in the second term, they would find themselves frustrated in the third. Instead it was the Magpies who would re-assert themselves, shutting the Bulldogs down and holding them to just one goal for the quarter while adding five to their side of the scoreboard; getting out to a 26-point lead. Much of the sting had gone out of the game by the time the last quarter got under way, and it was a low-scoring quarter in which the sides would score just one goal apiece as a marathon day drew to a close with the Magpies completing a 25-point win.

Brenton Mumme was the focal point for the Magpies' attacking raids, finishing with four goals for the night. Around the ground, Matt Round ran rings around his Bulldog opposition to be best on ground, while Lindsay Scown and Leigh Conway also made prominent contributions. James Pascoe put up solid resistance on the Bulldog forward line, particularly during their second quarter burst, to finish with five goals; and along with Jeremy Daniher and Chris Jourdain, was among UNSW-ES's best.

Premier Division will take a break next weekend, as a wet weather round was scheduled but hasn't been required. There will be catch-up games and scheduled games in other divisions; but Premier Division will have the week off. This column will also take a week off, and we'll be back in two weeks' time to review the next round of Premier Division.

And a warning in advance that column will probably not come online till some time on the Monday after that weekend – I'm in Melbourne on the Sunday and I'm unlikely to get a chance to edit it on the Sunday night.

THOSE WERE THE DAYS

This page is provided by the NSW Australian Football History Society. The Society's aims are to preserve the memory of NSW football. Tomorrow this game you are at will become history. Who won this, why did they do that, what does that mean? The Society wants to preserve those memories. Your club can help by designating a club historian to work with the Society. As well you or the club can join, the details of which are on their website: www.nswfootballhistory.com.au

In the first decade of the last century, a number of VFL (now AFL) clubs regularly visited Sydney, sometimes for a holiday and at others, to play, normally against NSW or a combined Sydney side.

In nearly all of these visits the clubs made no claim on the gate takings to offset their travel and accommodation costs and what money was raised was left with the league in Sydney.

This gesture was particularly welcomed by league officials and in 1909 with Collingwood, Geelong and premiers, South Melbourne all visiting at the same time, allowed the NSW Football League to declare a very rare profit on their operational activities.

Such was the magnanimity of these gestures that it led one Sydney official to comment that these VFL clubs "must have money to burn."

It was pleasing to read a comment written in the Sydney Morning Herald in 1906 regarding the St Kilda visit in August 1906, which read:

"The last day of the visiting team in Sydney was fully occupied in a very pleasant manner yesterday. The morning was devoted to a harbour trip, which was thoroughly enjoyed, the weather being genial and the attendance good.

After lunch the visitors, escorted by several members of the League, paid a visit to Messrs. Beale and Co. Pianoforte Factory at 47 Trafalgar St Annandale where the manager showed them through the various departments, and explained the process of manufacture from the time of arrival of the raw material, till the finished article was produced.

Afterwards, a vocal and instrumental concert was provided, and a repast served, which was thoroughly enjoyed. Several toasts were enthusiastically honoured.

An adjournment was then made to Messrs Tooth and Co 's brewery (Broadway, Sydney) where the visitors were shown round by Messrs. Finn and Whiting after which an adjournment was made to the dining hall, handsomely decorated in honour of the visitors, where refreshments were partaken of. The toast "Success to the firm of Messrs. Tooth and Co " proposed by Messrs. Rason (vice-president) and Dixon (manager), of St. Kilda, was heartily received.

After inspecting the new railway station (Central Railway Station was opened only days before on 4 August, 1906) a visit was made to the head station of the Metropolitan Fire Brigade (located in Castlereagh Street, Sydney) where, through the courtesy of Mr Stoneham, an interesting and instruction hour was spent.

The team left last night by the southern mail for Wagga, where the last match of the tour will be played to-day. A large gathering of local "Australian" players and supporter attended to give them a hearty send off.

The days of groups of people seeing off friends and family at the Sydney Rail Terminal, Mascot Airport or one of the many wharfs in the city have long gone.

MAGPIES LOOKING FOR EDGE

By Caitlin Arnold

With competition in Sydney AFL going from strength to strength as each season passes, clubs are recognising the need to up-the-ante in their approach to the game. The Moorebank Magpies are one such club who are reworking their tactics in order to gain an advantage.

Introducing Strength and Conditioning Coach Levih Warby last year, the club realised the worth of a professional approach the game, as they saw immediate results on the scoreboard.

Following a successful 2013 campaign – three of their teams competing in the finals series – their 2014 aspirations were to aim higher.

However, as can happen to any club, the Magpies have been struck down with illness and injury in the opening stages of the 2014 season, providing less than desired match outcomes.

With each of their teams (Division Two, Division Four, Division Five, Women's Division Two and Under 19s Division Two) currently knocking on the door of the top half of the ladder, Club President and Senior Coach Mark Coles admits that they had hoped for better results this year.

Unable to find continuity amongst their playing group and the wet weather wreaking havoc, the club has begun holding team dinners with the aim of bringing the players and coaching staff together to discuss tactics.

"They assess their own performance and provide feedback to the coaches on how they see things," explains Coles.

Coles says that the way forward at Moorebank is to continue to develop their proficient attitude toward training, and then capitalising on their investments at the club.

"This season has seen a qualified Physiotherapist at every training session to diagnose injuries, recommend treatment and provide the treatment itself.

"Each team has a Physiotherapist with them for away games, whilst two are in attendance at home games."

Soon to be introducing a new Strength and Conditioning Coach – Warby is set to leave the club due to outside commitments – the Magpies are hoping that this will add another level of fitness to their game.

"Looking at results, our medium term aim is to see the Seniors and Reserves playing competitive football in Division One and Three. We are also focused on continuing to strengthen our relationship with our major sponsor, Mounties."

Coles says that despite current results, there are many standout stars amongst their playing group including Tom Rice, Taylor Currant, Chris Harry and Ryan Forrester.

"Chris in particular has been a surprise packet as after not playing regularly since 2010, he has returned more committed and better than ever."

In an effort to conjure a sense of pride in the history of the club, Moorebank will also be looking to engage with former players. Holding their annual 'Past Players Day' in Round 17, the club will devote the day's play to the foundation clubs on which the Magpies were built.

"Each of our senior teams will be wearing a different retro jumper. Third Grade will wear Bankstown's green and gold, Reserves will don Southern Districts' and Liverpool's blue and white, whilst our Seniors will wear the original South West Sydney black and white colours."

Reflecting a demand of the local area, the Moorebank Magpies have this year introduced their first Women's team – currently playing the in Women's Division Two competition.

With many female players in their community already enjoying a love of playing the game, however having to travel to other areas in order to fulfill their desires to do so, the Magpies now provide an opportunity to the women of South West Sydney to play Australian Rules.

"I feel that we have addressed a long overdue need in the region."

Rising stars of the Women's side according to Coles include Cassie Rice, Tara Warner and Rheanna Vehlou.

As with the other debutant Women's teams in the Division Two competition such as Manly-Warringah and Gosford, the Moorebank side is still finding their feet at the lower end of the ladder, however have had a taste of victory in winning their first game of the season.

2014 RISING STAR

BRAD WATSON—PENNANT HILLS

Brad played his junior footy predominately at the Westbrook Junior AFL club, one of the three key feeder clubs into Pennant Hills Seniors. He made numerous representative sides and has been a member of the Swans Academy from the start of his football career. Brad played Under 18's Rams in 2013, as a bottom age player, and was named as best player in most games he played. In 2013 he was an integral part of the midfield for Pennant Hills 2013 Under 18 Division One premiership winning the 2013 Players Player Award from his teammates.

Brad returned to the Senior Side after 2 weeks with the NSW Rams team and was named in the best after an outstanding game against Sydney Hills Eagles on Saturday. Brad has exceptional skills and combines the hardness of an inside player with the skills, poise and decision making of a quality outside player.

We look forward to seeing Brad as part of the Pennant Hills senior side for many years, or at the highest possible level he is able to achieve.

Previous nominees:

- Round 1— Taylor Preece (UNSW/ES)
- Round 2— Abe Davis (UNSW/ES)
- Round 3—Theo Moraitis (Pennant Hills)
- Round 4—Callum Mills (North Shore)
- Round 5—Harry Dobson (Sydney University)
- Round 6—Jack Park (Manly Warringah)

KIMBERLY CHAN— WOLLONGONG SAINTS

As a Northern District Tigers junior, Kim has been a commodity to every team she has played with. Tough on the ball and not intimidated by girls twice her size, Kim has a tenacity on and off the ball to envy. Kim's debut season with the Wollongong Saints, although still new has been nothing short of one to keep an eye on.

Winning the club's best on ground in round 5, Kim proved why she has quickly become an asset to the Saints half back line and centers. Kim has also represented NSW in the Youth Girls Nationals competition and her skills and expertise have been a welcomed presence into our team.

Previous nominees:

- Round 1— Kate Stanton (Wollongong)
- Round 2—Jasmine Smith (UNSW/ES)
- Round 3—Wafaa Elwadia (Auburn)
- Round 4—Emily Crookes (Gosford)
