National Registration System – Why?

From March 12, 2014 there will be significant changes to the way that organisations are required to manage the collection and use of data, in order to comply with the Privacy Amendment (Enhancing Privacy Protection) Act 2012 in particular, as well as other related legislation in the Privacy Act 1988 and the Spam Act 2003.

For example:

- The privacy commissioner now has more power to investigate
- The commissioner can issue larger fines if he believes the act has been breached
- Tighter regulations regarding unsubscribing and express consent
- Tighter regulations around data storage and use of data

Recent examples....

Nightclub fined $15k for sending SMS spam to patrons

LUCY BATTERSBY October 14, 2013

A Melbourne nightclub has been fined $15,500 for more than 50,000 breaches of the Spam Act after it sent marketing text messages with no opt-out information.

The Brown Alley nightclub, part of the Colonial Hotel on the corner of King and Lonsdale streets in Melbourne's CBD, sent the messages as part of its marketing for upcoming shows.

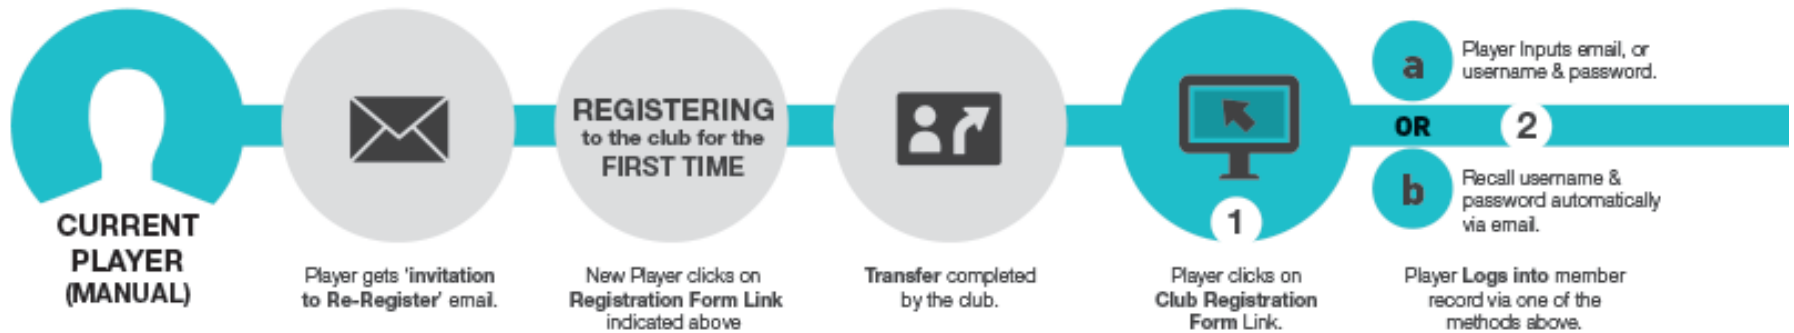

However, several messages did not include contact details or information on how to unsubscribe from the mailing list, the communications regulator said. It was prompted to launch a formal investigation into Brown Alley's marketing after patrons complained about the spam.
