AROUND THE GROUNDS

It was an eventful weekend of football last week, highlighted by UNSW/ES's late push for the final Premier Division Finals position. Sitting six points behind 5th placed Sydney University, not many gave the Bulldogs a chance against the well fancied Western Suburbs at Village Green but a big win coupled with Sydney University's loss to 2nd placed Pennant Hills now has them 2 points behind going into the last round.

Sydney University face the daunting task of travelling to Weldon Oval to take on premiers favourites Manly-Warringah. Assuming that the GIANTS do as expected and defeat Sydney University, UNSW/ES will have their destiny in their own hands on Sunday as they travel to Bruce Purser Reserve to take on Sydney Hills Eagles with victory likely to give them a finals position in the last regular season game of the year.

Sydney Hills Eagles will be no push over however judging by their big win over UTS last week. The important clash also doubles as the AFL Sydney Match of the Week so tune in to see if UNSW/ES can claim the final position. Tune in at youtube.com/aflydneylive from 2:30pm on Sunday.

This weekend see's the final round of the home and away season for the Premier Division, Division One, both Under 19's and Women's Division One competitions with all grades in finals the following week.

Saturday and Sunday will see two big day of finals football with 4 games each day at Gipps Road Oval as the Lower Division Finals get into full swing while Sunday will see two Women's Division Two finals from Henson Park.

The first of the AFL Sydney Finals got underway last Sunday at a wet Blacktown International SportsPark. Auburn GIANTS (Womens Division Two) and Sydney University (Division Five) bowed out of contention while Wollongong Saints (Women's Division Two) and Penrith (Division Five) won their finals to get a shot at the minor premiers for a chance to go straight to the Grand Final.

Two games this week will have a huge bearing on finals chances in mini Elimination Finals. The winner of Macarthur GIANTS and Macquarie University will claim the final Under 19 Division Two finals position while Western Wolves in the Women's Division One competition need to secure a big win over Macquarie University to jump them and claim the last spot.

ROUND 17 REVIEW

Article by Michael Shillito

For a long time this season we thought we knew who the finalists were going to be. But with only one week to go, suddenly that's been thrown into doubt. At the beginning of the season, the top five teams quickly broke away from the bottom five; and those teams looked to be flying high. Sydney Uni then lost touch with the top four and the losses started piling up. But whenever a team from outside the top five looked set to challenge the Students, the challenger fell away. North Shore had a crack, so did UTS, so did Campbelltown. But the Students managed to hang on.

Pennant Hills vs Sydney University

But the draw gave the Students a challenging final two weeks of the season, with clashes against the top two teams. So on Saturday afternoon they travelled to the north-west, to Mike Kenny Oval, to take on second-placed Pennant Hills.

The Demons sit comfortably in second place, having only lost two games so far this season. They've been in solid form, and were keen to maintain their winning momentum with the finals just around the corner. And from the start, they burst out of the blocks in their quest for keeping their winning form going.

The scoreboard was ticking over with regularity; and the Demons were at their imposing best as they blew the Student challenge away with ease. When the quarter time siren rang, the Demons had six goals on the board to the Students' two; and a 37-point lead.

The time had come for the Students to dig deep and work harder to get back into the contest. And in the second quarter, they gave it their best shot. Applying more pressure than in the opening term, and stopping the free-flowing Demon run, the margin began to narrow as the Students put on more hard work to get back into the contest. And as the quarter progressed, they achieved some reward for effort as they won the quarter by three goals to one, cutting the margin back to 16 points at the long break.

It had been a brave fightback by the Students; but they needed to keep that work-rate going in the premiership quarter. They gave it their best shot, but the Demons had regrouped during the half time break and the Students were unable to replicate their second quarter effort. Instead it was the Demons who again asserted themselves as the quarter progressed; four goals to two extending the gap to 30 points at three quarter time. The challenge was over, and the Demons tightened the screws in a three goals to two final quarter to stretch the final margin to 35 points.

Ranga Ediriwickrama was the star of the show, the former Geelong rookie kicking five goals; and along with Tim Wales and Matt Carey was among the Demons' best. Alex Dyson, Jack Caspersonn and Lachlan Maples provided excellent service for the Students. But in the end, the Demons' skills were too good for the Students to match.

The Demons have a match to come against North Shore, but nothing that happens in that game can affect their second-place finish. But for the Students, the story is very different. They have a date with minor premiers Manly to come; and despite having been in the top five in every round this season, they are in serious danger of falling out in the round.

UNSW/ES vs Western Suburbs

The danger for the Students came in an unexpected form, as UNSW-ES continued their late-season surge with a stunning upset win over Wests at the Village Green on Saturday afternoon.

The Bulldogs have played some better footy in the last few weeks, but few would have anticipated the devastating display they put on in the first half, as they locked the Magpies out of the contest. From the start, the Bulldogs were taking the game up to their more fancied rivals; and Magpie possessions were hard to find. Three unanswered goals and a 20-point lead in the first term sent a clear message that the Bulldogs had come to play; but they were even more impressive in the second quarter. Contesting every possession, denying the Magpies any use of the ball, and finding their targets when it was their turn with the footy. And with all of the five goals that were scored in the second term, the Bulldogs returned to the rooms at half time to a standing ovation from the Bulldog faithful and a 52-point lead on the scoreboard.

ROUND 17 REVIEW

The Magpies finally broke their goal-scoring drought in the third quarter; but were unable to make any significant inroads into the massive deficit. The rain was getting heavier, ball-handling more tricky; and the game remained just as elusively out of the Magpies' reach. Two goals were scored by each side in the third term; and although the Magpies narrowly won the quarter to cut the margin to 50 points at the last change, it wasn't enough to create any danger to the Bulldogs' chances.

The pressure valve had been released in the last quarter. The sting had largely gone out of the game, and a more open and free-flowing contest eventuated in the final term. The scoreboard operator was kept busy as the forwards from both sides began to make more leads and create more chances. A shootout in the final term went the Magpies' way, six goals to five. Although the final margin was cut to 40 points, it was still a comfortable win for UNSW-ES. James Pascoe finished with four goals for the Bulldogs; while around the ground, Peter Kefalas, Hayden Nichols and Tim Cummins made prominent contributions. Taylor Williamson spearheaded the Magpies' second half revival to finish with six goals to be best-on-ground in a losing side; while Levi Sands and Hugh McLean were also significant contributors.

The Bulldogs won their first two games this season, but a seven-game losing streak had seen them sink to the lower depths of the ladder and even a few weeks ago had looked an impossible dream. But despite having won just seven of 17 games this season, they find themselves right in the finals mix. A win over bottom side Sydney Hills Eagles and a loss for Sydney Uni against top side Manly will be enough to get them into the playoffs. But for Wests, the result could cost them the double-chance in the finals; they'll need to not only beat UTS at Picken Oval next week but hope St George go down to Campbelltown.

North Shore vs St George

But the Magpies can't write off their chances of a top-three finish just yet. Another upset result kept them in contention; as their rivals for that position, St George, suffered a shock loss to non-finalists North Shore at Gore Hill Oval on Saturday afternoon.

The first half was goal for goal, the lead changing hands several times; an arm-wrestle between two clubs taking the fight up to each other. Three goals apiece in the first quarter, with the Bombers leading by a point at quarter time. And with each side kicking two in the second term, the home side returned to the rooms at half time with the scoreboard showing a four-point lead.

With North Shore celebrating their past players' day, a larger than normal crowd was in the clubhouse; and they were making plenty of noise as the Bombers took the upper hand in the third term. It was a shootout, both sides throwing caution to the wind in their attempts to build a winning score. But the Bombers, making up for a disappointing, injury-ravaged year by playing like they've rarely done this season; found the winners when they needed them. A marathon third term saw the Bombers kick six goals to four, leading by 13 points at the last change and confident of claiming their biggest scalp of the season.

The Dragons were hard opponents to shake, and put up some resistance to keep within striking distance. But this was North Shore's day, and they weren't going to let this one slip. The dark clouds which had threatened all day unleashed their fury during the last quarter, making it difficult to get a grip on the ball. But nothing was going to stop the Bombers' grip on this game; and after two goals apiece, the clock ran down until the home side was able to celebrate victory.

The final margin was 17 points. Selby Lee-Steere, Sam Jackson and Adrian Harry were pivotal to the Bombers' success; while the Dragons were well served by the tireless efforts of Jordan West, Ben Sharp and Andrew Sharp.

Thanks to Wests' loss, the Dragons remain in third place. But they'll need a win against Campbelltown at Monarch in the last round to stay there. If the football gods had decreed that this was to be a round of upsets, they clearly forgot to tell Manly. The ladder leaders were ruthless and relentless, wrapping up the minor premiership with a convincing demolition of Campbelltown at a rain-soaked Weldon Oval on Saturday afternoon.

ROUND 17 REVIEW

Manly Warringah vs Campbelltown

With the prospect of a week off in the first round of the finals up for grabs, the Giants wasted no time in controlling proceedings around the ground, pumping the ball to the waiting forward line with ease. It didn't take long for the scoreboard attendant to be kept busy as scoring shot after shot was recorded; and although not all of them went through the big sticks, six unanswered goals opened up a 42-point quarter time lead.

The Blues did get a goal on the board in the second term, but it would be the only time they would draw two flags from the goal umpires all day. It was a rare moment of respite from the Manly juggernaut, who shrugged off any challenge the Blues would provide to record four goals of their own in the second term and finding themselves with a 62-point lead at the long break. The lopsided nature of play continued when the teams returned to the field for the third term, and the Blues were unable to match the drive of the well-drilled Manly side. At times the Giants were their own worst enemy as some relatively straight-forward shots at goal went behind. But it barely mattered, as the Blues were never a chance to recover and rarely entered their forward 50 metre line. Five unanswered goals stretched the lead to 98 points at three quarter time; and another six in the final term stretched the final margin to 136 points.

The Giants had plenty of avenues to goal; with Brayden Fowler's five goals and Tyrone Armitage's four being the most productive. And they had winners all over the ground; with Levi Brain, David Stroud and Gareth Benbow being the pick of them. It had been a challenging afternoon for the Blues; but Cameron Desmond, Bryce Joynson and Nathan Lomas refused to stop competing even when outgunned.

With this result, the Giants have ensured they'll go straight through to the Second Semi-Final. But before that, they've still got a home clash with Sydney Uni to come to finish the home and away season.

UTS vs Sydney Hills Eagles

UTS hosted Sydney Hills Eagles at Waverley Oval on Saturday afternoon in a game that had no bearing on finals placed. But the result opened up the possibility that the Eagles could avoid the wooden spoon and hand that unwanted utensil over to the Bats.

Wins for both clubs have been hard to come by this season, but here was a chance to get a morale-boosting result and salvage something from a disappointing season. And from the opening bounce, it was the Eagles who made the most of the opportunity. Bursting out of the blocks with a flying start, the contest was already effectively over by quarter time as the Eagles scored eight goals to one in the opening term to lead by 46 points at quarter time. It had been the best footy the Eagles had played in Premier Division since their premiership three-peat a few years ago.

The second term saw the Bats briefly stop the Eagle surge as they won a scrappy and low-scoring quarter two goals to one to reduce the half time margin to 44 points. But the premiership quarter saw the Eagles continue where they left off at quarter time, dominating around the ground and finding plenty of winners wherever they were needed. It was a high-scoring and free-flowing quarter, with the Eagles scoring seven goals to four to blow the lead out to 61 points at the last change.

The last quarter was largely going through the motions, but confidence was growing in the Eagle camp. The scent of victory was in their nostrils and they weren't letting go. Three goals to two in the final term, and a 65-point win.

A two-pronged forward setup of Scott Pierce and Matthew Eastman worked a treat, with Pierce kicking five and Eastman four. Around the ground, Jack Dimery, Dean Costello and Josh Cass were ball magnets. The Bats were well served by the efforts of Ryan Kirkhope, Michael Murrell and Oscar Tate.

UTS remain half a game clear of the Eagles. The Bats have a tough clash against Wests to come. If they lose that, the battle for the wooden spoon comes down to Sunday's clash at Bruce Purser. If the Eagles can upset UNSW-ES, they would avoid last place. And, although they won't make the finals, achieving that result would decide who does.

So we have one round to go. A round in which Bulldogs will be cheering for Giants, Magpies will be cheering for Blues, Eagles will be cheering for Magpies, Dragons will be cheering for Bats; and then on Sunday we may have Students cheering for Eagles and Bats cheering for Bulldogs.

Potentially some interesting permutations of results. If the home and away season has one more upset in it, the make-up of the finals could be very different to how we all thought it was going to be.

150TH COMES UP FOR CAREY

This Saturday against North Shore will see Co-captain Matthew Carey playing his 150th senior game for the Pennant Hills Demons.

Matthew first played with East Gambier Bulldogs and after transferring to Sydney played with Westbrook Juniors and represented North West several times during his junior career.

Matthew joined Penno in season 2003 and played 2 seasons with the Under 18 team. During his Underage career he played 2 reserves games in 2003 and 1 senior game in 2004. He has since been a regular member of the Premier Division team since 2005 and was a member of the successful 2006 and 2008 Demons premier-ship winning teams.

To go along with his premiership medal in 2008, Carey was voted the best player in AFL Sydney winning the Phelan Medal with 17 votes.

Matthew has been a member of Sydney representative teams in seasons 2006 - 2009 and 2012 - 2014, being captain in 2013. He was the leading goal kicker in the Under 18 competition in season 2004, kicking 126 goals, in one game he kicked 21 goals 4 behinds.

His ability to read the game and pace are the main attributes of his play. His raking left foot kicking and agility is the key to him being an uncompromising competitor. He has been co captain of the club since season 2011, won the Club Best & Fairest in 2008 with Alex Goodall and was named Footballer of the Year in seasons 2008 and 2012.

Matthew says Barnaby Howarth is the best Penno player he has seen and rates dinner and talking with Kevin Sheedy as a highlight of his football career.

On behalf of everyone at Pennant Hills we extend our congratulations on this achievement

ANOTHER ATTEMPT TO AMGAMATE THE CODES

The second attempt to either amalgamate both Australian Football and Rugby League or form a new game, took place in 1933.

The meetings were held in Sydney during another All-States Carnival when state representatives and members of the Australian Football Council were present. A preliminary meeting with representatives of both groups was appointed to establish some starting rules of the game and a sec ret match under those rules was played on Friday, 11 August at the RAS Showground, Moore Park (now FOX Studios).

Most of the players who took part in the match were members of the Queensland Australian Football team who were in Sydney for the carnival. Needing enough for two fourteen man teams, their number was supplemented by some local Rugby League players. The trouble was that the players were not familiar with the rules and the Queensland players had played a tough match the day before against 'Canberra'.

At the formal meeting held on the night of the game at Rugby League Headquarters, 165 Phillip Street, Sydney, Horrie Miller, Secretary of the NSW Rugby League gave a detailed report on the drafting of the rules, a brief description and a few of those rules, appears below:

It would appear that Mr Miller was a leading proponent of the introduction of a new game and went to great lengths to get the two groups talking as well as making arrangements for the trial game.

Various speakers expressed the view that any amalgamation would have to be gradual and that if each code introduced features of the other, the game could be brought together in a few years.

Mr Miller made a very interesting point when he said "I may say that the idea in drawing up this code of rules was to make the play as open as possible. We are giving what you Australian rule (sic) people are asking for and what the Australian public require – that is Action."

"In fact" he added, "it is action all the time. At no stage of the game would the ball be dead."

The meeting was chaired by Mr E H Tassie who was the South Australian Representative on the Council and former president of the Norwood Football Club.

THOSE WERE THE DAYS

After listening to the speakers from the NSW Rugby League, he made the comment that "his group's sincerity over the matter (the amalgamated game) might have been questioned, but, as delegates on a trip to Sydney, our actions have been such as should stay any criticism in that respect."

Despite the genuineness displayed by Mr Miller, it would appear by reading between the lines that the Australian Football representatives were only paying the concept lip service.

Eventually, the following motion was carried unanimously by the combined seventeen man delegates:

That the suggested rules drawn up by the sub-committee for that purpose, form the basis of a report back to the various clubs, and, if in their opinion, these bodies consider a further conference desirable, such conference be held.

It was fine for the Rugby League delegates to give such a commitment but the Australian Football Council was comprised of delegates who represented each state and while most took notice of the resolutions of this body, it is reasonable to say that these were not all were binding and this was particularly the case of the VFL. In many eyes, particularly towards the end of its life, The Australian Football Council or later, the National Football Council, were considered by many as a toothless tiger.

One significant matter on both sides was the strong personalities 'who would not have a brass tack of the other game. They think they have a good thing, and that if the other party wants to come into the fold he must do so and not expect any amalgamation.' 'Let the Rugby League take on our game,' said an Australian Rules hard citizen.

'Let the Victorians take on the Rugby League game. They would play it well,' said a Sydney man.

The whole issue had its fate decided when the NSW Rugby League met on 14 August where the matter was discussed in detail.

Mr.S.G Ball proposed and Mr. J. Craig seconded that the report be received and no further action taken. He added that their own game at present needed all their care and attention. This was carried, after debate, by 15 to 10.

It was doubted that the respective state leagues would have supported such an extraordinary change to the rules of their (Australian) game so the early decision of the Rugby League put a dampener on any possibility of a future mission into changing rules or the combining of games.

If a game acceptable by both codes were to be established, we shall never know.

JORDAN MCPHERSON—HILLS EAGLES

The Round 17 Rising star nominee is Jordan McPherson from Sydney Hills Eagles.

McPherson has been a strong contributor for the Eagles this year playing in 14 games and being named in the best 8 times.

McPherson has played the last three years in the Eagles Under 18 team and was apart of the Under 18 Division One premiership winning side in 2012.

McPherson made his Premier Division debut in Round 3 this year against Sydney University and since then has showed why he is one of the Rising Stars of the competition.

Playing mostly in the back half of the ground, McPherson rarely gets beaten in one on one contest while using providing plenty of run from the defensive fifty and getting the ball forward.

BROOKE ASHCROFT—MACQUARIE UNI

Brooke Ashcroft is an 18-year-old forward from the Macquarie Uni Warriors who made her senior debut in Round 2 this season.

Brooke arrived at the club from the Mosman Swans and immediately showed great enthusiasm at training and a real willingness to learn.

Despite the tough transition from junior football to Women's Division One, Brooke has been fearless in her attack on the contest. Her improvement from week to week has been very noticeable and with her game time increasing gradually her confidence has also risen.

Brooke is clearly one of the team favourites and her every on-field move is cheered by the Warrior women. After a break-out game against Balmain in Round 13, she followed it up with another impressive performance against Sydney Uni on Saturday and we could not be happier for young teammate 'Sparkles'. Brooke thoroughly enjoys her football and always plays with a smile on her face.

is one of many young stars who have made their mark at Macquarie this season as we look to cement our position in the top flight of Sydney Women's AFL and we look forward to her continual improvement.
