AROUND THE GROUNDS

Womens Division Two Grand Final

Southern Power have been the dominant team in the Women's Division Two competition going through the season undefeated. After being grand finalist in 2013, the Power will look to go one better this year. Wollongong have been the closest to defeating the Power this year and will fancy themselves of causing an upset.

This weekend we commence the first of the AFL Sydney Grand Finals for the year where the Women's Division Two and Men's Division Five Premiers will be crowned at Blacktown on Sunday. Dont forget both games will be streamed live at www.youtube.com/aflsydneylive

Outside of the two Grand Finals there are some mouth watering matchups across all grades. The Lower Divisions move to Preliminary Finals this weekend at Blacktown ISP where we will also see the NEAFL Preliminary Finals involving both the UWS GIANTS and Sydney Swans across the two days in what will be two huge days of football action.

Minor Premiers Manly-Warringah face a grand final rematch with Pennant Hills for a place in the big dance on Saturday. Manly come in fresh after the week off while Pennant Hills had to fight hard to claim the win over St George last Saturday.

The other Premier Division match pits St George against Sydney University with the loser's season over. Sydney University could not have been more impressive in last weeks Elimination Final when they ended Western Suburbs season and if they continue that form will prove very hard for the Dragons to overcome who need to come back after such a tough game last weekend.

Balmain and UTS battle for a Grand Final spot in Division One while the two surprise packets of 2014, Macquarie University and Pennant Hills battle it out in the 1st Semi Final on Sunday. The Warriors were overrun in the last quarter last week but showed they could match it with the top sides and will be looking to return to the winners list however the Demons were very impressive in their win last week.

Sydney University women's Division One team booked the first Grand Final position last week with a dominant win over UNSW-ES who now must re-group against Newtown. UNSW/ES have been in a form slump over the last month losing four of their last five matches and need to turn that form around to book their place in the grand final. Newtown will be confident of defeating the Stingrays after claiming a victory against them only three week ago.

Other preliminary matches over the weekend see's Blacktown taking on Manly Warringah in Division Two, Penrith and Sydney University do battle in Division Three and in Division Four its a rematch of the Qualifying Final as Wollondilly and Sydney Uni try to claim a Grand Final appearance against UTS.

Enjoy your weekend at the football!

Division Five Grand Final

The other Grand Final on Sunday features Penrith taking on Blacktown in Division Five. Penrith will go in as favourites after defeating the Magic both times in their previous clashes this year. The Magic have come from fourth place and bring plenty of momentum into this contest.

CODE OF CONDUCT

PARENTS & SUPPORTERS

- Remember that you are there for the participants to enjoy the game.
- Encourage participation, but don't force it.
- Teach that enjoyment is more important than winning.
- Never ridicule mistakes or losses. Supporters are there to support not downgrade.

FINALS WEEK 1 REVIEW

Article and Photos by Michael Shillito

With the home and away season complete, the week-end saw us move into the business end of the season, as the finals series got under way; and by the end of the weekend the final five had been reduced to four remaining in the premiership race.

Pennant Hills vs St George

Saturday afternoon at Blacktown, and the last weekend of winter had the cool and wet weather sticking around.

Second-placed Pennant Hills took on third-placed St George; and it would be a see-sawing contest that would go down to the wire, with the result in the balance until the final moments.

The Dragons were kicking to the railway end in the first quarter, and would make the early front-running. Jesse Mudge opened the goal-kicking, capitalising on some hesitation in defence by Aaron Crisfield to pounce on a loose ball and snap truly. And a cleverly-executed set shot from a tight angle by Alex Wynn set up another just a minute later.

The Demons had their chances in the opening term, but some inaccurate finishing would cost them dearly as they would manage just four behinds in the first quarter; with several more shots sailing out on the full. And the Dragons made them pay as the clock ticked into time-on, Alex Wynn on the run slamming through his second to set up a 17-point quarter time lead.

The Demons had been unable to score a goal in the first quarter, but wasted no time in drawing twin flags from the goal umpires in the second term. James Dunn from the 50 metre line didn't quite make the distance, but Matt Thomas was there at the drop from the marking contest to snap the goal.

After a flat first quarter, the goal lifted the Demons, and a nice long-range snap by Ted Widmer got the margin to within a kick. And just as good from the set shot, Widmer got his second at the ten minute mark. For all the hard work the Dragons had done in the first term, the Demons had the lead. The Pennant Hills tails were up, momentum was running their way. Ranga Ediriwickrama had missed a couple of kickable shots earlier in the quarter, but when he found room to move before firing a lightning handball to Tim Scoular, the Demons had four in a row and threatened to build a substantial lead.

But in the final stages of the quarter, the Dragons again lifted. It was against the run of play when David Lycakis intercepted a defensive cross-kick and played on to goal. But the Dragons spent the final minutes of the second term on the forward line; with Daniel Napper butchering a shot from the edge of the square which would have given the Dragons the lead. Tempers threatened to boil over in the final seconds of the half, but fortunately the siren sounded before the situation could escalate; the half time break giving the teams time to cool down and re-focus on the challenge at hand. Scores were level at half time, both sides rueing missed opportunities but keen to continue the challenge of the evenly-contested game.

By the time the third quarter got under way; the rain had stopped, the sun had emerged and the colours of the rainbow were in the sky. Karl Merson, sensing a pot of finals gold, snapped truly for the Dragons to restore the lead; before Sam Zikman took a knock to his back and went back for an almost instant reply.

FINALS WEEK 1 REVIEW

Tempers threatened to boil over in the final seconds of the half, but fortunately the siren sounded before the situation could escalate; the half time break giving the teams time to cool down and re-focus on the challenge at hand. Scores were level at half time, both sides rueing missed opportunities but keen to continue the challenge of the evenly-contested game.

By the time the third quarter got under way; the rain had stopped, the sun had emerged and the colours of the rainbow were in the sky. Karl Merson, sensing a pot of finals gold, snapped truly for the Dragons to restore the lead; before Sam Zikman took a knock to his back and went back for an almost instant reply.

An enthralling contest was unfolding, and the St George fans in the crowd were awakened by Daniel Napper as he drew a free 30 metres from home and kicked truly. And when Jason Saddington used his strength to mark and goal, the Dragons had a 14-point lead.

But there were plenty more twists in this tale. Ranga Ediriwickrama turned on his explosive pace to kick a steady goal for the Demons. And Widmer was again in the thick of the action, finding himself at the end of a chain of handballs to get another and the margin was back to two points.

There would be no more goals scored in the third term, as the ball travelled back and forth around the ground. The tension was rising, the clouds were again closing in. Finals footy was here, and an arm-wrestle between two willing combatants was building towards its climax. With a three point lead to St George at three quarter time, coaches Chris Yard and Terry Mudge urged their charges to lift even more and put in a sustained final quarter burst. Neither side could break the game open, and the thrilling contest would continue in the last term.

Day had turned into night, the floodlights illuminating the yellow ball as the match moved into its thrilling final term. And a long-range bomb bounced awkwardly in the goal square before the majestic Matt Carey pounced on the ball and slammed it through to give the Demons the lead. But the lead was short-lived, with Alex Wynn being just as good with the crumbs at the other end. Two minutes gone, a goal apiece in the final term, and the three-point margin to the Dragons was restored.

Sam Zikman may have been the last name on the alphabetical team sheet for the Demons, but he was far from the bottom of the Demon pack at the eight minute mark, standing tall to mark 40 metres from home and kicking truly to give the Demons the lead back. Stephen Wilson crashed through a pack of players and just got boot to ball, and the Dragons were back in front.

The faithful of Demons and Dragons alike were enthralled. This was a see-saw, a footballing pass-the-parcel. A twisted tale, where the outcome remained in doubt. Chances were created, chances not converted. The clock ticked into time-on.

Daniel Witt showed his strength 20 metres from goal, pulling down a good mark and kicking truly to put the Demons back in front. And a moment later, Alex Goodall went for a long run, must have only just been not too far; and then slammed the ball home from outside 50. The lead was out to more than a goal; and time ran out.

FINALS WEEK 1 REVIEW

The Demons had taken the match by 11 points. Alex Goodall, James Dunn & Ben Unwin had been standout performers for the Demons; while the Dragons enjoyed excellent service from Andrew Sharp, Ben Sharp and Bryce Addison.

With the win, the Demons set up a date with Manly on Saturday to play off for the first spot in the Grand Final. St George go into sudden death. But if Pennant Hills and St George are to meet up again in this year's finals, everyone will be hoping it's a game as enthralling as the Qualifying Final was.

Western Suburbs vs Sydney University

Sunday's sudden-death Elimination Final matched Wests up against Sydney Uni. Neither side went into the finals in particularly impressive form, winning only one of their last three matches; with the Students unable to score a goal in the last home and away game.

The stakes were high, and the contest was intense early as two desperate sides took the fight up to each other. Little separated the sides for much of the quarter, but the Students had a slight edge with two goals to one and a seven-point quarter time lead.

The first quarter had been evenly contested around the ground, but the Students took the upper hand in the second term. Players who had struggled in recent weeks began to find their mojo, and the Students kicked away as the quarter progressed. Three goals to one stretched the lead to 19 points at the long break. And, much as the Magpies tried, they were unable to make any inroads into that deficit during the premiership quarter. Instead, the Students added to their lead; three goals to two extending the lead to 25 points at the last change.

The Magpies were one quarter away from ending their season, and needed a big lift in the final term. But although they did manage two goals in the final term, there would be no miracle comeback. Instead, the Students had their tails up and the run of play was going their way. Celebrating the return of their promising early-season form, the Students produced a five-goal haul in the final term; keeping their season alive and earning themselves a date with St George next Sunday.

Evan Smith spearheaded the University challenge on the forward line to finish with five goals. Around the ground, David Johnson, Sam Sleight and Jack Caspersonn were ball magnets. The Magpies received solid service all day from Stephen Hudson, Kristian Ericson and James Newbury. But it wasn't enough to get them over the line; and Wests' season in Premier Division is over.

So four teams remain; with Henson Park being the battle ground for next week's Premier Division finals. Manly and Pennant Hills face off next Saturday to be the first team into the Grand Final. And on Sunday, St George and Sydney Uni will be in action in a clash from which only one team will survive.

WOMENS TEAM OF THE YEAR NOMINEES

The 2014 AFL Sydney Women's Team of the Year will be announced in the week before the Women's Division One Grand Final through the AFL Sydney website commencing Monday 8th September.

In a change from 2013, only Division One players were included on the list for the Women's Division One coaches to vote on. Upon receiving all coaches votes, an independent panel will review this along with exceptional players within the Women's Division Two competition based on form in the home and away season as well as the Representative program and can select any that fit the criteria.

All AFL Sydney Women's Division One Coaches selected players in groups of defenders, midfielders, forwards and ruckmen. The coaches cannot select for players from their own team. The players who receive the most selections are then included in the Team of the Year.

The AFL Sydney Women's Team of the Year will consist of 18 players plus four interchange.

This years nominations are:

THOSE WERE THE DAYS

This page is provided by the NSW Australian Football History Society. The Society's aims are to preserve the memory of NSW football. Tomorrow this game you are at will become history. Who won this, why did they do that, what does that mean? The Society wants to preserve those memories. Your club can help by designating a club historian to work with the Society. As well you or the club can join, the details of which are on their website: www.nswfootballhistory.com.au

WHAT'S IN A NAME? - PART 2

1979 saw the emergence of a rebel group who rolled the incumbent and long term NSWFL president, Bill Hart, the previous December.

The motivation behind this was the perceived backing from influential elements in the VFL who promised funding for an experienced football administrator to run Sydney football and the NSWFL, subject to support on a national level, for interstate VFL games to be played in Sydney on a Sunday.

The revitalised Sydney league was initially all spirited, enthusiastic and gung-ho. A new man from Melbourne was appointed as the General Manager, the league's offices at 64 Regent Street Chippendale were sold off and the administration moved to nearby premises at the Newtown Rules Club in Cleveland Street, Redfern.

Eventually the independent Board was replaced by a board of club directors, a move which would produce cronyism and 'caucusing' where the strong got stronger and the other clubs just rolled along. Football in Sydney now primarily promoted Sydney and the NSWFL was put on the back burner as other sub-state bodies grew in stature and did their own thing.

NSW STATE FOOTBALL LEAGUE

By 1987 there was yet a further change. Sydney and the NSWFL were broke and badly in debt. An independent group managing the affairs of the NSWFL told the Sydney clubs to sink or swim. Either agree to a change in the administration or go out of business. Really, there was no alternative.

THOSE WERE THE DAYS

What followed was a big transformation to football in Sydney – there had to be – with three divisions again established, most of the sub groups abolished and the NSWAF was back in charge. The Sydney component became known as the NSW State Football League with a long term view of incorporating clubs from around the state. Thankfully it did not happen but gradually the league moved back into a position of financial stability.

In 1991 the NSW State Football League designation was abolished to revert to the label of the Sydney Football League. The administration was marginally re-arranged, but not much else took place.

Then in 1998 following yet another report on the state of health of football in NSW, a further change saw the introduction of the AFL(NSW-ACT). This produced a few on-field alterations to Sydney footy like 16 aside etc. yes a major move but again, little else came about in the structure and framework of the actual competition.

AFL Sydney had now assumed full control of the Sydney league with full funding from the major AFL body in Melbourne. They also funded football development throughout the state but unlike the Sydney open age football, most of the leagues in NSW were left to finance their own activities.

The major change came in 2009 when under the then Sydney Football Operations Manager, Garry Burkinshaw, divisionalisation took place. This was the biggest adjustment to Sydney football since 1948 when Balmain, Western Suburbs (both for the second time) and Sydney University were introduced to the competition or perhaps was it 1926.

NEAFL NEWS

Aspley midfielder Matthew Payne took out the inaugural NEAFL MVP award, capping a stellar season, where he spearheaded the Hornets' charge to the finals.

The 28-year-old beat out Ainslie onballer Aaron Vandenberg, Redland young gun Blake Grewar, and fast-finishing NT Thunder skipper Cameron Ilett, to make history in the first year the NEAFL has had a standalone Best and Fairest gong.

It was no surprise to see Payne also included in the NEAFL 'Team of the Year,' alongside the likes of Vandenberg, Grewar, and Ilett, with first-year NT Thunder mentor Xavier Clarke named as the side's coach after guiding his outfit to 15 wins this year.

In other major awards presented on the night, Redland ruckman Paul Hunter was named NEAFL Rising Star, beating out a talented field of youngsters, including likely first round draft picks Isaac Heeney and Lachlan Weller, and teammate Cleve Hughes was confirmed as the competition's leading goal kicker. Sydney University's Kelvin Barnes and Belconnen's Jordan Harper won Mark and Goal of the Year respectively.

NEAFL MVP TOP 10

1. Matthew Payne (Aspley) 102 votes
2. Aaron Vandenberg (Ainslie) 77 votes
3. Blake Grewar (Redland) 58 votes
4. Cameron Ilett (NT Thunder) 54 votes
5. Mark Whiley (UWS GIANTS) 53 votes
6. Matthew O'Dwyer (Sydney University) 48 votes
7. Daniel Robinson (Sydney Swans) 48 votes
8. Austin Lucy (Aspley) 46 votes
9. Jason Burge (Southport) 46 votes
10. Nick Salter (Ainslie) 46 votes

Finals Week 2

Saturday September 6

Preliminary Final 1

UWS GIANTS vs. Aspley Hornets

Blacktown International Sports Park (BISP)

3:15pm

After withstanding a late comeback from Redland at Graham Road last weekend, the Hornets will need to overcome a UWS GIANTS side that finished top of the NEAFL standings, with both teams bidding to advance to their first NEAFL decider.

With their senior side finishing its campaign with a stirring win, the GIANTS reserves will be intent on emulating that result, but Aspley has been arguably the most in-form outfit in the competition of late, and this game shapes as a real 50-50 affair.

Sunday September 7

Preliminary Final 2

Sydney Swans vs. NT Thunder

Blacktown International Sports Park (BISP)

12:45pm

As long as the Swans' senior side stays alive in the AFL Finals series, their NEAFL outfit will be hungry to return some eye-catching football, with a host of players possibilities to be elevated should injury strike any of John Longmire's charges.

For that reason, the Swans deserve to enter this match as slight favourites, but the Thunder have improved their form outside of their Darwin stronghold recently, and with ex-AFL talent like Nathan Djerkurra and Liam Patrick brilliant in the win over Ainslie last week, don't be surprised to see the north-erners salute.
