PLAY HARD WEAR A MOUTHGUARD

THE 3 BASIC TYPES OF MOUTHGUARDS ARE:

CUSTOM MADE MOUTHGUARDS

Considered to provide the best protection for the teeth, lips and jaw. Custom made mouthguards are made by Dental professionals using a mould (cast) of the upper teeth to fit the individual's mouth. They provide the best protection due to their close fit, comfort and cushioning (shock absorption) effect. They are the most popular option and are recommended by your Dental Professional.

THE IMPORTANT BENEFITS OF A CUSTOM MADE MOUTHGUARD

- ▶ PROVIDE YOU WITH CONFIDENCE AND SECURITY TO ENGAGE IN PHYSICAL CONTACT.
- ▶ REDUCE THE RISK OF CHIPS AND BRUISES TO YOUR MOUTH, CHEEKS, LIPS, TONGUE AND DISFIGUREMENT TO YOUR FACE.
- ▶ PROVIDES COMFORT AND MAKES IT EASIER TO BREATHE AND SPEAK.
- ▶ REDUCE THE POSSIBILITY OF YOUR JAW BEING DISLOCATED OR FRACTURED.
- ▶ HELP TO REDUCE THE CHANCE OF CONCUSSION.
- ▶ REDUCE THE POSSIBILITY OF YOUR TEETH BEING FRACTURED OR LOST.
- ▶ MOUTHGUARD IS 1MM THICK TO PROVIDE PROTECTION AGAINST BITE IMPACT.
- ▶ ODORLESS AND TASTELESS.
- ▶ DOES NOT CAUSE GAGGING.

STOCK MOUTHGUARDS

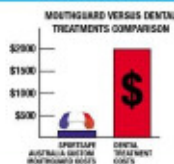

A ready to wear mouthguard that comes pre-formed. While these are the least expensive mouthguard, they tend to be uncomfortable and fit poorly. These are a bulky gutter of rigid plastic available from Chemists and sports stores. They interfere with speech and breathing and because they are not firmly secured offer a false sense of protection. The only adjustment possible is minor trimming with a knife or scissors.

BOIL & BITE MOUTHGUARDS

Chemists and sports stores sell "boil and bite" mouthguards, once the lining is softened in boiling water, the person bites on the mouthguard to help it take the shape of their mouth. These mouthguards may not conform to the person's bite and can be uncomfortable to wear. The ADA and Standards Australia do not recommend over-the-counter or 'boil and bite' mouthguards. An over-the-counter mouthguard may be a short-term solution if there is absolutely no alternative available.

THE COST OF A CUSTOM MADE MOUTHGUARD IS MINIMAL COMPARED TO THE EXPENSE OF TOOTH REPLACEMENT
