25th TAC Cup season underway

Welcome to the start of another season in AFL Victoria's TAC Cup competition.

This year marks the 25th year of our elite U18 program, and we are pleased to once again have the Transport Accident Commission (TAC) supporting the development of our talented players across our 12 regions.

Throughout the season we will profile a number of people that have been part of the TAC Cup over the years, with AFL coaches like Justin Leppitsch, Brad/Chris Scott and Adam Simpson plus modern-day players such as Joel Selwood, Gary Ablett and Scott Pendlebury all having origins in the competition.

Last year 47 players from our 12 regions joined those names as draftees from the TAC Cup in the NAB AFL National and Rookie drafts. It is a great reflection on the staff in each of our regions and the local clubs that have helped these players on their journey to achieve their dream of being drafted to the AFL.

We have seen a number of draftees get their first taste at the elite level in the AFL's NAB Challenge, and we hope to see a number of players debut in the opening round of the season and throughout the year.

Good luck to all coaches, players and staff for season 2016.

2016 TAC Cup season preview

Bendigo Pioneers captain Joseph Atley

The 25th season of the TAC Cup promises to be one of the most exciting yet. The AFL Victoria Record takes a look at how the 12 teams are shaping up for 2016.

BENDIGO PIONEERS

Coach: Brett Henderson (second year)

Talent Manager: Stephen Sharp

2015 finish: 12th

2015 AFL draftees: Tom Cole (pick no.36, West Coast), Aidyn Johnson (no.45, Port Adelaide)

2016 AFL Academy members: Level Two – Kobe Mutch / Level One – Jarrod Brander, Kane Farrell, Lochie O'Brien

Last premiership: -

The Pioneers finished last behind the Western Jets on percentage in 2015. Their two wins came against the NSW/ACT Rams in Round 10 and the Jets in Round 14 but one of their best performances was to finish within three points of eventual grand finalists the Eastern Ranges in Round 6.

After the club produced two draftees last year, Talent Manager Stephen Sharp said he expected captain Joseph Atley and vice-captain Kobe Mutch to be firmly in the AFL Draft frame come November. Tough midfielder Atley – the brother of North Melbourne's Shaun – finished third in the 2015 best and fairest award as a 17-year-old, while Mutch is a midfielder/forward and member of both the AFL and GWS Academies.

Sharp is also looking forward to seeing key-position prospect Cooper Jones and indigenous player Kayle Kirby take the field for Bendigo in 2016. "He's an excitement machine," Sharp said of Kirby. "He's got all the attributes you'd want to go and pay money to see."

The club will take four 19-year-olds into the season including Jamieson Sheahan, a Bendigo native who played 11 games for the Geelong Falcons last year. Sharp said Sheahan – also the club's Football Operations Manager – had "outstanding leadership skills". Ruckman Zac Norris and Jack Exell – the son of former Geelong and Fitzroy player Gavin Exell – are other over-age players along with Isaac Miller, who returns for a second season with the Pioneers. "He was probably one of the last players picked on our list last year but became one of our top six or eight players," Sharp said of Miller's rapid development.

Positivity is the theme of 2016 at Bendigo. Senior coach Brett Henderson has been surrounded with a new-look group of assistants comprising several experienced local coaches who have had "a real positive influence since coming on board" according to Sharp.

CALDER CANNONS

Coach: Andrew Johnston
(second year)

Talent Manager: Ian Kyte

2015 finish: 8th

2015 AFL draftees: Nick O’Kearney (rookie pick no.5, St Kilda), Callum Moore (rookie no.12, Richmond), Tom Wallis (rookie no.54, Essendon)

2016 AFL Academy members: -

Last premiership: 2010

After a Grand Final showing in 2014, the Cannons just made it into the top eight despite a losing record last year. They knocked off eventual premiers the Oakleigh Chargers by 20 points in Round 14 but later succumbed to the rampaging Eastern Ranges in an elimination final by a margin of 34 points.

Talent Manager Ian Kyte said the 2016 group boasted depth and was similarly even across the board to the 2015 group. At the top end, Kyte is excited to see Mitch Lewis and Tom Burnside, two top-age tall forward/ruck options in action. Lewis played nine games and kicked six goals last year, while Burnside – who Kyte said was “very agile” for a player close to 200cm – made seven appearances as a 17-year-old.

Perhaps the one for AFL Draft watchers to keep an eye on will be 192cm forward Karl Brown, who returns as an over-age player after booting 36 goals in 11 games in his first TAC Cup season. “He’s lost about 15kg over the two years and is now looking like he might fulfil that potential he showed previously,” Kyte said of Brown. “I think Karl will be one who’ll be talked about by people as the year goes on.”

The club’s other 19-year-olds for 2016 are: James Peters, returning to the field after suffering a season-ending ankle injury in April 2015; Matthew King, who came into the system for two games late last season; Ben Ronke, who spent last year playing local football with St Bernard’s; and Mitch Barnes, a former state-level basketballer who hasn’t played football for seven years. Kyte said the raw Barnes was “starting to show a little bit of potential” on the training track.

Senior coach Andrew Johnston will have some new assistants surrounding him this year, with former Carlton forward Lance Whitnall in charge of the forward line, Damien Keeping moving up from Calder’s U16 program and Nick Rutley leading the midfield group alongside part-time assistant, former Western Bulldogs champion Scott West.

Calder Cannons forward Karl Brown

DANDENONG STINGRAYS

Coach: Craig Black (third year)

Talent Manager: Mark Wheeler

2015 finish: 4th

2015 AFL draftees: Jacob Weitering (pick no.1, Carlton), Kieran Collins (no.26, Western Bulldogs), Brandon White (no.40, St Kilda), Liam Hulett (no.46, Melbourne), Bailey Rice (no.49, St Kilda), Kurt Mutimer (no.57, West Coast), Gach Nyuon (rookie pick no.4, Essendon)

2016 AFL Academy members: Level Two – Josh Battle, Myles Pohlke / Level One – Hunter Clark, Oscar Clavarino, Aaron Darling, Luke Davies-Uniacke

Last premiership: -

A Stingrays team packed with future AFL draftees secured a top-two finish after the 2015 home-and-away rounds. But following a tense six-point victory over the Murray Bushrangers in a qualifying final, they couldn't get past the Eastern Ranges on the penultimate weekend of the season, losing by 28 points.

Talent Manager Mark Wheeler said the Dandenong's 2016 squad boasted perhaps even more depth than last year's. He said "a lot speed and grunt" had been added over the off-season to complement the existing top-end quality of the list.

Wheeler expects four talented youngsters – Hunter Clark, Oscar Clavarino, Aaron Darling and Luke Davies-Uniacke – to play from Round 1 in their bottom-age seasons, with hard-running defender Clark and big midfielder Davies-Uniacke the stand-outs. Wheeler gave them what is certainly glowing praise given the club's successful record in previous AFL Drafts: "They're as good as I've seen."

Among the top-age Stingrays, Josh Battle and Myles Pohlke should have draft watchers interested this year. According to Wheeler, 190cm half forward Battle has already shown "he's going to be an early draft pick", while strong midfielder Pohlke's addition to the Level Two AFL Academy squad late last year has seen him come back from an American training camp in January "more professional". 189cm utility Liam McKay is another player Wheeler is excited to see in action.

Mitch McCarthy returns to Dandenong as a 19-year-old after pursuing his dream of playing college basketball in the US last year. "He's elite in his jumping ability, pretty freakish with his hands and has a side step a bit like Nic Naitanu's," Wheeler said of McCarthy. Thomas Glen and Thomas Jok – both in draft contention in 2015 – will also be over-age players in 2016, along with Travis Young and former Sandringham Dragons ruckman Dylan Atkins.

EASTERN RANGES

Coach: Darren Bewick (seventh year)

Talent Manager: Len Villani

2015 finish: Runner-up

2015 AFL draftees: Sam Weideman (pick no.9, Melbourne), Ryan Clarke (no.31, North Melbourne), Blake Hardwick (no.44, Hawthorn), James Parsons (rookie pick no.27, Geelong)

2016 AFL Academy members: Level Two – Jordan Gallucci / Level One – Joel Garner, Jaidyn Stephenson

Last premiership: 2013

After missing the finals in 2014, the Ranges came from fifth position after the home-and-away rounds to make last year's Grand Final, but lost to the Oakleigh Chargers by 12 points. They had previously stunned some fancied teams in the finals, defeating the Calder Cannons by 34 points, the Geelong Falcons by 54 points and then the Dandenong Stingrays by 28 points.

That Grand Final team included nine 17-year-olds and three 16-year-olds, which Talent Manager Len Villani said bodes well for Eastern's prospects in 2016. "They're now the nucleus of our side this year," Villani said. "So if we stay fit and healthy, I think we're going to be a pretty solid team come September. I'd be disappointed if we weren't around the mark again."

2015 Vic Metro representative Jordan Gallucci headlines the players to watch at the Ranges. A powerful half back who will likely move into the midfield this year, Gallucci "will probably break the Draft Combine record with his vertical leap" according to Villani.

Versatile midfielder Dylan Clarke – the brother of 2015 North Melbourne draftee Ryan – and key defender Jack Maibaum are a couple of the club's other impressive youngsters. "Maibaum did a real number on (Brisbane Lions key forward) Josh Schache up at Murray last year and then on (Carlton draftee) Charlie Curnow in the second week of the finals as well," Villani said.

Former Ranges captain and athletic tall Liam Jeffs is back as an over-age player after a season interrupted by glandular fever and various foot and leg injuries. "Just scrap 2015 and look out in the early part of 2016 for Liam Jeffs," Villani said. Also returning is defender Kane Keppell, an important player in last year's finals series who Villani said "is going to be one who imposes himself physically on the competition". Jade Connolly and Nathan Mullenger-McHugh will be Eastern's other 19-year-olds this year.

GEELONG FALCONS

Coach: Andrew Allthorpe (fifth year)

Talent Manager: Michael Turner

2015 finish: 6th

2015 AFL draftees: Darcy Parish (pick no.5, Essendon), Charlie Curnow (no.12, Carlton), Tom Doedee (no.17, Adelaide), Rhys Mathieson (no.39, Brisbane)

2016 AFL Academy members: Level Two – Alex Witherden

Last premiership: 2000

Despite playing in three draws in 2015, the Falcons secured a top-four spot by defeating the second-placed Dandenong Stingrays in the final home-and-away round. However, they couldn't fire in September, losing a heartbreaker to the North Ballarat Rebels by 12 points in a qualifying final and suffering a 54-point defeat to the Eastern Ranges the next week.

Geelong boasted a team of considerable top-end talent last year, producing four top-40 AFL Draft picks. However, Talent Manager Michael Turner said the club's list was different in 2016. "I think this year we've got more of an even group," Turner said. "We're probably not as high-profile as we were last year but I still think we've got some good developing players who'll get themselves drafted."

One player already in the draft frame is Alex Witherden. Turner said the attacking defender who starred in the AFL All Stars match on Grand Final day is a "real leader of the club and very professional in everything he does". Turner predicted Witherden was "a very strong prospect of getting drafted and probably pretty early".

The Falcons have invited several players who struggled with injury in 2015 back to the club as over-age players, including: Max Augerinos, who only returned from a knee reconstruction in June; Lockey McCartney, the son of former Western Bulldogs coach Brendan McCartney; and Brett Blair, who kicked 34 goals in 13 games last year. Joel Bennett and Ben McCarthy will be Geelong's other 19-year-olds in 2016.

A couple of club graduates have also returned as development coaches, including 2006 captain Daniel O'Keefe and AFL superstar Patrick Dangerfield, who contacted Turner about expanding his knowledge of the elite talent pathway after being traded to the Geelong Cats. "He really enjoyed his time at the Falcons and wanted to learn a bit more about AFL game development," Turner said. "He comes down once a week when his schedule allows it. That's not a bad get, is it?"

GIPPSLAND POWER

Coach: Leigh Brown (third year)

Talent Manager: Peter Francis

2015 finish: 7th

2015 AFL draftees: Harry McKay (pick no.10, Carlton), Ben McKay (no.21, North Melbourne), Josh Dunkley (no.25, Western Bulldogs), Sam Skinner (no.47, Brisbane), Tom Papley (rookie pick no.14, Sydney)

2016 AFL Academy members: Level Two – Ben Ainsworth / Level One – Tyrone Hayes, Cody Henness, Aidan Quigley

Last premiership: 2005

2015 was a season of what might have been for the Power, losing five games by 10 points or less as well as being involved in a draw. They still did enough to finish seventh after the home-and-away rounds but were beaten by the Oakleigh Chargers by 78 points in an elimination final.

Talent Manager Peter Francis compared Gippsland's 2016 list similarly to last year's group, which included four selections in the top 50 of the AFL Draft. "We think we've got some real talent there and our best team is pretty handy," Francis said.

At the top-end of that team will be 2015 U18 All Australian and TAC Cup Team of the Year selection Ben Ainsworth. The classy small forward had an exceptional season as a 17-year-old, one that would have him "high on the radar of recruiters" according to Francis.

Will Leslie is another of the Power's potential draft prospects. The versatile utility provides something different to his brother, third-year Gold Coast Suns key-position player Jack. "Will's not as tall as Jack but is probably a little more adaptable in the positions he can play," Francis said. "He can play through the midfield, half back and half forward."

2015 Vic Country representative Deven Costigan has been invited back to Gippsland as an over-age player after being in draft contention last year. Francis compared Costigan to Essendon's Martin Gleeson in how "he has that light frame but is really quick, has beautiful skills and is as brave as they come". Ruckman Josh Patullo is also back and will be used more as a key-position player this year, while midfielder Tate Marsh will go around again after back stress fractures limited his top-age season. "He's a really exciting talent, one we think could be drafted," Francis said of Marsh. Kieren Byers and Ryan Hearn are others to be invited back to the club as 19-year-olds.

Murray Bushrangers midfielder Will Brodie

MURRAY BUSHRANGERS

Coach: Leon Higgins (first year)

Talent Manager: Lee Fraser

2015 finish: 5th

2015 AFL draftees: Josh Schache (pick no.2, Brisbane), Clayton Oliver (no.4, Melbourne), Mitch King (no.42, Melbourne), Nick Coughlan (rookie pick no.23, St Kilda), Kyle Galloway (rookie no.59, Sydney)

2016 AFL Academy members: Level Two – Will Brodie, Jy Simpkin, Zac Sproule / Level One – Charlie Spargo

Last premiership: 2008

The Bushrangers suffered a couple of agonisingly close losses in finals last year after a successful home-and-away season resulted in a third-placed finish. They lost by six points to both the Dandenong Stingrays in a qualifying final and the Oakleigh Chargers in a semi final.

Leon Higgins now takes the reins after the departure of six-year senior coach Darren Ogier. The former Sydney and Hawthorn AFL player has worked at Murray since 2008 and coached the undefeated Vic Country team at the 2015 U16 Championships. Talent Manager Lee Fraser said Higgins would continue implementing the development philosophy of Ogier and would have “a real focus on the contested side of the game”.

The new coach has some serious talent at his disposal too, with key contributors to last year’s undefeated U18 Vic Country team Will Brodie and Jy Simpkin in AFL recruiters’ sights. Brodie is a strong inside midfielder and Simpkin a dynamic small forward/midfielder, while Zac Sproule is another for draft watchers to keep an eye on. A GWS Academy member, Sproule kicked 16 goals in eight games as a key forward in 2015 but Fraser said “he’ll show a bit more flexibility this year playing forward and back”.

A player recently in draft contention, Lachlan Tiziani, will return to the Bushrangers as an over-ager in 2016. According to Fraser, the small defender “wasn’t far off the mark” last year but will need to round out his game. “Lachlan demonstrated some really good AFL attributes in 2015, but part of his development will be to play as an inside midfielder so he’ll do some work in that area,” Fraser said. Former basketballer Trent McMullin and injury-plagued half forward Luke McKeown are Murray’s other 19-year-olds.

Fraser said the balance of this year’s group across all areas of the ground would be a strength, pointing to the likes of Max Lynch up forward, Ryan Garthwaite down back and Harry Morrison in the midfield as those who could help bring the club success.

NORTH BALLARAT REBELS

Coach: Gerard FitzGerald (first year)

Talent Manager: Phil Partington

2015 finish: 3rd

2015 AFL draftees: Jacob Hopper (pick no.7, GWS), Daniel Rioli (no.15, Richmond), Darcy Tucker (no.27, Fremantle), Yestyn Eades (no.64, Essendon)

2016 AFL Academy members: Level Two – Jarrod Berry, Jarrod Korewha

Last premiership: 1997

The Rebels set up last year's minor premiership campaign with a 10-game winning streak between Rounds 3 and 12. However, after a thrilling 12-point comeback victory over the Geelong Falcons in a qualifying final, they lost to the Oakleigh Chargers by 32 points in a preliminary final.

Replacing David Loader as senior coach, long-time North Ballarat VFL coach Gerard FitzGerald returns to the Rebels after a previous stint in charge of the team in 2005-06. Talent Manager Phil Partington said FitzGerald had already introduced his new players to the "next level of football". "Fitz's been a VFL coach having a high association with North Melbourne through an alignment," Partington said. "He's seen a lot of what the AFL clubs are doing, so you'll see some AFL traits in the style of play Fitz will bring."

North Ballarat boasts a handful of players seemingly set to take that step to the next level come year's end. Tall midfielder and club captain Jarrod Berry was named in last year's U18 All Australian team as a 17-year-old and will be closely watched by AFL clubs. "There'll be a little bit of pressure on Jarrod this year but he's a very level-headed young man and works extremely hard," Partington said. "He's the ultimate professional." Versatile tall defender Jarrod Korewha and ruckman Lloyd Meek – a former rower who has decided to concentrate on football in 2016 – are others Partington is excited to see in action, predicting Meek's ability to go forward and kick goals would make AFL clubs take notice.

Small midfielder James Gow, ruckman Nicholas Hausler, midfielder Charlie Lee and the skilful Jacob Wheelahan have been invited back to the Rebels as over-age players. Partington said Wheelahan was enjoying his first full pre-season in three years and "his ability to make a difficult kick look easy has been a highlight".

North Ballarat's top-end talent won't just benefit from the addition of FitzGerald to the coaching panel, but also the inclusion of Matt Battistello as high performance coach. This year's Vic Country U16 coach will work with the club's potential draftees on their personal and football development.

North Ballarat Rebels captain Jarrod Berry

NORTHERN KNIGHTS

Coach: Andrew Shakespeare
(third year)

Talent Manager: Peter Kennedy

2015 finish: 10th

2015 AFL draftees: Jade Gresham (pick no.18, St Kilda), Brayden Fiorini (no.20, Gold Coast), Brayden Sier (no.32, Collingwood), Tyrone Leonardis (no.51, Sydney), Darcy MacPherson (rookie pick no.21, Gold Coast)

2016 AFL Academy members: Level One – Patrick Naish

Last premiership: 1996

The Knights missed the finals for the second straight year after winning just two of their first 15 games in 2015. They finished the season in form though, defeating the Bendigo Pioneers by 83 points in Round 17 and the finals-bound Gippsland Power by one point in the final home-and-away round.

Northern's five AFL draftees from that group have since played in at least one NAB Challenge match this year and Talent Manager Peter Kennedy said several 2016 top-age players could follow in their footsteps. One of them is Luke Bunker, an inside midfielder who Kennedy said has a very good kick and will be one of the club's "leading players".

Kennedy said other Knights to watch include running defender Mason Blakey (the nephew of 300-game AFL player John Blakey), strong-bodied midfielder Matthew Signorello, tall defender Jamison Shea, raw ex-basketballer Patrick Lipinski and small midfielder Corey McKay. "Corey's probably the same size as Jade Gresham was last year and he went to school with Jade, so we're hoping he'll follow in his footsteps," Kennedy said.

2015 Vic Metro representative Matthew Perry headlines Northern's over-age players this year, with Kennedy also hoping to showcase his "high-intensity running" in the VFL during the season. The club's other 19-year-olds are endurance machine Jake Bradley (the son of former Carlton champion Craig Bradley), Steven Fitzgerald, Bobby Lamanna and late developing ruckman Chas Roberts.

Little will change on the coaching panel surrounding senior coach Andrew Shakespeare, but former Australian lacrosse captain Darren Nicholas has taken up a role at the club doing team-building and leadership work with the players.

OAKLEIGH CHARGERS

Coach: Michael Stinear (third year)

Talent Manager: Craig Notman

2015 finish: Premier

2015 AFL draftees: David Cunningham (pick no.23, Carlton), Alex Morgan (no.29, Essendon), Jack Silvagni (no.53, Carlton), Tom Phillips (no.58, Collingwood), Ben Crocker (no.65, Collingwood)

2016 AFL Academy members: Level One – Jack Higgins

Last premiership: 2015

The Chargers claimed their third premiership in four years by defeating the Eastern Ranges by 12 points in last year's Grand Final. They may have only finished sixth with a record of 9-8 after the home-and-away season but swept through some fancied teams en route to the decider with victories over the Gippsland Power by 78 points, the Murray Bushrangers by six points and then the North Ballarat Rebels by 32 points.

Several premiership players are back for 2016, meaning Oakleigh's core group knows exactly what it'll take to return to the top of the TAC Cup tree. Talent Manager Craig Notman said some of them would be trialled in different positions this year to increase their versatility.

Of the top-age players, key defender Sam McLarty will be used more up forward, wingman Taylin Duman will spend increased time as an inside midfielder, small forward Dion Johnstone will also move through the midfield at times and tall stay-at-home goalkicker Pat Kerr will roam further up the ground. "We're looking to utilise his kick," Notman said of Kerr. "He's probably one of the better kicks in our side."

Two more premiership winners have been invited back to the Chargers as over-age players. Notman said Lachlan Walker, a strong inside midfielder with an eye for goal, was probably "quite stiff to miss out on being at an AFL club" this year, while talented cricketer Campbell Lane has chosen to focus on football in 2016 after a pre-season spent balancing the two sports "probably caught up with him a little bit" last year. Developing tall Josh Boehm, Xavier Morgan and Sam Parsons will be Oakleigh's other 19-year-olds.

Michael Stinear goes into his third year as senior coach with an assistant coaching panel including Troy Chaplin. The Richmond key-position player helped develop the club's youngsters in 2015 and, along with his fellow assistants, will likely be given an opportunity by Stinear to coach the team outright for a game at some point during 2016.

SANDRINGHAM DRAGONS

Coach: Jeremy Barnard (second year)

Talent Manager: Ryan O'Connor

2015 finish: 9th

2015 AFL draftees: Harley Balic (pick no.38, Fremantle)

2016 AFL Academy members: Level Two – Jack Scrimshaw, Will Setterfield

Last premiership: 2011

The Dragons missed last year's finals on percentage behind the eighth-placed Calder Cannons. They showed they could mix it with the best though, knocking off eventual grand finalists the Oakleigh Chargers by 19 points in Round 4 and the Eastern Ranges by five points in Round 18.

Talent Manager Ryan O'Connor predicted a rise up the ladder in 2016 though, with a group hungry for success after a difficult 2015 season. "The best thing for us is – after what we would term an uncompetitive year – we look to have a really deep and stronger list," O'Connor said. "It was pretty lean last year and I think that's whetted the group's appetite."

The club boasts a handful of players in draft contention this year, led by tall midfield prospects Jack Scrimshaw and Will Setterfield. Scrimshaw is currently trying to overcome a hot spot in his foot, but Setterfield is healthy again after an injury-interrupted bottom-age season and, according to O'Connor, is "improving every time we see him at training".

O'Connor also said versatile midfielders Andrew McGrath and Tim Taranto were "tracking equally as well as Jack and Will", while smaller midfielders Cameron Polson and Corey Lyons – brother of Adelaide AFL player Jarryd – provided something different to Sandringham's on-ball mix. Club captain Hamish Brayshaw – brother of Melbourne young gun Angus – will add further grunt in the clinches and O'Connor likened Oliver Florent to smooth-moving GWS midfielder Josh Kelly if he could improve his consistency of performance.

Goy Lok is the biggest name back at the club as an over-age player. "He was in draft contention last year but I think clubs wanted him to expand his game," O'Connor said of Lok. "They saw he was probably a bit too inside and he needed to get outside and run and carry a bit." Tom Cameron, Darcy James and Hugh Johnson join Lok at the club as 19-year-olds for 2016.

WESTERN JETS

Coach: Torin Baker (fourth year)

Talent Manager: Shane Sexton

2015 finish: 11th

2015 AFL draftees: Luke Goetz (rookie pick no.29, Western Bulldogs)

2016 AFL Academy members: Level One – Lachlan Fogarty

Last premiership: -

The Jets missed the finals last year after September appearances in 2013 and 2014. Their two wins came against the Bendigo Pioneers by 21 points in Round 7 and the finals-bound Calder Cannons by nine points in the final home-and-away round.

Talent Manager Shane Sexton expects a jump up the ladder from Western's 2016 group though. He said while the list is usually split evenly between top-age and bottom-age players, the club has about 75 per cent top-age players this year. "It's the first time that's ever happened out here," Sexton said. "This group has always promised to be pretty handy. I think it's not an unfair statement to say there's a fair bit of interest in them."

Much interest will centre on three Penleigh and Essendon Grammar School boys, Daniel Venables, Harrison Bult and Brock McGregor. Venables is a powerful ball-winner who has now chosen football as his top priority over cricket, Bult is a mobile tall defender who Sexton says has matured rapidly over the off-season and McGregor is a power forward currently working to overcome a back injury. Sexton also said co-captain Wilson Berry will be one to watch, along with currently injured pair Judah Dundon and Oscar Junker (also a co-captain).

According to Sexton, the pick of the club's over-age players is pacy ball-carrier Daniel Foley. "Daniel played some good footy last year but for whatever reason didn't really get it together," Sexton said. "This time around he's acquitted himself well in the practice matches, winning his own ball and improving his endurance." Foley will be joined by developing ruckman Josh Webb and injury-prone trio Jackson Menadue, Jayden Murdoch and Tyler Vujanic as Jets 19-year-olds for 2016.

There'll be some returnees in Western's coaches box this year too. The club's ex-U15 coach Troy Scoble, former long-time U16 coach Ray Stevens and Mark Greenshields will all take up assistant coaching positions.

Academy channels the champs on US camp

Emulating the trademark of the AFL's reigning triple premiers was the name of the game at the NAB AFL Academy's US training camp from January 11-26.

The Level Two Academy squad – 35 of the nation's best underage players eligible for the 2016 AFL Draft – were taught to kick like the best.

Hawthorn, under the guidance of four-time premierships coach Alastair Clarkson, has conquered the football world by foot. The Hawks are an army of precision boots that carves its way through opposition defences towards goal via pinpoint passing.

What better example to set for the latest batch of elite underage talent aspiring to crack the big league?

13 TAC Cup players attended the camp, which involved a stay at the high-performance IMG Academy in Bradenton, Florida.

Dandenong Stingrays midfielder Myles Pohlke said Academy coach Brenton Sanderson emphasised the importance of short kicking in the modern game.

"We had a massive focus on that," Pohlke said. "Sando' went through a few tactics trying to get us used to AFL structures, but his main point was to work on our short kicking – quick turnaround (off the mark) and punch it in (to a teammate)."

Sandringham Dragons wingman Will Setterfield said the focus on kicking would continue paying dividends into the future.

"The coaches put a bit of pressure on us to get it right," Setterfield said. "Sando' gave us a few techniques to practice so hopefully the kicking's improving as we do them at home now."

While in Florida, the Academy boys also attended an ice hockey match, toured the Tampa Bay Buccaneers NFL club and visited the Kennedy Space Centre.

Their next gathering will be a camp in Melbourne from March 24 to April 3 including a game against Werribee's VFL team at the MCG on the weekend of April 2-3. A match against the Geelong VFL team at Simonds Stadium will follow on Saturday April 9.

They will be the next steps in preparing the boys to pinpoint their way to the top of the AFL tree.

Fitness Testing Day results

On Saturday March 12, over 550 TAC Cup players were put through their paces as part of the annual TAC Cup Fitness Testing Day.

AFL Victoria, with the assistance of Rookie Me, tested each of the players across four different stations – 20-metre sprint, agility test, beep test and vertical jumping (standing and running).

Calder Cannons over-age player Ben Ronke demonstrated his athleticism by recording the fastest time in the 20m sprint (2.83s) and the equal-third-highest standing vertical jump (80cm).

Ahead of Ronke were Bailey Morrish (Dandenong Stingrays) and Matt O'Connell (Oakleigh Chargers) who both recorded a standing vertical jump of 81cm. Sandringham Dragons player Barclay Miller performed the best running vertical jump (99cm).

Morrish also featured highly in the agility test, recording the second-fastest time (7.81s) behind North Ballarat Rebels captain Jarrold Berry (7.80s).

In the day's most gruelling test, Gippsland Power bottom-age player Travis Bindley recorded the best beep test result with a 16.03. Just behind were Jake Bradley (Northern Knights) and Lachlan Huppatz (North Ballarat Rebels), who both ran a 16.02.

FitzGerald, Higgins join coaching ranks

The TAC Cup welcomes two new head coaches in 2016 – the North Ballarat Rebels' Gerard FitzGerald and Murray Bushrangers' Leon Higgins.

FitzGerald, 58, is one of Victorian football's most decorated mentors, coaching the most games in VFL/VFA history and guiding the North Ballarat Roosters to VFL premiership success in 2008, 2009 and 2010.

In between long VFL coaching stints, he was the Rebels' coach in 2005-06, taking the club to second and first-placed finishes after the respective home-and-away seasons but not to a Grand Final.

FitzGerald takes the coaching reins from David Loader, who was named the TAC Cup Coach of the Year in 2014 and 2015 during five seasons in charge.

Higgins, 47, has worked at Murray since 2008, holding positions as the club's U16 coach and most recently as its development coordinator. He also coached the Vic Country team through the 2015 AFL U16 Championships undefeated.

Higgins played 122 AFL games with the Sydney Swans and Hawthorn between 1987 and 1996 and takes over from Darren Ogier, who led the Bushrangers for six seasons.

Footy. Oh what a feeling!

This is what it's all about. A siren sounds on that one day in September and in a moment frozen in time, dreams become reality as a warrior raises his fists in triumph. Footy... Oh what a feeling!

From the grassroots up, Toyota are passionate partners of Australia's game and a long-term sponsor of the reigning premiership captain, Luke Hodge. Before a long, hard season, we'd like to wish all the players, clubs and their die-hard fans the best of luck in their quest for the ultimate glory.

May all your kicks hit the target and your team go deep into September.

It seems the apple doesn't fall too far from the tree in the McLaren household, with 15-year-old Hannah McLaren picking up the umpire's whistle like father Scott.

The Year 10 Genazzano College student joins more than 35 fellow participants taking their first steps in their own umpiring careers, with the introduction of the first AFL Victoria metropolitan all-female school-based Umpiring Academy.

The new program invites students of all ages to learn the basic principles of umpiring across the three disciplines of field, boundary and goal.

Participants will develop practical skills and knowledge of the game in weekly training sessions held at the college over the next three months.

AFL Victoria Umpiring Manager Neville Nash said the new academy had received great support from both students and parents.

"While there has been a buzz around female football in recent years, the popularity of female umpiring is also starting to explode," Nash said.

"This is a great opportunity for the girls to just learn some new skills with their mates without any pressure and the parents love it because they don't have the stresses of driving their kids to and from training, which makes it easier for them, particularly in their first year."

Once students have developed a solid umpiring foundation, they will transition into adjudicating community football in either the Yarra Junior Football League or Victorian Women's Football League.

With her father officiating 328 games as an AFL field umpire, Hannah McLaren said she is looking forward to following in her father's footsteps.

"Having watched dad as an AFL umpire growing up, it was always something I was interested in and it allowed me to see a different side of the game compared to just playing," she said.

"Becoming a field umpire is my goal, but until you actually start trying it, you don't realize how much hard work is involved, however I'm keen to learn the ropes and look forward to giving it my best shot."

While there were more than 650 female umpires registered across Victoria last year, there is still room for more development, with females representing just nine per cent of the total number of umpires.

AFL All Australian Umpire Scott McLaren said the new Academy was a great driver in getting more females interested in umpiring.

"I think it's great that Hannah has the opportunity to take up umpiring through this new program," McLaren said.

"We saw recently Eleni Glouftsis make history as the first female AFL field umpire, so there is now a great role model out there for younger girls to follow and if Hannah has a passion for umpiring, then I'm happy for her to be part of it."

DANDENONG SOUTHERN STINGRAYS

This weekend we play Gippsland Power in our Round 1 traditional match at Morwell, where this year we play off for the Car

Megamart Cup. All players in the 16 & 18's who have their L and P plates will also use this road trip as an Education session for the TAC, gaining 120 plus hours behind the wheel. We thank the TAC for their 25 year support of the TAC Cup and look forward to many more years. We welcome Car Megamart for their third season as a Platinum Sponsor of the club. Car Megamart are still relatively new players on the block who are striving to be the biggest used car dealership in the South Eastern Region of Victoria. The Stingrays are also indebted to our long term major Sponsor, Coffey Ford, Dandenong. Without Coffey's continuous sponsorship of the TAC Cup Under 18 program (since 1995) we would not have been able to exist, we look forward working with Tam Thai from Coffey Ford. We also thank Ross Faulkner who is our off field Apparel supplier for the club, as well as all football training resources and look forward having you in the team for many years to come. We would also like acknowledge and thank Silvio Marinelli and his team from Highview Accounting Services (Cranbourne, Mornington and Prahran) for extending their sponsorship in 2016. Lastly to our contributing Sponsors in Be Your Best Physiotherapist, Cranbourne Team and Liz and Ross Chudleigh from Garrleigh Trophy Centre, Hallam we thank you for the past 20 years. In closing the Dandenong Southern Stingrays would also like to acknowledge and thank all player sponsors for season 2016, without your tremendous financial support many players and families would find it a lot harder. Finally, to the players families who have driven many kilometres since October getting their son to training and games we thank you. #Rayscave2016

Cavka and Ahern shot down by injury

A pair of 2013 Calder Cannons graduates suffered severe injury setbacks over the AFL off-season.

A degenerative foot injury forced West Coast's Damien Cavka, 19, to announce his retirement from the elite level in January.

Cavka was selected by the Eagles with pick no.66 in the 2014 AFL Draft, with the foot condition flaring just weeks later after he set a new record in the club's pre-season 2km time trial.

The 184cm midfielder/forward managed just two WAFL reserves games and one WAFL senior match in 2015 before medical experts advised him to abandon his AFL dream.

Cavka played 13 games for Calder in 2013 and 2014, emerging in his top-age year by booting 17 goals and averaging 22 disposals per game across 11 matches. He also represented Vic Metro in four matches at the 2014 U18 Championships.

Meanwhile, Cavka's former Cannons teammate and GWS midfielder Paul Ahern will miss the 2016 season after rupturing his ACL while training in February.

The disappointing blow comes after the 19-year-old impressed across 16 NEAFL matches for the Giants reserves in 2015. He averaged 23 disposals at 76 per cent efficiency but wasn't able to make his debut at senior level.

Ahern was taken with pick no.7 in the 2014 AFL Draft after kicking 33 goals in 31 games over two seasons at Calder and representing Vic Metro in five matches at the 2014 U18 Championships.

Zero is the only acceptable number

Towards Zero is a vision for a future free of deaths and serious injuries on our roads.

It acknowledges that as humans, we make mistakes. But when those mistakes happen on our roads we come off second best, because our bodies aren't designed to absorb forces from impacts at high speeds. They never have been and never will be.

That's why we need to ensure we have a safe road system in place. Road safety has come a long way and together we are building a system that protects us from our own mistakes and those of others. A system that will change road safety for good.
