

Dear Magpie Men and Women

Last Saturday we were fortunate to only have the short trek up the road to visit our pals at Nangwarry. Unfortunately for the Saints their early season form has left a lot to be desired, suffering heavy losses in their opening rounds. From a pedestrian view peering in, it is sad to see a club in such a lull. Full credit to the guys getting up every week ensuring that the Saints have teams running around flying the flag and having a crack.

Harry's lads entered this game full of confidence with good form favouring them and not their opposition. With Harry still putting heavy influence on starting well the boys once again flew out the door with the first seven goals of the game. From that point the Maggies didn't look back piling on the goals to hold a commanding position over Nangwarry. It was great to see Moshpit running around snagging goals, he was easily the teams best on the day other mentions were Clothes Peg, Matty May, Puddly, Monte and the more durable Carlson. During the game there was an incident when one of the spectators called the RSPCA with a complaint that a wombat was loose on the oval trying to get easy kicks, it was later confirmed that Telf had a game and the confusion was soon cleared.

Benny's Boys were under strict instructions to not take the Saint's lightly, especially after a couple of breezy trainings and a week off. If it wasn't evident from the sidelines it certainly was from on the field that Nangwarry have taken some serious steps forward this year. And needless to say it certainly wasn't as easy a task as some may have thought. Good pressure from the opposition and unbelievably inaccurate kicking meant that Kalangadoo didn't have the ascendancy they were hoping for come quarter time. With a few calming words from the coach the boys went back out and continued to kick inaccurately but coped with the pressure a lot better and had an unassailable lead by half time. After the break it was much the same with a few more opportunities for the Pies than in the first half as the game opened up suiting the running game Benny was trying to implement. Many could have been mentioned in the best, with most getting a swag-full of kicks. Big Sauce was superb other mentions were Jesta Nesta in his return to the One's, Johnny Mules in his return also, Flibble and Levi Casbault. Sorry, Travis Cloke. Aaarggh sorry again, Jaggs. Easy to get those three mixed up. Special mention to young Stephen Juste playing his first game in the one's after some consistent form in the Colts, didn't make any mistakes and looked really comfortable at the level.

It would have to be a long time since Kalangadoo have gone undefeated in all the grades after three games, full credit to the coaches and the boys getting to trainings and games, a big year for the club starting to unfold. Equally as long is the time since three Mules's had been on the pine at the start of an A Grade game of footy.

Get around Crouchy again people, all the club news and events are on the website.
