

Technical Foul and Ejection Policy

Senior Coaches and Players

(Domestic)

The Senior Domestic Competition has a primary focus on being a social competition and as such there are many players that regularly “fill in” for different teams and very few teams have formal coaches on game nights. This policy is to cover the behaviour of all Senior Domestic players (including those that have been removed from the game (but not ejected) and of people on team benches that are not involved in the match). The following changes are proposed to close these loop holes for better enjoyment of others within our Senior Domestic Competition:

Any player competing in a WBA Senior Domestic Competition that fouls out of a match, then receives additional Technical/Unsportsmanlike Fouls, will have these fouls allocated to them as an individual (personal foul) rather than being allocated as a Bench Tech.

Further to point 1 above, any player receiving a combination of 2 of either Technical Fouls or Unsportsmanlike fouls, will be duly disqualified from the match and automatically suspended for the next match within the same competition.

Any person not participating in a given match, but sitting on a team bench that receives a Technical Foul, will result in the usual in game punishment (ie. Foul shot and possession) and will result in that Technical Foul (and any subsequent Technical Foul) being allocated to the Team Contact as per Sports TG registration. If the Team Contact receives 2 x technical fouls in any one game, they are then suspended as per point 2 above.

Any person not participating in a given match that acts inappropriately, may be evicted or may be banned from the facility as per the WBA and VenuesWest Conditions of Entry.

Any Player that is disqualified more than Three (3) times in the same season will be removed from the Domestic competition.

Coaches:

Any coach that receives 2 x Technical Fouls (and ejected as a result) in any one game will also receive a one week suspension from All Domestic Competitions.

Any coach that is ejected more than Three (3) times in the same season may be removed from the Domestic competition.

The Games Manager on duty will advise the player at the end of the game or the competition officer will follow up directly with the relevant team contact.
